MINOR MENTION.

Cheap Railroad Tickets at Bushnell's.
Mr. Traverser yesterday sold his residence to Mr. Mant Hughes.

The water works boys were made happy again yesterday. Pay day.

There was an ice-cream social at the Home for the Friendless last evening.

Rev. and Mrs. J. Z. Armstrong celebrated their tin wedding last evening.

The thermometer reached 98 degrees here yesterday in several shady places.

L. G. Kinne, the democratic candidate for governor, is to talk here next Thursday evening.

Some of the expressmen propose to pool for a fight against collecting the license charge.

There was a pleasant social gathering last evening at Miss Emma Mayes' home on Willow avenue.

David Bradley & Co. have purchased a fine pair of Norman draft horses for use in their business here.

The Pottawattamie county teachers convention opens here Monday, and promises to be largely attended.

The residence of D. Bentley, at Malvern, was burglarized Tuesday night, two watches and $10 in money being taken.

The members of the Mission Sunday school had an enjoyable picnic on W. B. Mayes' lawn, about fifty children participating.

Donations of groceries and provisions can be put where they will do the most good by leaving them at the Home for the Friendless.

F. F. Ford yesterday sold his elegant house on Willow avenue to P. C. DeVol, possession to be given about the first of September.

Those interested, seem to dread the task of tackling the Wells-Webster neighborhood from this hot weather, and the case has been continued for a week.

The second spiritual society meets every Sunday at Everett's block, corner of Broadway and Pearl streets, No. 6, room 11, at 2 o'clock and 7:30 o'clock p. m.

George Madison has welcomed another member to the cigar makers' union. It is a boy, starting in life with ten pounds, and promising years of happiness to the home.

It don't increase a person's thirst for a drink from the street barrels to see boys washing their faces and hands in the water. There should be covers and locks.

The officers are still on the hunt for the clothing store on Farnam street. It is now thought to have been taken across the river and planted somewhere in Omaha.

Some of the fine horses which C. E. Mayne had while at the coal mine at Frederick are to reach the city to-day, and will be placed at the Driving park and offered for sale.

Permit to wed was yesterday given to Albert Stewart and Rebecca Clapper, of Little Sioux, and the happy ones were soon after registered at the Pacific house as husband and wife.

Trim up the shade trees. Eight feet above the sidewalk is the required distance, and Marshal Jackson is going around with an eight-foot pole searching for victims to prosecute.

All members of the G. A. R. who intend going on the Denver trip are requested to call upon John Lindt to-day, to get their certificates, if they are not already provided with them.

Jake Rogers was the victim of a confidence game, or train robbery, the other day. His loss consisted mainly of a big tin can of spring water, which he brought in from out in the country.

A fine roadster which William Lathrop, or Suede Bill, recently bought of Col. Bapp, was badly hurt yesterday by a barbed wire fence. The horse is so badly injured that it is thought he will die.

Pat Gannadoe, arrested for assaulting Owen Cunningham, was yesterday fined $10 and costs. Gannadoe claimed in defense that Cunningham was noisy and abusive, and he put him out of his place of business.

Judge Sears has concluded not to return to Colorado, but to again abide in this city, and has fitted up a law office in the old board of trade rooms. He seems to be picking up his old practice here very rapidly.

J. G. Wilson, the shoemaker on Upper Broadway, was arrested yesterday afternoon for abusing his family by getting drunk, he having pounded both of them more than they could bear. Officer Leonard and Special B. T. Connor accomplished his capture.

There was a gallant Knight Templar mounted the train last week to attend a grand blow out in Council Bluffs. His little satchel was carefully carried and upon arrival upon the scene of action it was found to contain night clothes instead of a knight suit. The regalia was entirely too plain for the occasion and the joke exceedingly expensive.—Harlan Tribune.

Spiritual circle to-morrow (Sunday) afternoon and evening at Spiritual hall, rooms Nos. 4 and 5, Shuggart & McMahon's block. In the afternoon Judge Hugh Smith will deliver a short address. In the evening the pope's rule of excommunication against spiritualists will be read, also a short comparison made between the spirit of Christ and the church of the nineteenth century. Good test mediums will be present.

There seems to be a good prospect for breaking up the gang of boys mentioned in yesterday's BEE, as hanging about the vicinity of Stewart's packing house and assaulting other boys who chance to pass by on errands. Two of them were yesterday found guilty of assaulting a telegraph messenger boy. The boys were fined $10 and costs and this judgment allowed to hang over their heads, to fall upon them if they are caught in any more such deviltry. Several other boys engaged in the same affair are to be brought before the bar. Some of these boys are being fast trained for successful thugs and highway-men, as cases are reported where they have knocked down and robbed other boys of small sums of money, playthings, etc. The officers are now causing the boys to quit and reform.

The many friends and acquaintances of David Dunkle, the well known resident of Crescent City, will be sadly surprised to learn that he has been sadly bereaved by the death of his wife, which occurred Thursday night. Mrs. Dunkle had been suffering with erysipelas lately, and that was the cause of her sudden death. She leaves besides her husband two sons and two daughters. She had many friends, and their tenderest sympathy will be extended toward the family. The funeral services are to be held this morning at 10 o'clock.

Lost, Strayed, or stolen.—A yard man, two suits of clothes, a hat and two left-handed shoes. Any one returning the same can have the man for his trouble. So says George Ferguson, of the Pacific house. It appears that the said yard man yesterday helped himself to some of the clothing belonging to other help, and going into the ice vault, changed his clothes, rigging up in the other ones, left his old clothes on the ice to keep them, and disappeared. There seems to be an epidemic of clothes stealing just now.

E. J. Abbott returned yesterday from Hamburg where he successfully started the "M. S. Holtzinger" post, G. A. R. It starts out with twenty four charter members. The night before he organized a post at Sidney, to be known as "Jo Rees" post. That has twenty-four charter members. He also had the chance to see the ravages of the recent hail storm, and brought back with him a piece of dogwood which showed how the hail stones had cleaned the bark off. He says the ruin wrought by the hail is indelible, the grain, corn and fruit being completely destroyed in the path of the storm.

The directors of the driving park and fair association, have decided to make the coming fall fair one of the greatest events of the kind in the west. The time fixed upon is September 10 to 14 inclusive, and no money or work is to be spared to make it a great success. Additional subscriptions to stock have been raised, and there is a general feeling of enthusiasm to make the enterprise boom. There is the assurance that aside from the money and other attractions there will be the largest and best gathering of horses ever seen in the city, and better races will be given than on any other track this fall. Altogether the fair and meeting of September promise big.

The news of the arrest and conviction of A. P. Tenney for his indecent conduct toward a little eight-year-old girl, seems to have awakened much interest elsewhere. The chief of police has received a telegram from the chief of police at Joliet stating that a man of that name, who had formerly lived at Wilmington, Ill., had a few years ago been driven out of town by indignant citizens for a like offense. A letter has also been received from Burlington, giving a resume of the exploits in the same line of an A. P. Tenney, whose description fits very snug, and reviving the Wilmington charges. It seems to be a wonder to these outside folks that Council Bluffs don't follow the example of Wilmington in the treatment of such an offense.

Dr. West, Dentist, 14 Pearl street.

How They Like It.
The following from the Malvern Leader is respectfully referred to John Chapman with the request that he publish it among the other "opinions of the press," he evidently having overlooked it:

There is no paper in Iowa that is more uncertain than the Council Bluffs Nonpareil. The ears of its editor have assumed mammoth proportions, and it is simply a matter of time, and a short time at that, when they will be all that is visible of him. Because the State Convention did not make a platform just to his liking in every respect, he has employed himself since that body met, in placing false constructions on that portion of it relative to the temperance issue. His whole desire seems to be to sow discord in the Republican ranks, and if possible, defeat the party at the polls. No opportunity for a blow at the party he professes to support, is allowed to pass unimproved. His pretended horror at the idea of the convention's declaring the amendment living despite the decision of the supreme court, is the merest subterfuge, and is used only as an excuse for attacking the party for the stand it has taken on the temperance question. The party he now seeks to defeat, has honored John Chapman time and again, and viper-like, he in return proposes to sting it to death. Fortunately for the party his influence is extremely small, and his fanatical efforts to injure it will be ignominiously fail.

Two Millions a Month.
And still increasing is the record of the Hartford Life and Annuity Insurance company, of Hartford, Conn., since the issue of her new safety fund policy, at one-third the cost of old time companies, and the full payment of every certificate secured by registered U. S. bonds, held by trustees outside the company. Call on or address A. J. TURNBULL, Manager, Council Bluffs.

TO OUR PATRONS.
As we keep no old stock on hand, we cannot advertise cheap suits, nor pants at $3.50, but our stock is fresh, and all orders got up in first-class style. As we employ only the best of workmen, we can guarantee satisfaction. Call and see us. NUGENT & SMITH, 7 and 9 Main street, Merchant Tailors.

Langtry's Sunday Bath.

Around the Oriental Hotel, at Manhattan Beach, everything was particularly still. Half a dozen young dudes, in white suits, played lawn tennis, ladies looked from the hotel in a dreamy way at the sea. There was one lady there, rather tall, with brown hair, and a white, loose, flimsy cloud floating around her shoulders. Near her was a young man, with one hand resting on the lady's swinging chair. Curiously enough, it is said, the other ladies do not go near this couple, although there are few of them who can rival in beauty and conversational powers. She is Mrs. Langtry and he is Freddie. They are quite well known in some parts of the United States. Early yesterday morning she did not have a white mantle on her shoulders. Not much! She walked down to the beach in a pair of tightly fitting knee-breeches and a jaunty jacket belted in around the waist. A Turkish towel fell around her form, which she cast off by the margin of the ocean. The brown hair is waving and rustling in the breeze, and half the white ivory arms are gleaming in the sunlight as she throws them up over her head and clasps them at the back of her head. What few people were at the beach gazed and gazed, while others ran down from the hotels as word passed from mouth to mouth that the Lily was about to take a plunge and a swim. She waded out slowly and yet more slowly, the water creeping upon the little knee breeches by inches and gaining slowly on the jaunty, belted brown jacket. Suddenly the ivory arms gleam for an instant and she plunges out of sight. The billow rolls in upon the beach, and the white arms shine out again, shading the foaming surf. The brown locks fall heavy on her back. The knee-breeches and the jacket make a plunge for a bathing just as Freddie, half frantic, rushes from the billiard-room of the Oriental, toward which the billow had rolled in upon the beach.

ANOTHER LIFE SAVED.
J. C. Gray, of Dadeville, Ala., writes us: "I have been using your Dr. Wm. Hall's Balm for Cuts, Bruises, Sprains, etc., for many years, and I can say in truth, it is far superior to any other Liniment preparation in the world. My mother was confined to her bed for weeks with a cough, and had every kind of physician called, but there she lay in the country, and they all failed to effect a cure; but when I got one bottle of your Dr. Wm. Hall's Balm for the Cough, and I used it, she was cured, and my mother is better now than she has been before for twenty years."

An Interesting Widow.
The most interesting widow in America, says a New York letter, is Mrs. Hancraly. I saw her yesterday. She was tall, erect and singularly impressive in bearing. Her carriage can be no better described than by saying that it was that of a West Point military man, softened by reproduction in the other sex. That is to say, she was a happy medium between stiff dignity and pliant grace. She has a pretty, if not beautiful face, but it was her air of high breeding that distinguished her above others of equal comeliness. She might have been the aristocratic heroine stepped out from a conventional society novel. She is the daughter of Commodore Price of the United States Navy. She is, in rearing and character, all that her demeanor promises, and a widow of thirty, with $5,000,000. There will be a fight by her husband's relatives, probably, but with no prospect of depriving her of any considerable part of her wealth. Doesn't that make her the most lovely widow in America?
