

THE DAILY BEE. OMAHA. Tuesday Morning, June 19.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Train No. 4 on the U. P. arrived on time from the west last night. A pleasant shower early last evening was followed by a lovely moonlight night. The favorite bet now-a-days is as to what hour of the day the daily rain will fall. A large party of Californians en route east were in the city and stopped at the Metropolitan hotel. A man was arrested last night for putting up a target in the Chicago lumber yard and firing several shots into it. One of the most stalwart missionaries ever seen in this part is a Chinese priest of the Roman Catholic church, named D. Able Shin, who, accompanied by his interpreter, stopped at the Grand Pacific hotel last night. Rev. Shin is a regular giant in stature and a fine looking man. The city marshal has filed a complaint against W. L. Lewis for running express wagons without a license. Lewis owns several wagons which he is running under one license, which he claimed was all he had to take out. The marshal thinks differently and a suit will probably be the result. Quite a number of deaths have been reported of late in which little children have passed away very suddenly from convulsions. Yesterday about 4 o'clock Rosa, the two-year old daughter of Mr. C. F. Taggart, who resides near the water works reservoir, died in this dreadful trouble. At 11 o'clock in the morning she was as well as ever and ran out to see some carriages that were passing by. A little later she was taken ill and died as stated. A similar case was that of Leroy Joseph Taylor, son of E. A. Taylor, residing on Fourteenth and Cass streets. This child died at 5:30 last evening and the funeral will take place to-day at the Holy Sepulchre. Gentlemen in need of summer underwear, shirts, drawers or hose, ought to inspect the stock of S. P. Morse & Co., who purchase all domestic goods at the mills and import their foreign goods from Nottingham, London and Paris, paying the duties to John Campbell, Esq., collector of customs at Omaha, consequently have the goods at retail at exactly the wholesale price of eastern jobbers. Conductor William C. Canfield, of the Union Pacific railroad, died at his home in Muscatine county, Iowa, with consumption, June 15th. He was born in Harrison county, Ohio, March 9th, 1855, and his age was 28 years, 3 months and six days. He commenced work on the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad in 1871, and has been an employee of the Union Pacific for the last three years. A plain white linen hemstitched handkerchief, with broad 2 inch hem, is one of the requisites of a gentleman's wardrobe, and S. P. Morse & Co. are offering a great bargain in them at $3.00 a dozen, a quality never before sold less than $6.00 a dozen. That they may obtain a general distribution not more than one dozen will be sold to each customer. Mr. George S. Meek and Miss Mary E. Driscoll were married on Sabbath evening at 7 o'clock at the first M. E. church by the Rev. Charles W. Savidge. Rev. Frank A. Hays, pastor of the Southwestern Presbyterian church, is the father of a bouncing boy; arrived Sunday night. The installation of officers and dinner sociable of the U. C. L. A. will take place at their rooms on Friday evening next. Special meeting of A. O. H. division 1 and 2, Tuesday evening, at 7:30, at Crombie's hall. By order of the president. PERSONAL. F. Claggage, of California, is at the Grand Pacific. John Wyeoff, of Chicago, is at the Grand Pacific. W. Upton, of New York, is at the Grand Pacific. F. W. Mills, of Oakfield, Wis., was at the Grand Pacific yesterday. Mrs. Whitehouse, of Crete, was a guest of the Grand Pacific yesterday. Mr. Lawrence McMahon and wife returned Sunday from a trip to Minneapolis, St. Paul, Lake Minnetonka and other interesting points in "Cool Minnesota," where they have pleasantly passed the last two weeks. Larry looks in splendid health, and his many friends will be glad to see him back. I. O. O. F. Protective Association. Annual meeting of I. O. O. F. Protective Association, Tuesday evening, June 19th, at 8 o'clock p. m., for election of officers and other important business. JOHN GROVES, Secretary. MEN'S SUMMER UNDERWEAR. We are the only direct importers of these goods west of Chicago, and gentlemen in search of these goods will consult their own interest in examining our stock. TO-DAY. We show all grades, as the prices below usually paid to eastern jobbers by small retailers: Men's summer undershirts 20c. Men's netted undershirts 40c. Men's French netted undershirts 70c. Men's French netted undershirts $1. Men's pure lisle undershirts 85c. Men's pure lisle netted undershirts $1.50. Men's French Balbriggan undershirts $1.00. Men's French Balbriggan undershirts $1.50. Men's French Balbriggan, finest, $1.90. Men's French Balbriggan socks 20c. A GREAT BARGAIN. 25 dozen men's silk vests, that cost $7.50 to import, will be sold at $5.00. All sizes shirts or drawers. MEN'S WHITE SHIRTS. 50 DOZEN UNLAUNDERED SHIRTS AT 95 CENTS. These are made from New York mills, finest linen, hand-made button-holes, with cuffs or bands, and cannot be purchased in Omaha except from us. HEMSTITCHED HANDKERCHIEFS. We offer to-day 125 dozen pure Irish linen men's hemstitched handkerchiefs, full size, hem 2 inches wide, at $3.00 per dozen, worth and usually sold at $6.00. S. P. MORSE. FOR SALE—Brick house in fine order; 8 rooms, desirable lot, 2 blocks from car line. Price $3,200. Call on McCague, opposite postoffice. 116 Tues th sat

A BAD BLAZE. Two Fine New Buildings Destroyed by Incendiarists.

A Midnight Blaze on St. Mary's Avenue. The town clock had just struck the last stroke of 12 last night when a peal was heard from the fire bell at No. 3 engine house. At first it was thought to be striking the time, but other strokes followed in quick succession and soon the entire department was out and on its way to the scene of the fire. It was a beautiful moonlight night and not a cloud was to be seen in the sky. The blaze and smoke, therefore, were more plainly visible and seemed to be near the center of the town. As the crowd which soon gathered ran in the direction of the glare it was soon found that there was no pressure to speak of at this point and the water fell about like it was thrown on with buckets. The firemen worked their best at great disadvantage as the flames had already got such a start that one building was totally destroyed, even the solid brick chimneys falling down, while the other was damaged probably one-fourth of its value. Inquiry as to the origin of the fire in two unoccupied perfectly new houses shows that it must have undoubtedly been the work of incendiarists. Mrs. M. Hellman lives directly opposite the houses, and about midnight Mrs. Wise, who was with her awake from the noise of hammering across the way. She awoke Mrs. Hellman who went to the window and just as she did so saw two boys rush out of the door of the corner house and run away. Immediately after crisis of fire was heard and an alarm was sent in by telephone for the department. It is also said that several boys had been seen around in the vicinity during the night who were under the influence of liquor, and intimating that they were going to have some fun. Some thought the two who ran out were men who had gone in to try and put out the fire, but this is hardly possible as they would not have abandoned the work so soon. The pine boards burned very quickly and brilliantly, and threatened the adjoining houses with destruction, but fortunately that was avoided. THE COURTS. The Criminal Docket Taken Up—Police Court. The criminal docket was taken up in the district court yesterday by Judge Neville. John Quirk, accused of the burglary of several saloons and business houses, who was released on bail at the close of the last term of court, forfeited his bail by failure to put in an appearance. Jas. Reynolds, alias Adams, who was arrested with a full kit of confidence tools also forfeited his bail. Ed. Kennedy, who obtained the two gold watches from Max Meyer & Bro., and put up in fly style at the Millard, where he was arrested and the property recovered, also forfeits his bail which his mother came in from Denver and put up for him. Peter Rush, who was charged with robbery, pleaded not guilty, and will probably be tried. The police have another warrant out for him. Before Judge Nichols the case of Peter Burk vs. P. J. Wakely, superintendent of the Union Pacific, was tried, and a verdict rendered for the plaintiff. In this matter it seems that Burk is a farmer, residing west of Omaha on the line of that road, and that a washout occurred close to his place. Fifteen tons of hay were obtained from him and in the settlement the dispute arose which caused the suit to be brought, he claiming $90 for his hay, which the company thought too much. The verdict was a sort of a compromise one between the two amounts. In the police court at 5 o'clock last evening the case of Thomas Robe and John Henry Waldron, charged with the burglary of the residence of H. D. Russell on the 21st of May was taken up. This was the night on which so many houses were broken into near Prospect Hill, and the Russells were among other victims, losing a watch and chain and $40 in cash. It is claimed that Mrs. Russell can positively identify the parties, and if so they will go over the road. The case was not concluded, but was postponed over until to-day. Bucklen's Arnica Salve. The greatest medical wonder of the world. Warranted to speedily cure Burns, Bruises, Cuts, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Cancer, Piles, Chilblains, Corns, Tetter, Chapped Hands, and all skin eruptions, Clapped and Itchy Sores, and all kinds of itching humors, and cannot be purchased in Omaha except from us. HEMSTITCHED HANDKERCHIEFS. We offer to-day 125 dozen pure Irish linen men's hemstitched handkerchiefs, full size, hem 2 inches wide, at $3.00 per dozen, worth and usually sold at $6.00. S. P. MORSE. FOR SALE—Brick house in fine order; 8 rooms, desirable lot, 2 blocks from car line. Price $3,200. Call on McCague, opposite postoffice. 116 Tues th sat

A PERFECT PALACE. The Firm of McNamara & Duncan Open the Most Elegant Resort in the West.

The Best Artists in Every Line Contribute to Its Splendor. And It is Stocked From Cellar to Roof With the Best of the Earth. Rome was not built in a day yet she became the Eternal City. So it is that institutions of every kind which are to possess beauty, stability and a steadfast hold on the public require time for their completion and perfection. The old and popular house at the head of which has always been the name of Mr. M. A. McNamara, which is now for some past made additionally popular by the addition of Mr. Geo. Duncan to the firm, made its determination some time ago to keep pace with the wonderful growth of the Gate City, by retreating their liquor establishment in a style adapted to the demands of the next ten years. For several weeks the usually quiet and busy place rang with the sound of the saw, the hammer and the ax. Within everything was made to give way. THE GENESIS OF IMPROVEMENT. and it was not until to-day that it might be said that the work was complete and it certainly stands now without a peer among the many magnificent establishments of the kind in the west and must remain so for years to come, for the skill of the architect, the artisan and the artist and mechanic, as well as an unstinted expenditure of money have all been lavished to make it perfect. Patrons have cheerfully undergone the hardships of the chow that has reigned, while waiting impatiently for the opening of the new place, they are gratified and repaid in full for the elegant and tasteful place of the kind to be found between the MISSISSIPPI AND THE PACIFIC if not anywhere in the land. While the opening does not take place until this evening yet throngs of visitors have been pouring in all day to admire and criticize the work and none have been able to find fault. The retail room has been made a marvel of art and beauty and this impresses the visitor as he enters the spacious front through the wide double doors, on either side of which are broad plate glass windows in which blue reflectively in the form of gas jets the words "McNAMARA" and "DUNCAN." In addition to these lights, in the front is an electric lamp on the outside, and another on the inside, which, at night, light the place with the brilliancy of moonday. And, in this connection, the beautiful chandeliers of the place, as well as its heating apparatus and all its turns of the kind, are furnished by the Western Steam Heating Company, and may be safely said to be as near perfect as possible, as will be seen as the various points in the work are mentioned. The most prominent office facing the main entrance is a cabinet built of polished black walnut and filled with bottles and the finer bottled goods. To the left is the private office, which is luxuriously fitted up; then the long bar twenty feet in length, with the buffet, which includes two wine cabinets and a mirror of four panels, with the most elegantly carved frame to be seen in Omaha. The bar is equipped with all conveniences. At each end stands a tall bronze gas standard, used as a cigar lighter. The sideboard is a beautiful piece of work. There are three mirrors—one large one, with a smaller one on each side—twenty feet in length, with heavy frames. In front of each of the smaller mirrors is a bronze standard with three gas jets, shaded by hand-painted globes. At each end of the sideboard, which is the same length as the bar, is a wine cabinet, made by Dewey & Stone, who also furnished the mirrors. The same firm furnished the large bar glass at the Millard, the immense parlor mirror at the Paxton and Hornberger's big mirror, three of the finest in the West. This time they have brought out something new and novel as well as beautiful, and their taste is to be commended. The sideboard is furnished with cut glass and silver of the finest description and all entirely new. Opposite the bar, on the north side of the room, is the wholesale cigar department, enclosed in wire lattice work of gilt and green. WINE PARLOR. In the southwest corner of this room is located a wine parlor, richly carpeted, handsomely furnished and illuminated by a bronze chandelier. This is intended for the water closets and marble wash stand, a pier glass being placed above the stand. THE READING ROOM. A reading room has been partitioned off, just west of the wholesale cigar department. It is nicely carpeted and furnished, and is supplied with all the leading daily papers and the principal illustrated and sporting publications, such as The Clipper, Wilke's Spirit, Turf, Field and Farm, etc., and also the dramatic papers of all these various divisions of the retail room is inlaid with finely polished black walnut and white maple, and presents a very finished appearance. From the rear of the room a broad staircase leads to the second story, and this is guarded at each side by rich and elaborately carved newell posts, surmounted by exquisite lamps of blue and white porcelain, and a light, fine moulding, carpeted and adds greatly to the general effect. The crowning beauty of the room, however, is the papering and painting, which was all done under the supervision of Charles Kosters, and was probably never equalled by any job of the kind done in the city. In the ceiling, which is unusually bright and artistic, the field of the panels is a crushed strawberry color, and the styling of the same color, only a few shades darker. The corner ornaments are olive flock and the ornaments on the floor are hand-painted. The dividers on the styling are metal borders and a light, fine moulding. There are seven scenes of the bay of Naples. The walls are papered with "finest gold, hand made, and one of the most and most expensive papers ever brought to this city. The frieze corresponds in color and design, a moulding a two inch gold imitation Bamboo separating them. The side panels are gold and marble on grounds, with designs of flowers, and vines, hand painted. The center panel scene is a landscape showing the moon rising between the hills, and above this is the monogram "M. & D."

A TERRIBLE ACCIDENT. A Boy Run Over and Killed on the Blair Bridge.

Dr. E. C. Pierce, the corner of Washington county, was in the city last evening, and from him was learned the particulars of a terrible accident which occurred there on Saturday, resulting in the instant death of Ed. Taylor, a son of Mr. George Taylor, residing at Blair. The family lived near the west end of new bridge, where the large embankment which forms the approach to the bridge is being made. A train of dump cars runs down from the city every fifteen or twenty minutes and it is always the signal for lots of the boys to gather around, as they do every place and try to catch a ride. The conductor and his crew try to break up the practice but have been unable to do so. On Saturday, about 3:30 p. m., the train was pulling down pretty rapidly when young Taylor, who was about 15 years of age, his brother, and several others began running after the cars. One of the boys succeeded in getting on, but Taylor's brother told him not to try it. He disregarded the warning, made the jump, missed his hold and fell under the wheels, which ran over him, crushing his head to a shapeless mass, breaking one leg and twisting one arm out of joint. Coroner Pierce held an inquest on Sunday, and the jury returned a verdict exonerating the company from all blame. TERRIBLE RUNAWAY. A terrible runaway occurred yesterday on Sixteenth street, which resulted in the serious injury of Miss Fannie Lewis, daughter of Mr. Wm. Lewis, the well known expressman. It seems that Miss Fannie was out driving with her father's team on Sixteenth street, the residence being down near the Northwestern depot. The breaking of the check rein frightened the team, and they ran away, colliding with a telephone pole with such force that they broke it square off. The young lady was thrown out and run over and one of her limbs crushed badly. She was picked up in an unconscious condition and conveyed to her father's residence, where she lay in a comatose state until 4 o'clock a. m. It is believed that her injuries, while very severe, are not of a serious nature. OMAHA CHURCH CHOIR. The Song Service Sunday Night at the Second Presbyterian. The song service at the First Presbyterian church Sunday conducted by the double quartette choir and participated in by a congregation numbering over 600, was very entertaining and highly enjoyable. The announcement that Miss Ida L. Barlow, who has been connected with the choir since December, 1882, and has so creditably and acceptably filled the position of soprano, would appear for the last time with the choir, she having decided to go east to remain, brought out her many friends and admirers. All were delighted with her beautiful voice, which seemed never so sweet as in the plaintive melody of "Shall We Gather at the River." The choir and congregation were inspired by the voice and sentiment caught up in the closing strains in one mighty chorus, making the effect most touching and sublime. Miss Barlow is succeeded in the choir by Miss Minnie Maul, of this city, a soprano of rare merit and great promise. She has recently returned from New York City, where she studied with the best instructors that city could afford. Miss Maul's singing in the service was a prominent feature and listened to by the entire assembly with great pleasure. The service included Rossini's "God of Israel," Bellini's "Mighty Jehovah," Barnby's "Sweet in Mercy," interspersed by Bible readings by the pastor, and a number of gems from the "Gospel Songs." A noticeable feature of the service was the playing of Mrs. Ella F. Funk, who officiated at the organ as accompanist. Mrs. Funk is admitted to rank second to none among the first-class organists of this city and her playing Sunday surprised even her best friends and gratified all who were present. She is evidently an artist in music and a thorough master of the keyboard and will be admitted as such by all who heard her splendid music last night. A Run on a Drug Store.
