Yesterday morning Judge Aylesworth was called upon to unite in marriage Mr. William Battelle, son of A. M. Battelle, late deputy U. S. marshal, to Miss Nancy Bair. The judge performed the ceremony very neatly, and the happy couple started for their home in the country near Avoca, ready to receive the many congratulations which will surely be poured in upon them.

A. C. Graham, of Oliver & Graham, was needed as a witness as to a stolen gun, the case being before a justice at Pacific Junction. The subpona issued called for his presence on Sunday, there being some mistake in the date, and as Mr. Graham did not feel in duty bound to neglect church for state he remained away until a bench warrant was issued for him Monday, and he was called on to show reason why he should not be fired for contempt. On the mistake being pointed out Mr. Graham was excused, the cost being thrown onto the justice.
