A DEAD DOG.

INFORMER CAREY KILLED. LONDON, July 30.—Intelligence has just been received here that James Carey, the informer in the Phoenix park murder cases, was shot dead yesterday on the steamship Melrose, while she was between Capetown and Port Elizabeth.

HOW IT HAPPENED.

LONDON, July 30.—Evening.—Later advice about the killing of James Carey, the informer, show that he was shot while landing from the Melrose, at Port Elizabeth, O'Donnell, his slayer, is in custody. The government had taken special and expensive measures to protect Carey.

DOGGED TO DEATH.

It appears O'Donnell dogged Carey from London, and both sailed on the steamer Rinfans Castle. The Daily Telegraph says: The government have little doubt that Carey was followed from Dublin. They believe that the Fenians had taken the most elaborate measures to prevent his escape.

According to the latest accounts the murder occurred at sea. Carey was not killed outright but died shortly after he was shot. O'Donnell surrendered himself quietly, was placed in irons and handed over to the police when the Melrose arrived at Port Elizabeth.

Carey was traveling under the name of Power. His family were with him. Carey embarked at Dartmouth from Madeira. He wrote a letter to the authorities, in which he describes the voyage. He said he had shared in conversation in which the invincibles and the miscreant Carey were especially denounced. He said he intended to forget Ireland ever existed.

JOYFUL NEWS.

DUBLIN, July 30.—The news of James Carey's death caused many exhibitions of delight on the streets here. A large crowd gathered to-night in front of James Carey's late residence, cheering loudly because the informer had been killed. Dublin authorities believe O'Donnell is the man who was implicated three years ago in an attempt to blow up the Mansion House, London, but who escaped with Coleman to New York. The government selected Africa as the safest place for Carey. It is doubtful whether he had been shot before sailing. It was not revealed to the police who took him from Dublin to London.

THE FEELING IN NEW YORK. NEW YORK, July 30.—The feeling in Irish circles in this city aroused by the report of the shooting of Carey, is one of profound hope of its truth. The report has not yet gained full credence and the fact that such a circumstantial account of the arrival and identification of Carey in Montreal had just preceded the announcement that he had been shot, causes many doubts. The story of the shooting, however, seems to grow in favor, as it is argued Carey would never venture to go to Canada, while he would be likely to seek safety in more distant Africa. Every Irishman spoken to expresses the opinion that Carey richly deserved death; that if he is not already killed it is only a question of time when he will be.

NORWICH, Conn., July 29.—Lightning did considerable damage to barns and dwellings in this vicinity last night. A landslide occurred at Danville, covering up the tracks of the Norwich and Worcester roads. The midnight train was thrown from the track and the head brakeman killed. Six cars were smashed.

CONFEDERATE BONDS.

A SYNDICATE FORMED TO SECURE THEIR PAYMENT. CHICAGO, July 30.—A special London cable says a syndicate of the holders of Confederate bonds has been formed to press their payment. They have outlined the campaign, which contemplates financial pressure on the southern states by attempting to close the European money markets to southern enterprise. The syndicate has been a long time in correspondence with prominent men in the south. All without exception agreed that some compromise should be effected at a low figure. The syndicate also entertains some sentimental hopes of assistance on the part of the United States government. They have a project of getting the southern states to petition the United States government to transfer to bondholders the unappropriated balance of the Alabama

THE EARTHQUAKE.

THE RUINS BY DAYLIGHT. NAPLES, July 30.—Prof. Palmieri, director of the meteorological observatory of Mt. Vesuvius, states the disaster on the island of Ischia Saturday night was not due to earthquake but to subsidence of ground. The scenes here occasioned by the accident are heartrending. The hospitals are crowded with wounded survivors and dead, and houses are filled with bodies of victims. The bodies of several Neapolitan ladies have been recovered from the ruins. Five houses remain standing at Cassimicola. Cries for help can be heard coming from the ruins. Sappers are hard at work endeavoring to rescue persons still alive. Boats from the island filled with dead bodies are arriving here constantly. Many women and children are among the victims of the earthquake. Fifty wooden huts are to be built immediately for the accommodation of the survivors. The municipal authorities of Naples are sending relief to the island and doing all in their power to alleviate the distress of the people. Most of the corpses recovered are so discolored by dirt that even after they have been washed the features are unrecognizable. All the members of the police force at Cassimicola were killed. A boat has arrived at Naples containing the bodies of 24 infants. A few persons were found in the ruins alive last evening. Eight hundred troops went to the scene of the disaster last night.

It was feared the entire block would be swept away. At four o'clock, however, the wind shifted and the firemen quickly took advantage of the change and got the flames under control. The fire originated on the top floor. Brennen, Starr & Everett's loss will reach $150,000. The work of rebuilding will begin at once. The fire is the most serious since 1878. Brennen, Starr & Everett estimate their loss at $150,000; insurance $93,000. Fields & Griffiths loss is $85,000; insurance $100,000.

Another fire started this forenoon in the City Hall building, occupied by the Morning Tribune, city officials, telephone and Western Union companies, and burned off a large part of the roof. It was extinguished before the main part of the building was much damaged. The lower floors were flooded with water. Damage probably $8,000. The origin was a hot box in the elevator.

THE LATEST ESTIMATES.

LONDON, July 30.—Of the foreigners staying at Cassimicola only those were saved who were at the theater Saturday night. The survivors state they were obliged to pass Saturday night in absolute darkness, without daring to move, even to assist those calling for help beneath the ruins. There is now little hope that the latter are still alive. According to the latest estimates 3,000 persons perished on the island. Three soldiers searching for the victims were fatally injured to-day. Subscriptions were opened throughout Italy for relief of the distressed.

A FATAL BULLDOGSQUE.

NAPLES, July 30.—The survivors say 37 persons were entombed in a room in Hotel Piccolo. Santinello, Count Scardi, after three hours exhausting labor, rescued 11 persons, but failed to accomplish the principal object of his efforts, the saving of his sister. The play at the theatre Saturday night was a burlesque which opened with a scene representing an earthquake.

THE NUMBER INCREASING.

LONDON, July 30.—It is stated as certain that 4,000 persons perished on the island of Ischia Saturday night. The stench from the dead bodies of human beings and animals is almost unbearable. Several men and women were rescued from the ruins Monday morning. Many more might have been saved if a large force of rescuers had been available earlier. Many persons who were heard groaning during the night were dead before they could be reached and carried to places of safety.

DIGGING IN THE RUINS.

NAPLES, July 30.—Midnight.—Two thousand soldiers are digging in the ruins. They saved one thousand lives up to midnight Sunday and exhumed twenty-four persons alive Monday.

IN MOURNING.

ROME, July 30.—Roman newspapers appeared to-day with mourning borders. Many people injured in Ischia will be crippled for life. The pope subscribed 25,000 lire for the relief of the sufferers.

FIRE IN THE REAR.

LONDON, July 31.—The Standard's correspondent at Hong Kong says the success of the recent sortie of the French in Tonquin, is due to the fact that half the garrison was secretly conveyed in junk, and took the enemy in the rear by surprise. The Chinese still persist in maintaining prohibition of exportation of cattle to the French forces. The French squadron will shortly make a demonstration on the Chinese coast.

IN THE HILL INVESTIGATION.

Coleman requested to be furnished with a copy of the plans for putting heating apparatus in the Chicago building, upon which bids were invited. R. T. Crane, of Chicago, was examined as to the bid by his firm on elevators in the Chicago building. Crane said Hill paid Hale & Co. 100 per cent more for putting elevators in the Chicago custom house than they were paid for elevators for the county buildings in Chicago. Witness did not think the elevator of Hale & Co. possessed any special advantages over others. The committee adjourned till to-morrow, when the witness will be examined in regard to heating apparatus in the Chicago custom house.

Street Car License in Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 30.—Some years ago the city council passed an ordinance assessing a license of $50 per car per annum upon all cars run by street railway companies in this city. The companies fought the validity of the ordinance adverse to them, and the case is now pending in the United States supreme court. To-night the council amended the ordinance fixing the annual fee per car at $25 from April 1, 1878, to August 1, 1883, and at $50 thereafter. This is understood to be a compromise with the companies and that it will be accepted by them. It involves the payment by the companies to the city of about $100,000. The council also passed resolutions of respect to the memory of the late Thos. Hoynes.

THE FALL OF SOLES.

A Great Crash in the Leather Fraternity Down East.

Millions of Liabilities With Very Little Assets.

Boston, July 30.—The Journal says Steadman & Co., shoe dealers of New York, have suspended in connection with Copeland & Co., of which house they are a branch. It is also announced here that W. N. Toller & Co., shoe dealers of Baltimore, have suspended in connection with Copeland's failure, and that Hoffheimer & Son, of Norfolk, Va., are in trouble from the same cause.

The Journal says: F. Shaw & Bros., the largest tanners in the world, made an assignment to-day. Liabilities cannot be given but the total assets is given at $5,000,000. They are creditors to Chas. W. Copeland & Co. to the amount of $200,000. The first news of the embarrassment on the street came from the return of the firm's check from the clearing house, endorsed "no funds" an hour's time after the regular settlement. An hour was asked and granted, but though funds were at hand almost sufficient to cancel immediate obligations, it was found impossible to permanently tide over the embarrassments.

This evening the liabilities were stated by authority of counsel of the firm to be $3,500,000; nominal assets, $5,000,000. The assets include tanneries in northern Maine, New York state, New Brunswick and Quebec, and 1,500,000 acres of land. There were from 10,000 to 15,000 people employed by the concern. The immediate cause of the failure was the suspension of Copeland & Co., who owe Shaw Bros. $400,000. The failure can be traced to the suspension of the Pacific bank a year ago. Shaw Bros. at the time the bank collapsed held a number of shoe and leather firms above water. They have been carrying these firms ever since the Pacific bank failure and firms will probably be heard from within a few days. The creditors of Shaw & Co. are chiefly Maine, Boston and New York banks, and some of the largest hide and leather houses of this city. The tanneries of the firm will be kept running, to work up stock, which is six months behind on orders.

The Herald places the liabilities of Copeland & Co. at $1,000,000, of which about $1,000,000 is direct and the balance contingent indebtedness. Copeland says if he claims which he holds against other parties can be collected the assets will cover the direct liabilities and leave a surplus of about $200,000. The firm hope to arrange matters and continue in business.

CHICAGO, July 30.—Jose Pratt, of the Joseph Pratt company, wholesale boot and shoes of this city, assigned. No schedule was filed. Liabilities estimated at $70,000 to $100,000; assets estimated at $30,000 to $50,000. The firm operates a factory at Michigan City, Ind., with convict labor.

NEW YORK, July 30.—The failure of Charles W. Copeland & Co., shoe manufacturers, Boston, does not seem to have effected the shoe or leather trade in this city to any serious extent. The only failure reported is that of Steadman & Co. The firm is composed of Josiah Steadman and his father-in-law, Charles W. Copeland. It was a branch of the firm of Charles W. Copeland & Co. It is stated the business was transferred several days ago to L. & C. Wise to sell for their benefit.

GRIM DEATH.

The President of the Board of Health Talks.

No Danger of Cholera But Plenty of Other Trouble.

A BEE reporter met Dr. P. S. Leisinger, the city physician, yesterday and in the course of a conversation reference was made to the alarming reports concerning the spread of cholera in the east and its possible advent in our own locality. He expressed the opinion that this city was in no danger whatever, even if a few isolated cases should occur no great alarm need be felt as it is not contagious. A single case of yellow fever brought up the river and terminating fatally here would not necessarily result in a spread of that terrible disease. If Omaha is visited at all by cholera it will be in the spring. The sanitary condition of the city, he says, is better to-day than ever before in its history and the streets and alleys, with very few exceptions are in excellent shape. With the aid of the police officer furnished by the mayor and marshal he had been able to keep things pretty clean, but had he additional force he could do still more to insure the cleanliness of the city but with only one man to carry out the orders of the board of health, thorough care was out of the question.

The doctor went on to say that he had sent in petitions and communications without number to the council ever since his first appointment, but until recently but little attention had been paid them. In fact, the doctor said that until the sewerage system was perfected it would be impossible to keep the city as clean as it should be, and city scavengers should be provided for to remove all slops and garbage from our homes each morning. Too many are careless in this respect, and prefer to run risks rather than go to the trouble and expense of hiring men themselves to do this work.

The city physician said that while things are bad enough and he would like to see steps taken by the council to better it, he did not think the public should be unnecessarily alarmed. The worst condition of things exists along South Omaha creek, where at present so enormous a death rate among young children is reported, due almost wholly to the filthy condition of that locality.

Although during the past week we have had fourteen deaths, it must be considered that Omaha is one of the healthiest cities in the United States and probably in the world. Thirteen of these deaths were of children under two years of age, which, I consider, due largely to the neglect or want of proper care on the part of parents. There was also one of diphtheria. I do not see any occasion for alarm so long as the death rate of the city is not increased, although, of course, by extra precautions the sanitary condition would be improved. Those who do the most talking about the filth of the city, generally do most to keep it in that shape, or direct to better it.

With three officers under his direct charge, the doctor thought he could have his orders properly carried out, and the streets and alleys all put in good condition. People have been warned and notified, and in other cases brought before the police judge, but I cannot be entirely successful with the present small assistance allowed from the police.

Since the reporter saw Dr. Leisinger in the morning there have been reported: five deaths from cholera infantum, one of convulsions and one of Tetanus.

Quite a large number of the friends of Mr. Tom Lately, of the well-known North Omaha grocery firm of Scherb & Lately, assembled at his residence in North Omaha, Saturday evening, the occasion being the twenty-fifth anniversary of Mr. Lately's wedded life. The reception was in the nature of a surprise party. The party arriving about 9 o'clock took Mr. and Mrs. Lately completely by surprise, but all were welcomed by Mr. Lately to his home. The evening was spent in a very enjoyable manner by all present by singing, recitations and dancing till midnight was reached when the party dispersed to their various homes well pleased at the cordial reception they had been given. The following presents were received: A full silver service consisting of a water pitcher, tea pot, coffee pot, sugar bowl, spoon holder, cream pitcher, cake basket, butter dish, pickle castor, and a set of silver tea spoons. The party was under the surveillance of Mr. Wm. Brown of the U. P. mailhouse shops, who engineered it in his usual happy way.
