

THE DAILY BEE. OMAHA. Saturday Morning, June 23.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Plenty of Michigan and home grown strawberries at Wiemers. The Philadelphia will take possession of the Omaha gas works on the 1st. There will be a gentleman's roadster race at the Driving park next Saturday. A war on vicious dogs is about to begin. It should be one of extermination. It rained yesterday before daylight, and thus saved the credit of the clerk of the weather. Yesterday was hot enough to suit the most exacting, and another rainstorm may be looked for tonight. Hellman's cellar was pumped out again yesterday by the fire department, an item which is getting to be rather stereotyped. The commencement exercises of the High school will take place on Thursday evening, June 28, in Boyd's opera house. A Liberal League was organized Thursday in a meeting held at the police court rooms, with twenty-two members. The Omaha Musical Union brass orchestra serenaded Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Meyer Thursday at their residence on Twenty-fifth street. A soldier who was on a spree surrendered himself Thursday as a deserter, but it proved that he was no deserter at all, and he was released yesterday. A meeting of the Irish National Land League will be held at 3 p. m. on Sunday next at Knott's hall, at which all members are requested to be present. Max Meyer's head band is attaining quite a degree of perfection, and their playing last evening was listened to by quite a crowd. They will turn out in fine shape soon. Ask your grocer for D. G. Evans & Co.'s celebrated Anchor roasted coffee and Star Baking Powder. These are the best and cheapest goods in the market. It is proposed by one citizen who is disgusted with the turn of affairs which has sent low women into the better quarters of town that a block or two be set off in the river bottom for their special use, and that they be herded there like cattle. There is increasing complaint from the more respectable portions of the city that the dem-mo-niacs who have been driven from the Third ward are scattering through their territory and creating a sort of blood poisoning, as it were. It is the natural result of too radical measures. Constable A. L. Beach went to Omaha yesterday, but could not be prevailed upon to give up the object of his trip. It was rumored that a woman who went out on the train was to be met at Omaha by the individual whom the officer wanted. State Journal. The grand lodge, A. F. & A. M., of the state of Nebraska, recently in session at Beatrice, elected the following officers for the ensuing year: G. M., Samuel W. Hayes, Norfolk; D. G. M., John J. Wemple, Hastings; G. S. W., Manoah B. Reese, Wahoo; G. J. W., Charles K. Contant, Omaha; G. Treasurer, Christian Hartman, Omaha; G. Secretary, Wm. R. Bowen, Omaha. The Barnes-Nugent set to will take place at the Driving Park June 30th, the fight to be made with soft gloves. Sherman Thurston, who was Tom Allen's second in the Allen-Hogan mill, will be appointed referee. Sandy Forbes will act as second for Nugent, and Tom Ballard for Barnes. Nugent and Barnes are in daily training, and are in excellent fighting trim. Nugent is training at Sam Gardner's road house. A "running team" was organized by the firm Thursday. Jacob Houck was elected president, James Donnelly, jr., vice president, Jerome Pentz secretary and manager, Chas. Salter, treasurer, Wm. Webb, Sam Crowley and Geo. Ketchum, trustees. The team is divided as follows: Webb and Donnelly, pipemen; George Steele, flagman, and Rosch, Ketchum, Coats, Traynor, Simpson, Grebe, Houck, Salter, Blake, Crowley and Pentz runners. The coroner's inquest in the case of young McDonald, who was drowned in the river on the 25th of last month, took place at 9 a. m. yesterday at the family residence on Sixteenth and Elm streets. The jury consisted of R. G. Jenkinson, R. J. Mauns, E. D. Lewis, Geo. Medlock, John Johnson and A. G. Strong. The witnesses were three little boys who were with McDonald at the time of his death, viz: Fred W. Anderson, aged twelve years, and Charles A. Peterson and Newton Farrar, aged ten years each. The facts were about as stated in THE BEE, and the jury returned a verdict accordingly. Mr. E. L. Emory yesterday left at THE BEE office a bouquet of the finest roses in cultivation. It contained six varieties, including the Paul Neyron, the largest known, which is nearly four inches in diameter; a Pierre et Notting, and Alfred Colomb, a pair of crossed moss rose buds and one in full bloom; a Madam Planter, and last, but not least, a La France rose, the sweetest in the world. It was a rare combination, and with a single exception all the roses were the very latest known to the floriculturist. To see such roses die is almost too good to be true. The jury in the case of Doug Maguire, charged with stealing the silk from I. B. Williams' store, to-day returned a verdict of "guilty," and the young man will probably go over the road. Three plain drunks were run in by the police Thursday, and yesterday two were committed and one discharged. St. Mary's convent will be rebuilt upon a much larger scale at the head of St. Mary's avenue, just south of the McCandlish property. The membership of the public schools last week was 3,614, and the attendance was 93 per cent of this. There has been a falling off in the attendance during the last few weeks of over 300. Free of Cost. By calling at Schuster & Becht's drug store, you can get a sample bottle of Dr. Rosakoff's Cough and Lung Syrup which will relieve the most obstinate Cough or Cold, and show you what the regular 50 cent size will do. When troubled with asthma, bronchitis, dry, hacking cough, throat and lungs, try a sample of this medicine. POZZONI'S MEDICATED COMPLEXION POWDER. For infant's toilet it is an indispensable article, healing all excoriations immediately. Mothers should use it freely on the face only. It is perfectly harmless. For sale by all druggists.

THE THOMAS FESTIVAL. Progress of Arrangements for This Grand Musical Event.

Opening of the Sale for Single Seats—The Chorus—Half-fare Rates on the Railroads, Etc.

Next week Friday and Saturday will be red-letter days in the history of music in Omaha. They will witness the occurrence of a festival at which will appear an orchestra of sixty solo musicians—each one himself a concert soloist—and all massed under the leadership of a conductor who ranks as the foremost of his time, and who has had his men under daily training for a score of years, until they have attained a perfection that is simply a marvel to all who hear him. To listen to this orchestra for the first time is a revelation—it is, in fact, an occasion to be remembered for a life time. That Omaha is afforded the privilege results from the fact that by an enterprise as remarkable as it is exceptional, and as it has been successful, Mr. Thomas organized a tour for his orchestra from New York to San Francisco, which has consisted of a series of ovations the whole prolonged distance. At San Francisco so great was the success that $51,000 was realized for a series of seven concerts, a result without parallel on the Pacific coast, and hardly in the world. Returning, Mr. Thomas visited Salt Lake, where he held a festival in the great Tabernacle, which was made to reverberate to an order of music to which its echoes never before responded; and to-night he finishes another successful week at Denver, in which the guarantee alone was $25,000. Next week he will appear before an Omaha audience, and ask to be answered whether in selecting this city for one of the best festivals he has held on his great tour, in which a chorus has been asked for, his faith has been wisely manifested. There can scarcely be a question of the answer. Omaha will not fail to give a cordial welcome to the man who has done more for music in America than all other agencies combined, and who will do as much for Omaha if our people will but give him the encouragement in this his first visit to the far west. Let his reception be of so cordial and spontaneous a character that he will be glad to return. Omaha has the musical forces that are able to second his efforts; she can turn him out a larger and finer chorus than any city of her size in the country, and she can fill the opera house with an appreciative and sympathetic audience, comprising all the elements of success, then there can be no doubt of the result of Mr. Thomas' coming. He will be welcomed by all our citizens, and he will be welcomed by hundreds of people from the surrounding towns who have been given half-fare arrangements by the railroads. Boyd's opera house will be filled by audiences in every lineament of whose faces Mr. Thomas will read a cordial and enthusiastic welcome. The great chorus which has been under such thorough training for the past month, came together again last evening, and again demonstrated their fitness to participate in the grand work allotted to them by Mr. Thomas. On Wednesday evening next they will meet at the opera house for the last time before Mr. Thomas takes them in hand, and it is probable that season ticket holders and those having tickets on that evening of the festival at which the choral work is to be performed, will be admitted. This is another inducement to the purchase of this class of tickets, which will have due weight with the public. The chorus, our word for it—will furnish a pleasant evening's entertainment of themselves, and the hearing of the work to be done before the final performance in concert will add greatly to the enjoyment. The sale of season seats will close on Monday, and the single sale begins on Tuesday morning next. At least two connects should be taken in by every single-seat purchaser—thereby combining a duty as well as a pleasure. Death of Mrs. Marquett. The community was shocked yesterday by the intelligence of the death of Mrs. T. M. Marquett, although it had long been known that her demise was only a question of time. She had been a sufferer from consumption for some years, and bore her painful illness with the utmost fortitude. To the stricken husband and orphaned children will flow the warmest sympathy of an extended circle of friends. Her demise was surrounded by ministerial aid, and she passed her last hours soothed by all that affection could do. Her sister, Mrs. Cutler, of Cass county, had been with her for several days. The funeral will take place from the residence, 1744 P street, at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.—State Journal. A Run on a Drug Store. Never was such a rush made on any drug store as is now at C. F. Goodman's for a trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. All persons affected with asthma, bronchitis, hoarseness, severe cough or any affection of the throat and lungs, can get a trial bottle of this great remedy by calling at above drug store. Regular size, $1.00. Real Estate Transfers. The following deeds were filed for record in the county clerk's office June 21, reported for THE BEE by Ames' real estate agency: George P. A NIGHT OF HORROR. Alone With the Dead in a Driving Storm.

A Sexton Entombed in the Grave With the Body—He Escapes by Grasping Tufts of Grass.

Driven Out From Wells at the Muzzle of a Shotgun.

An Outcast Among Men and the Toy of the Elements.

The small-pox scare has about subsided, nearly all the patients being reported as convalescent, and the city has reason to be thankful that it is about to escape so easily from its second visitation of the scourge. It will be remembered that Mr. D. B. Houck, who had charge of the pest house a year ago last winter, was again ordered on duty, with the expectation that the disease might spread over the city again. His position this time, however, proved a sinecure, the only patient who was called for to occupy the hospitalities of the Hotel de Houck refusing to do so. Mr. Houck was discharged from duty on Tuesday evening and has resumed his usual occupation. He does not feel as if he could be induced to go to work again at the pest house, his experience this time discounting that of a year ago. There were TWO DEATHS from the small pox this month, the first being the little son of Mr. Pratt, who brought the disease to the city, and the second and last being Mrs. Margaret Hurl, the mother-in-law of ex-Chief Engineer Galligan. The latter died on Saturday last and was buried the same night. The story of the interment is one which is worthy of the pen of Edgar A. Poe, and there are few persons who could go through the experience Mr. Houck did and retain their sanity. An elegant casket was ordered for the deceased, and with this Mr. Houck went to the residence on his

STILL PROGRESSIVE. Omaha About to Secure Another Public Institution.

The Northern Portion of the City Coming in for Its Share of the Spoils.

A New Sanitarium Will Probably be Erected Soon.

Scarcely a day has passed for weeks without there being recorded the sales of one or more pieces of real estate near Omaha. Several large farms have changed owners within the past twenty days, and smaller tracts nearer the city limits are being bought almost daily. Among the last mentioned is a beautiful five-acre lot located in the northern part of the city. Negotiations for its transfer are being carried on by one of our leading real estate firms, and if the land can be secured, Dr. A. S. Fishblat, proprietor of the Omaha Medical Dispensary, will become the owner and will at once proceed to erect a sanitarium over which he will preside. The present location of the Omaha Medical Dispensary is over the Omaha National Bank building, which is one of the finest and most centrally located buildings in the city. Here Dr. Fishblat, whose growing practice has compelled him to look for larger and more commodious quarters, has the finest and most elaborate set of offices, parlors, laboratories, etc., etc., of any similar institution in the West. Every arrangement for the comfort and ease of the patient or visitor have been carefully looked after, and nothing has been left undone that would have a tendency toward elegance or making a visit to a physician pleasant, instead of dreadful, as true in most cases. Visitors can reach the second floor, which are located the reception rooms, by taking the elevator on the ground floor, and by waiting for an attendant who is always in waiting. The waiting room for female patients is especially adapted to the use of ladies and children, and is furnished and fitted with a good taste, and an unstinted hand that shows that nothing has been spared to make the surroundings luxurious, refined and home-like. The large and well-arranged laboratory is also one of the principle features of the establishment. In these rooms all the remedies used by the doctor are prepared by skillful and experienced hands, under his immediate and competent supervision. A large business is done in the way of mail orders and the express companies state that Dr. Fishblat contributes largely to their northern, southern and western business, shipping nearly as many packages, boxes, parcels, etc., as any business house in Omaha. Patients are daily registered at the various hotels in the city, coming from all parts of the country to be treated in California. Should Dr. Fishblat succeed in securing the tract of land mentioned at the beginning of this article, Omaha and the west may justly feel proud of such an institution as will be maintained. And, as the reputation of the doctor and the Omaha Medical Dispensary is well established, there is not the shadow of a doubt but that Dr. A. S. Fishblat's Sanitarium will be well patronized and the most sanguine expectations of the doctor be fully realized, and Omaha merchants be greatly benefited by an additional number of strangers visiting the city.

CITY COUNCIL. An Adjourned Meeting to Consider Contracts.

An adjourned meeting of the city council was held last evening to consider the subject of letting the contract for the Jones street sewer and other matters. An extended discussion of the subject resulted in the contract being recommended to a special committee, consisting of the board of public works, the city engineer, city attorney and chairman of the judiciary committee, Mr. Huscall, to be remodelled and put in proper shape. The contract of Peter Peterson for grading Nicholas street was approved. An estimate of the work done by A. L. Barber, the paving contractor on Douglas street, was presented and approved. Superintendent Lane, of the Omaha electric light and power company, presented a proposition for lighting the city with the electric light and a special meeting will probably be held for the consideration of the same. A GIRL'S GRIP. A Sneak Thief Caught by a Plucky Young Woman. One of the most praiseworthy exhibitions of nerve recorded lately was that which yesterday resulted in the capture of a sneak thief who entered the house at No. 619 Capital avenue, the lower floor of which is occupied by the family of Mr. Lyman Richardson. Miss Richardson happened to go out into the hall just in time to see a man going out of the door with her father's overcoat across his arm. She said, "What do you want?" "I am looking for the owner of this coat," said the rascal, and Mr. Richardson responded, "Well, here he is," and grabbed the fellow by the collar, landing him subsequently in the city jail. A few such brave acts as this could rid the city of the pestiferous gang which now infests it.
