See Joseph Reiter's spring styles. Cheap Railroad Tickets at Bushnell's. Additional local on seventh page.

Work on the new cracker factory is progressing well. The temporary foot bridges are encumbered by the late rains.

The spiritualists had another happy social Saturday night.

The Chicago Ideal company gave "Patience" at Dohany's, Saturday evening.

Leave to marry was on Saturday given to Jacob Konkler and Mary E. Williams, both of Crescent City.

Merry music lovers here are promising themselves a treat by attending the Thomas concert in Omaha.

The heavy rains keep the flooded district muzzed up about as fast as it can be set to right and a little faster.

The interior of Pereogy & Moore's retail establishment has been greatly beautified by the paper hanger's art.

Cellars and basements are not only filled with water, but many of them are giving forth odors which are a warning of malarial trouble.

A landslide on Saturday knocked in the rear of a little house on Pierce street. It was one of a row whose reputation is not of the best.

L. J. Childs, an old gentleman living on Seventh avenue, suffers from a dislocated shoulder, as the result of a fall from a cherry tree.

Peter Bechtel's new hotel will be ready for the roof this week, and is expected to be all ready for opening by the middle of September.

Five citizens have subscribed $100 each for the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, and others seem willing to help the cause along in lesser amounts.

The examinations of the boys in St. Joseph's academy begin this morning, and continue through to-morrow, closing with an exhibition to-morrow evening.

The relief committee for sufferers by the flood, will meet at the headquarters at 9 o'clock this morning to make a final disposition of the remaining funds.

Several members of the Bluff City hose team, and several from the Rescue hose company, are to enter the 300 yard foot race on the Fourth. It will be a lively struggle.

D. Moran, Wm. Gates, J. C. Coz, Thomas Carlisle, M. Walsh, and Kelly are registered for adjustment in police court this morning on the charge of too much whisky.

There is the promise of the greatest free-for-all here on the Fourth, which ever attracted a crowd to a western track.

Among the speedy ones expected are Maggie T. Lender, Little Sioux, Big Soap, Little Miss, Dutch Girl, Lillian and Lucerne.

J. Delany, J. Maylan, and J. Conway, a trio of jims, who were found on road leading to the jim-jams, were brought before Judge Aylesworth and adjusted. Delany had three full bottles of whisky, and was full himself. The others were also well supplied with whisky but not in bottles.

All the young boys who expect to join in the procession on the Fourth, or participate in the riding exercises at the driving park, for the many prizes to be awarded for good horsemanship and graceful riding, will assemble at the driving park this evening at 6:30 o'clock promptly, for exercise and instruction.

Mr. Hunter has served notices on about 200 to step to the front and pay their poll tax, and will wait this week for them to come up with $2 cash. Those who do not thus pay the price, which has been reduced from $3, may expect to have suits commenced the next week, and under the law the judgment to be gained against them is $6 and costs, and nothing is exempt from execution. It is evidently cheaper to settle cash down, and at once.

The man, Storey, arrested at Oakland, and brought to this city on a charge of perjury, was discharged by Justice Schurz Saturday, the state not being prepared to prosecute, on account of the absence of witnesses, and the court holding that it had had ample time to get them. Storey was a witness in a case against a saloon man at Oakland, and by his arrest on this charge, on complaint of the saloonist, Callison by name, Storey claims he was kept away from the trial. Storey's story of its being a put-up job by Callison between whom there has been much trouble, is given an air of probability by the fact that the witnesses for the prosecution failed to appear.

Charles Anderson and Richard Forrester now lie in jail on the charge of robbing Mrs. Davis' establishment on Broadway of about $40 worth of jewelry, a revolver, etc. Part of the goods were found; they having been sold to Belle Clover for $15. Most of the money had been spent by the time the police captured the fellows. Forrester, particularly, is apparently an old one in the business. It is understood he hails from Kansas City, and it is not unlikely that he is wanted there. He doubtless moves under various names, but he can be readily identified by the scar of a bullet on one hand. It is learned also that these fellows had planned to get away with the silverware in Kirkland's street show case, and had made one attempt at it.

The CAUGHY HOUSE on Broadway is one of the best hotels of its size in the west.

Dr. West, Dentist, 14 Pearl street.

If you want a refrigerator that will reduce your ice bill and give satisfaction, call at Cooper & McGee's and buy a Jewett.

To-day we expect to receive a car load of California oranges and a car load of the celebrated Kentucky cider.

RESTLESS BOYS.

They Cannot Wait to Get Even a Common School Education.

The Girls Cling to the Books a Little Longer--Some Facts and Figures From the City Schools.

The fact that but one boy has been graduated from the high school in two years, while about sixteen girls have won that honor, directs attention to the fact that few boys avail themselves of the full advantages offered by the public schools. Many queries naturally arise as to causes and remedies, and the facts and figures should excite thought and lead to action of some sort. The census shows that there are about an even number of boys and girls of the school age. In the lower departments, the primary rooms especially, this proportion is pretty well maintained, but as they advance the boys drop out much more rapidly than the girls. Taking the statistics of the school on the big hill, and the Bloomer building, it appears that of those entering the grammar department at the beginning of the school year there were 65 boys and 66 girls. Among the lower classes in that grade we find 51 boys and 56 girls in attendance during the year, but during the last month only 40 boys and 49 girls. In the next grade higher, in the grammar department, there were 51 boys and 52 girls in attendance during the year, but the last month's report shows 32 boys and 44 girls. In the next higher grade, the B grade, there were during the year 37 boys and 54 girls, but the last month only 22 boys and 42 girls. In the A grade, a still higher grade, of the grammar department, there were during the year 28 boys to 58 girls, and during the last month of the year only 19 boys to 43 girls.

Thus it is seen that in the grammar department the boys drop out of school in much greater numbers than do the girls. Many of these boys probably end their school days with this dropping out, leaving school at from twelve to fourteen years of age, and with only a knowledge of the fundamentals of arithmetic, able to write a fair hand, to read intelligently the more ordinary and commonplace literature, knowing something of local geography and with some general ideas of the country at large, and able to construct common English sentences.

Advancing into the grades of the high school department the same falling off of the boys is even more noticeable. This year in the first year's course there were 13 boys to 40 girls; in the second year's course, 10 boys to 15 girls; third year's course, 4 boys to 10 girls, and fourth year's course, or senior year, 1 boy and 9 girls.

The figures gathered from the reports show that only about two-thirds of the children of the city avail themselves of the privileges of the public schools. When one considers that out of all the boys in the city, only two-thirds attend school at all, and then that so small a per cent of these attain even a grammar department education, and that this percentage is so whittled down compared to the girls, many questions naturally arise as to how the boys are being fitted for the activities and responsibilities of life, and whether the defect is in the public school system, or in society and the home. These figures are in about the same proportion in all cities of the west, and hence the problem is one common to all. In this connection one fact may be stated for the encouragement of Council Bluffs. The attendance at the high school in this city is about as large as that in Omaha, and consequently much larger in proportion to the number of children in the city.

HOME AGAIN. Items Gleaned by a Pair of Bluffites in Nebraska.

Yesterday D. N. Honn, the agent of the California Immigration Association, and Justice Vaughan, returned from their trip in Nebraska. They went as far as Orleans, a distance of 285 miles or so, and report the crops as looking finely, corn being knee high, and everything prosperous and promising, that part of the country not having suffered so from rain as about here. The people are delighted too with the prospect of two fast trains which are to be put on the road in a day or two.

At Orleans they were surprised to find Mrs. Matilda Fletcher, one of Iowa's pet speakers, who is making a missionary and lecturing trip, and attacking Ingersollism. She gave at Orleans one of the seven lectures for which she was booked in Nebraska, and at the end of the course intends to go east. She is drawing large audiences and delighting them.

On the train between Lincoln and Hastings, the occupants of the sleeper were considerably stirred up by some piercing shrieks of a woman's voice proceeding from one of the berths. It appears that a gentleman boarded the train and asked the conductor if a middle-aged woman and a younger one were occupying a section, and if so which one. The conductor in charge of the train asked him what business was of his, and learning he was the husband of the younger one, and that the older one was his mother-in-law, offered no further protest. The mother-in-law hearing the conversation hurriedly climbed into the upper berth to make room for him, but the wife was not awakened until the husband began to get in. It wasn't a pleasant surprise as he expected. The poor little woman suddenly aroused, shrieked and shrieked again before she could realize that it was her George instead of some strange man. The passengers were highly startled.

On the return the Bluffites found a washout this side of Lincoln which caused great delay to trains Saturday, but which is now repaired.

If you want to buy or sell furniture or household goods call on Mandell.

WANTED FOR MURDER.

Sheriff Farrell Brings His Man Back From Colorado.

The Bloody Crime Committed Nearly Six Years Ago.

Sheriff Dan Farrell arrived here yesterday from Colorado, bringing with him as a prisoner a man named Jasper Clausen, whom he arrested for murder committed nearly six years ago. Many still remember the crime, it being the murder of two men, Doran & Tynan, who were running a quarry, and the purpose being robbery. The men were shot as they were going along the highway, three or four miles below Pacific Junction, the murderers waylaying them, and after killing them robbed them, getting $130 and a watch from one of them. This was on July 11th, 1877. A man named McCleary was arrested soon after and found guilty and is now serving a life sentence in the penitentiary. Some suspicion fell upon Clausen as being McCleary's partner in the bloody transaction, but there seeming to be a lack of evidence to confirm the suspicion, he was not arrested. Clausen moved into Fremont county and soon after got into another scrape and was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary for assault with intent to kill. Having served his time he moved out to Colorado, and for the past year has been living at Boulder City, where he has been teaming. Lately some discoveries have been made which, it is claimed, establish the fact that he took part with McCleary in the murder of the two men near Pacific Junction, and information was filed charging him with the crime, and Sheriff Farrell has taken him on that. He left with his prisoner last evening for Glenwood.

Sheriff Middleton, of Harrison county, accompanied Sheriff Farrell on this Colorado trip, and brought back something in his gamebag, too. His prisoner is named George McIntyre, and he is wanted for stealing a team of horses about two years ago. McIntyre was found flourishing in the west as a tie contractor in connection with railway building.

PERSONAL. Albert J. Stiles, the Pinkerton of St. Louis, has written his friend W. R. Vaughan, that he looked after Miss Mattie Vaughan, who recently started from here to Alabama, called thither by the illness of her mother, and that despite the confusion of trains caused by the washouts, she had gone that far on her journey all right, and he had seen her safely started out for the finish of the journey. Mr. Stiles with all his prominence and rush of business has an accommodating spirit and a big heart.

Our New Loan and Improvement Co. Investigation into the matter convinces us that one of the most equitable, reasonable and feasible plans of building houses is that proposed and in operation by the Mercantile Loan, Trust and Improvement company of this city. By investing in shares in this institution, which is backed by some of our best and most reliable business men, it becomes possible and comparatively easy for a man of moderate means to secure a comfortable home for himself and family. In taking a certain number of shares, at a certain monthly payment, in a few years a man can own a house of his own for about the same as he pays monthly for rent. We believe the Mercantile Loan and Trust company, by organizing and opening up for business, have filled a long felt want in Council Bluffs. Their plans and system of loans will bear the most careful scrutiny and examination, and we have no hesitancy in pronouncing them reasonable and equitable, and backed by gentlemen of honor and integrity. As the company exists it becomes at once an institution of value and credit to our city and those who desire homes. Their president is T. A. Kirkland, vice president, Judge Peake; secretary, I. R. Beece; treasurer, Col. Beebe, and their office is in the basement of Shugart & McMahon's new block, corner First avenue and Pearl street. jan27-1y.
