THE POWDER HOUSES. City Limits?

The informations filed against those who have powder houses inside the city limits were a short time ago dismissed, the understanding being some change would be made in their location. The ordinance provides that they shall be loing naturally more interest in their own immediate neighborhood. The powder men will also be subjected to great inconvience, as they are not allowed to carry but a little stock at their places of business, and they are practically driven out of the city, so far as that part of their business is concerned. It seems that somewhere inside the limits of Kana township there might be "I may not be quite so round," he remarked to a friend who emerged from the hotel, "but I guess I keep my wind better than the ball. Ah! I see," he continued, after critically examining the globe of leather, "there is a hole in it. I must have it repaired. That reminds me of my first cornet."

Since the complaints have been made the agents here holding powder have been in correspondence with their houses, and have decided to get some piece of land which the official may approve of, and the official may approve of, and build their powder houses together on that site, but the council has in the meantime by resolution declared that the houses shall not be anywhere inside the city limits, and as the limits take in the whole township, it virtually drives these powder houses into some other township, where they will find it difficult indeed to make any terms, as these outside through the glass, then he gave it a vigorous kick and ran after it and gave it indeed to make any terms, as these outside | ball. Dandmaster of the Grenadier guards. He advised me to enlist. I took the queen's bandsman. It was plain sailing then; plenty of appreciation and advice; everything I could desire, but hardly any money, only eight shillings a week. I stayed in the regiment until I was offered a position in regiment until I was offered a position in the band of the Crystal Palace. To accept it is was necessary to secure my discharge from the army; I obtained the characteristics as Catarrh, prove how eflatter, thanks to influential friends. ANGERING FECHTER.

"At the Crystal palace I made my fame. I have played before an audience of 80,000 persons and been overwhelmed with applause. The queen sent for me to play at Buckingham palace. I felt I had at last succeeded. The first taste of triat last succeeded. The first taste of tri-umph I had was at the Adelpha theatre, when Fechter was playing Hamlet. I per-formed a solo prior to his appearance to render the great soliloquy "To be or not to be." I finished, the actor stepped on waiting for the applause to subside. It continued enthusiastically. In vain Fechter tried to begin. The people wanted a repetition of my cornet solo and I had to give it. Fechter was very msd. Charles Dickens was behind the scenes. He congratulated me.

"You spoilt Fechter's speech,' he said, 'but you deserved it.' "I had a series of engagements in this country," continued Mr. Levy, refreshing himself with a long drink. "beginning in 1864. Jim Fisk's was about as lucrative as any. He gave me $10,000 for six months in the band of the 9th Regiment, which he organized, I helieve. Then I got this diamond ring through him," pointing to a large solitare on his

I pur-chased several bettles at one of our drug stores in Lyp-, and began to use it as directed, and crowds of people were there to see the now attend to business and am free from trial, and so was my band, and I believe the pains I formerly had; and I wish to say to there was pleuty of betting going my friends and comrades that Hunt's Remedy on. The story to-night is that Mr. Vander bilt is dissatisfied with Bair, the trainer of Maud S., and ordered him to come back to New York. In the opinion of the public it will be a great pity if Mr. Vanderbilt should bring Maud S. home for his own use, as he talks of doing, before she has been put to the limit of her powers this season. P. M. O'Connell, dealer in confectioners' supplies, was surprised yesterday afternoon, while emptying a bag of cocoanuts, to find nestled among the hard shells a grinning monkey of diminutive size. The little fellow rose from his crouching position and began to chatter in a lively manner. His dark, bead-like eyes fairly sparkled. With surprising agility he sprang from the bag and scram-bled about the floor, as though enjoying the freedom. He was captured and placed in a cage. A few days ago the schooner Ella A. Warren arrived in port from Meyoguez, Porto Ricco, with a large cargo of cocoanuts in bags. Usually theys re brought in bulk, but in this instance bags were used. From this lot Mr. O'Connell made his purchases. Evidently the little fellow, imbued with the curious prying disposition of the monkey tribe, ventured into the bag while it was being filled in his native clime. Catarrh.

The remarkable results in a disease so universal and with such a variety of characteristics as Catarrh, prove how effectually Hood's Sarsaparilla acting through the blood, reaches every part of the human system. A medicine, like anything else, can be fairly judged only by its results. We point with pride to the glorious record Hood's Sarsaparilla has entered upon the hearts of thousands of people it has cured of catarrh.

Painful Case of Tetter.

I have for 25 or 30 years been a sufferer from DRY TETTER. It developed itself on different portions of my body, extending to my feet and hands, causing them to itch intolerably and to crack. It was so painful that I was compelled to wear India Rubber gloves day and night for months at a time. After consulting the bost physicians, and using all the remedies which came to my notice without relief, I commenced the use of SWIFTES SPECIFIC, and am happy to say that there is scarcely a vestige of the disease left. At no time in twenty-five years have I felt such relief and freedom from disease, and I cheerfully recommend Swift's Specific to all similarly afflicted.

Bronchitis and Minister's Sore Throat

CURED! I was laid low by an attack of Bronchitis and Minister's Sore Throat, and my life was almost despaired of, when my doctor said try S. S. S. I hesitated for some time, but I was afraid of being permanently laid aside from the active duties of my ministry, I decided to give the preparation a fair trial, and after persevering in its use I found complete relief, and am enjoying excellent health. I am clearly of the opinion that Swift's Specific is one of the best Alteratives and Blood purifiers in existence, and I take pleasure in recommanding its five curative qualities to others afflicted as I was.
