

THE DAILY BEE.

COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Wednesday Morning July 4.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: By Carrier 20 cents per week; By Mail $10.00 per Year.

MINOR MENTION.

See Joseph Reiter's spring styles. Cheap Railroad Tickets at Bushnell's. Mrs. Bradbury's restaurant, 821 Main street.

The races this afternoon will be immense. Take them in. The Union avenue job is a "dead giveaway" on the council.

Mrs. Jacobs yesterday concluded to plead guilty for keeping rowdy house and was duly fined. The Presbyterian young folks had a pleasant social last evening, and a lively sale of fire works.

Capt. Wilson claims $13,500 from the city for damages caused to his property by the floods. R. F. Crane, who committed suicide at the Pacific House, is said to have had quite a heavy life insurance.

A large delegation from Blanchard together with a band are expected to join in the parade here today. Some games of poker are heard from as heavy played on the sly, but faro, keno, and other games still seem hushed.

An attempt was made to enforce the fire-cracker ordinance until the Fourth was fairly ushered in, but it proved almost futile. An alarm of fire was caused yesterday morning by the burning of a little house in Streetville belonging to Mrs. Evans.

Some of the school houses are becoming too popular resorts at night for couples who act as if they either want to be named or ought to be. Two brothers, both well along in years, and well known here, their name being Berry, were fined yesterday morning for being drunk.

A lady traveller is reported as being robbed at the Union Pacific depot yesterday. As usual the police know little about it and say less. A half dozen sheep at once are to go with the big barbecue at the driving park this noon, and 1,000 loaves of bread are prepared, so that the multitudes may be fed.

Old Sident opf favors the establishing of a sewer system independent of Indian Creek. The council has adopted his resolution instructing the engineer to report on such a system. A house near the Northwestern depot was being moved yesterday, when the rear part of the house spread, allowing the chimney to fall and causing some injury to Mr. Hoffman, the occupant.

BOWMAN'S QUIVER.

It Contains Six Arrows, Which He Shoots at the Union Avenue Scheme.

Mayor Bowman, who is openly opposed to the council giving the Union Pacific the right to Union Avenue, the people's boulevard, and not the aldermen's boulevard, has returned the ordinance unsmiled, and accompanied by objections, as briefly stated in yesterday's BEE.

John Chapman's organ, or the organ's John Chapman, has utterly ignored these objections, and as they contain many concentrated food for thought, we give them in full. First--That the granting of such right of way to said railroad company, and its usual occupancy for a railroad, is and will be such a radical diversion of said avenue from its original intended use, as will entirely destroy it as an avenue for public travel.

Second--That the benefits which it is claimed the city will receive for the use of said revenue by said railway will not, in my judgment, compensate the city and its inhabitants for the loss of said revenue, for the purpose for which it was originally purchased. Third--That said railway company neither by the acceptance of said grant nor by the terms of said ordinance, is bound to receive and bill all Council Bluffs freight at and from its proposed depot at the junction of Broadway and Union Avenue, thereby making it a regular freight station of said company at that point, but can in its discretion receive such freights at that point and bill them the same as now at the transfer station.

Fourth--That said ordinance does not stipulate of the rates for freights or passengers between the Union Pacific depot and the proposed Broadway depot. Fifth--That the city council has no power, right or authority in law to defeat the will and vote of the people thereof in the purchase of said avenue for a boulevard by giving and granting the same for a right of way for a single or double track railway. Sixth--The granting to said railway company the privileges and rights conferred by the ordinance conflicts with the spirit and terms of the ordinance permitting the use of streets by the Council Bluffs street railway, approved December 27, 1877.

Mayor Bowman has no veto power, so his objection will probably not affect the legality of the ordinance, but he might, while he was about the business, have stated some other strong objections. One is the unbecomingly haste with which an ordinance prepared by a Union Pacific type-writer, under the immediate dictation of Union Pacific officials, was rushed through the Council, without giving the people a chance to give voice to their known opposition. He might have shown how the scheme was a pet one of the Union Pacific to beat the life out of Broadway with a club, furnished by the city, with which to beat the life out of any proposed building of another bridge across the river. If the Union Pacific carries its point, it will take especial pains, whenever the people clamor for another bridge and a bill is pending in Congress, to allay the clamor by reducing rates and increasing accommodations, and then as soon as the people are lulled into a quiet sense of satisfaction, the enterprise is postponed, the Union Pacific will increase its rate and lessen its accommodations to suit itself.

The Mayor's call also warned its people not to think for a moment that the little flag station proposed on Broadway will transfer. The through train will not be brought up to Broadway. The change of passenger, the business in fact will still be at the Union Pacific depot. The only discernible difference promised is that folks may ride in a steam car instead of a street car. The dummy men cannot make fast time, as that would endanger life and limb inside of the city. The only advantage pretended to be offered is that the dummy will run every half hour instead of every hour, but for this the city was asked to give up $40,000. The Union Pacific may or may not keep the promise. That company is acting, as it always has acted for its own interest, and not for the city. Even if it is going to pay the Union Pacific, let that company pay for its right of way at Woodland.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Important Changes Being Recklessly Made and Yet the Public Shows Great Capacity.

The board of education is making great changes in the public schools, and yet there is strangely little thought or attention given by the people. Such schemes as that of Union Avenue seem by touching the pocket books of the people directly, arouse a storm of indignation, and yet the education of the youth, and the handling of the universe seems but merely for its purpose is fully, if not more important. This apathy is due in part to the fact the more humble, poorer and less influential classes feel that they cannot help themselves, and the ignorant classes naturally do not appreciate the situation, while some of the rich and more prominent parents are able to get their children educated elsewhere. One prominent merchant yesterday remarked: "It don't concern me very much if the school did go down instead of up. I send my children away to school. Let the board go to."

The action of the board in selection of teachers Monday night shows how little they appreciate the needs of the school, and the appointments indicate fanaticism, policy, and lack of judgment. There are some good teachers retained, but others have been appointed to positions of importance, which they are expected to fill without the necessary experience. Several young girls with no particular fitness for the position have been selected by the board, and if under this sort of management the schools prosper, it will be a surprise. The schools lose some of their best teachers and it is said that others will also leave. In a number of cases these teachers have accepted engagements elsewhere. Among those who drop out of the corps now are Miss Tickinger, Miss Hubbard, and Miss Hewitt, all teachers in the school on the hill, in grammar departments; Miss Wright, Miss Kilbourn, and Miss Barker of the Bloomer school.

One of the most serious losses is that of the Kindergarten schools, and the dropping out of Miss Eddy, one of the best and most successful teachers of that system, in the whole land. Chicago and other cities are enthusiastic over the Kindergarten, and the results as this far shown here, have been wonderful. The children of the well-to-do can avail themselves of private schools, but those of the poorer people cannot. The mood is apparently so snubbing the superintendent as to get him to resign his position voluntarily, though he has a contract to remain another year, and thus relieve themselves of the necessity of stating reasons for desiring a change. Perhaps these reasons, if tersely stated, would not meet with any public endorsement. It is certain that under Prof. Farnham's management the schools have been built up, but if the board has good reasons for a change, they should let the public have the benefit, and be frank and open about the matter. But a most interesting feature looks as if there were personal motives actuating them. The most charitable construction which can be placed upon the action of the board is that, with one exception, they know little about educational matters. They may be good business men, honest, enterprising in other directions, and yet wholly unfit to serve as members of a board of education, and if they do not have intelligence or experience in regard to school matters they are liable to make grave mistakes, as they seem to be doing.

OUR NEW LOAN AND IMPROVEMENT CO.

Investigation into the matter convinces us that one of the most equitable, reasonable and feasible plans of building houses is that proposed and in operation by the Mercantile Loan, Trust and Improvement company of this city. By investing in shares in this institution, which is backed by some of our best and most reliable business men, it becomes possible and comparatively easy for a man of moderate means to secure a comfortable home for himself and family. In taking a certain number of shares, at a certain monthly payment, in a few years a man can own a house of his own for about the same as he pays monthly for rent. We believe the Mercantile Loan and Trust company, by organizing and opening up for business, have filled a long felt want in Council Bluffs. Their plans and system of loans will bear the most careful scrutiny and examination, and we have no hesitancy in pronouncing them reasonable and equitable, and backed by gentlemen of honor and integrity. As the company exists it becomes at once an institution of value and credit to our city and those who desire homes. Their president is T. A. Kirkland; vice president, Judge Peake; secretary, I. R. Beery; treasurer, Col. Beebe, and their office is in the basement of Shugart & McMahon's new block, corner First and Pearl streets. Jan 27-ly.

The first complete translation of the Bible in the English language was printed in the year 1635. A perfect copy of it sold for $1,750, in 1838. The Book of Common Prayer has been translated into more than sixty languages, and a million copies of it are printed every year. James Franklin's old printing press, at which his brother Benjamin worked as an apprentice, is on exhibition at the Old South Church, Boston. It is now the property of the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanic Association, to which it was presented by Mr. John B. Murray, some years since.

Blackrod says of George Eliot's mode of composition: "She was the most careful and accurate among authors; her beautifully written manuscript, free from blur or erasure, and with every letter delicately and distinctly finished, was only the outward and visible sign of inward labor, which she had taken to work out her ideas. She never drew any of her facts or impressions from second hands, and thus, in spite of the number and variety of her illustrations, she had rarely any lie to correct in her proof sheets."

When a child begins to read it becomes delighted with a newspaper because it reads of names and things which are familiar, and it will progress accordingly. A newspaper in the hands of a child is a quarter's schooling to a child. Every father must consider that information is connected with advancement. The mother of a family, being one of its heads, and having a more immediate charge of children, should herself be instructed in the use of the cupped becomes fortified against the ill of life, and is braced for any emergency. Children amused by reading or study are of course more considerate, and more easily managed.

A rapid penman can write thirty words in a minute. To do this he must draw his pen through the space of a rod, sixteen and a half feet. In forty minutes he can average sixteen curves or turns of the pen in writing each word. Writing thirty words in a minute, he must make 480 turns in each minute; in an hour, 28,800; in a day of only five hours, 144,000; in a year of 300 such days, 43,200,000. The man therefore, who made 1,000,000 strokes with his pen was not at all remarkable. Many men--newspaper writers, for instance--make 4,000,000. Here we have, in the aggregate, a mark 300 miles long to be traced on paper by such a writer in a year.

Strength and health go together. Obtaining this happy physical state by a bottle of Brown's Iron Bitters. Mulr tells us in the fourth book of his "Dorians," that in Lesbos, and some other parts of Greece, under the lead of some woman of distinguished genius for the cultivation of poetry, music, refinement, and grace of manners, and the other elegant arts, girls were sent from distant cities, and even from foreign lands, to be educated in these societies. Sappho was the head of one of them. She calls her house "The House of the Servant of the Muses."
