

THE DAILY BEE. OMAHA. Friday Morning, July 27. LOCAL BREVITIES.

A law partnership has been formed between Col. E. F. Smythe and W. M. Bennett, Esq. The concert by the musical union orchestra, at the Tivoli garden Wednesday night, was a fine one. Mr. C. E. Smith, the proprietor of a popular boarding house, is the father of a fine little daughter. C. J. Greene, Esq., has formed a law partnership with R. W. Breckenridge. They will make a strong team. In the district court Wednesday H. M. Brown obtained a divorce from his wife, Mary J. Brown, on the ground of desertion. Elder Charles Drury, of the Reorganized Church of Latter Day Saints, will preach to-night in the Saints Chapel on Cass street, between 16th and 17th streets. Wednesday, while workmen were hoisting a 6,300 pound safe up the elevator shaft in the Strang building, the hoisting tackle broke, letting the safe fall. But little damage was done. The county commissioners have opened a new county road running down the line between ranges 11 and 12. The road runs two miles through Jefferson precinct and one mile through McArdle. The Fourth Infantry band will play for the Maennerchor picnic to be held at Hanscom Park next Sunday. The occasion will undoubtedly be a very pleasant one and should draw a good crowd. The Union Pacific coal department has been moved to the fourth floor of Strang's building, and the offices thus vacated in the headquarters will be occupied by M. H. Goble, purchasing agent of the Union Pacific.

CATHOLIC KNIGHTS. A New and Popular Movement in Omaha.

The Officers of St. Leo Branch No. 292. A few days ago THE BEE contained a notice of the filing of articles of incorporation by St. Leo branch No. 292, of the Catholic Knights of America. This is a new order in Omaha, and was first chartered by an act of the legislature of Kentucky in 1880, although it was organized in the latter part of the year 1877. Previous to this time there had been no society or organization of Catholic laymen that possessed in itself sufficient strength to attract and hold the Catholics together and many were uniting with other orders for insurance purposes. It has now a membership of 12,000 and three hundred churches in the United States. It has the approval of the Reverend Bishops and Archbishops of the United States, to whom it has been proffered, and has a large number of the Rev. Clergy enrolled in its membership—its progress in the past six months has been more rapid than ever before. No one unless of good moral character, a practical Catholic and of good health, can become a member. The Order has paid in benefits to widows and orphans, of deceased members over $40,000 and in two thirds of the cases at least, the benefits so paid have been all that stood between the widow and orphan and the cold world. The objects of the order are by an assessment to furnish a fund out of which a sum not exceeding $2,000 shall be paid on the death of a brother member, to his wife or family as he may direct. To unite all practical Catholics of every profession, business occupation. To give all possible moral and material aid in its power to members of the order. The following are the officers of St. Leo Branch: Rev. Fr. Glauber, spiritual director. W. A. L. Gibbon, president. J. A. Whalen, vice-president. Richard Downey, recording secretary. Richard Mullen, financial secretary. W. M. Dushman, treasurer. F. M. McDonagh, secretary at arms. John E. Congrove, sentinel. D. I. O'Donohue, P. Cavanaugh and Jas. Perkins, trustees. Dr. M. J. O'Rourke, medical examiner.

THE WAIF AGAIN. A Mother's Plea for Her Baby, Which is in Better Hands Than Her's.

OMAHA, NEB., July 22, 1883. MR. EDITOR: I called at Mr. Hinchey's residence to see my baby but he did not seem disposed to let me have it now. There is always two sides to every story. If I had of deserted my baby to sleep with some scrub of a man, it would look altogether different, but I did not do that. My intention was to earn money enough to get necessary to go to keeping house with and in that endeavor I have been successful. Many a woman supports her family by washing and I can support my children I know. I came to Omaha a perfect stranger and I was unacquainted with the law or I suppose need not have abandoned my child. I never had to call on the County for assistance nor do I now, but when it comes to a mother begging the streets with three little children, it is a hard way of making a living and I am situated now so I can keep my children, as some people I live near are very good to me. There are worse deprivations than that committed in Omaha, and moreover, when you are without money, you are without friends. People may say a great many things but if they were in my circumstances, then, it may be, they would have done worse. The baby fell into very kind hands; no kinder people can be found. I am not able to donate very much toward the keeping of the child, but it will be all right some day. As I married against my parents will, and they are as severe on me as England is on Ireland—just the same—I have gone in a lady-like way about it. I only ask to get my children together once more. I think just as much of my baby as any mother, although I did not do a Christian-like act. I know the best of people are sometimes. I am firmly resolved to have my child some day, as it is my own flesh and blood. I decline giving my name as I have relatives in this county that came here since that happened. FROM THE MOTHER.

PACKET LINE. An Old Project About to be Successfully Carried Out.

Between Omaha and St. Louis. An article from the Sioux City Journal which was recently reproduced in THE BEE alluded to the decline of steamboat traffic on the Missouri and predicted that it would finally die out entirely. While the railroads are, it is true, invading the Northern country pretty fast and carrying a large share of the freight and passengers, it is not conceded by the steamboatmen that they are to be driven out for good and all. Capt. John A. Williams, who commands the "Daotah," when in Omaha a few days ago on his way down the river said to the agents of the Condon Line here, Messrs B. F. Troxell, & Co. that he believed the long talked of project of running a line of big boats between St. Louis and Omaha was about to be established. He had had a most successful season on the upper Missouri and the "Daotah" had made money for her owners although she only made two trips to Benton instead of three as had been expected. One reason she came down so soon was that the river up there was quite low and the "Daotah" is so large, although she draws but little water. He had plenty to do and on the way had more passengers and freight offered than could be accommodated. Boats making the run from St. Louis to Bismarck and Benton pay for the season if they make but one straight run trip. The "Daotah" and other boats of this line have an immense carrying capacity, the former being of 900 tons burden, and with accommodations for 125 passengers. Notwithstanding there are three nearly parallel lines of railroad from Omaha to St. Louis all are making money, and Capt. Williams thinks that the vast crops of grain in Nebraska and elsewhere along the river, which are to be moved to the southern and eastern markets would furnish a steamboat line with all it could do. It is a fact that Troxell and Company every day receive applications and inquiries as to when they will have a boat along, and on even one day's notice have to refuse to take all the freight offered. And they are regular line and advertised it they would get a constant supply to handle. Cap. Williams says the owners of the line at St. Louis are strongly inclined to try the experiment, and that the channel between Omaha and Kansas City is as open to the passage of large boats as that south of Kansas City, where there is already a line established. It would be a good thing if they would make a strike in this new enterprise, and would help out many thriving river towns.

Wah Lee. A Chinese Landryman Slung by a Robber.

Frank Cloud is the name of a party who recently made a desperate attempt to slug and rob Wah-Lee, a Chinese landryman on 10th street. Cloud had left a bundle of clothing with Wah-Lee to be laundered, and on calling for it, managed to get the Celestial into the back yard, when he felled him to the ground with a sand bag, a favorite instrument of slugs. He managed to give Wah-Lee a bad wound near the mouth, but did not render him insensible, as he doubtless intended to do, and the victim yelling for help his assailant ran away and has not since been seen. He undoubtedly thought the fellow had a sum of money stored away and that he could down him and secure the booty. The sand-bag is one of the most dangerous weapons used by highwaymen and it often results fatally to the parties assailed.

CASTORIA for Infants and Children.

Castoria promotes Digestion and overcomes Flatulency, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, and Feverishness. It induces health and natural sleep, without morphia. "Castoria is so well adapted to Children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. Drake, M. D., St. Paul and Annapolis, Md. What gives our Children rosy cheeks, What cures their colic, makes them sleep? 'Tis Castoria. When babies fret and cry by turns, What cures their colic, kills their worms, 'Tis Castoria. What quickly cures Constipation, Sour Stomach, Colds, Indigestion, 'Tis Castoria. Farewell then to Morphine Syrup, Castor Oil and Paregoric, and Hall's Castoria.
