HOW CIGARS ARE MADE.

Points of Interest to Smokers---Chicago's Manufacture of the Weed Taking Precedence.

Changes in Styles and Shapes—Increasing Consumption of Cigars.

Chicago News.

"Yes, sir, I don't know of a better judge of cigars than Gen. Grant, and his taste is generally for a domestic cigar of a good long filling, Sumatra wrapper, rather green, and of the shape called 'Flor de Fuma.' He bought some of me when here last," and the veteran tobacconist turned patiently toward the cigar case to straighten out for the twentieth time the rows of cigars in boxes. The Daily News reporter was attracted by this talk to ask some questions about cigars and the making, as well as a few casual side talks as to who smoke good cigars, and the demand.

There are many hundred factories of kinds in this city, and they turn out thousands on thousands of all sorts and styles. It is becoming known that Chicago cigars are about as fine as any, and excel imported by reason of their superior make and shades. The flavor, however, is what the home manufacturers cannot catch. The Cubans seem determined to hang onto this trick of highly flavoring their brands. The cigar trade increases daily, and each year less smoking tocacco sees its way into the pipe-bowl. The demand also increases for domestic cigars. It is the make and wrapper that nowadays counts. Good manufacturers use Connecticut leaf for wrappers. It is seldom seen around a cheap cigar. The Sumatra leaf is also largely used for high-priced cigars. It is broader than the Connecticut, and has short stems. The Sumatra leaf is imported in bags of from 160 to 175 pounds, and the duty has lately been nearly doubled on this tobacco. It is nearly 35 cents on the dollar now. A leading firm here made quite a speculation out of it by reason of having stored a large quantity of the leaf before the duty was put on. One thing that generally misleads most smokers is that they imagine a dark colored wrapper to be a strong cigar. There is no naturally dark tobacco. It is dried proper into a brown color; that is natural. Any other colors are sweated or colored with the jute from the stems, and are not natural. The choice of a cigar should be a medium brown, about four and a half inches long, and either "Flor de Fuma" or "Havana Stub" shaped. These are more popular. The best judges pick out these styles of cigars in either domestic or imported brands.

On the question of wrappers there are many opinions. Some think the Sumatra, others the Havana others Connecticut leaf tho best. Wisconsin is now sending out a new style leaf, broad, good stock for wrappers, that is now claiming attention. It is grown from Havana, and apperantly does as well, if not better, than on its native land. Some dealers predict a great future for Wisconsin. Ohio also raises a leaf for wrappers, but it is not used much. It has not attained any great degree of perfection in cultivation. Outside those named there is only the Pennsylvania leaf that is used for wrappers. It is claimed for this product that it is too bitter. The tobacco for filled cigars comes mostly from Connecticut, Wisconsin, Ohio, Cuba, and the West Indies. Havana tobacco is the best, and is used in both long and short fillings. The former is the regular leaf filling, not cut up to any extent, while the leaf that cannot be used for wrappers, and some times the stems cut up fine.

A long filler is, of course, the best, but also the most expensive. The claim is made by old dealers that the New York cigars are playing Harry with the trade. They are regular cheating brands, very highly flavored and poorly made. There is a great howl going up about these cigars. The next thing about a cigar to consider is the binder. This is that holds the cigar together. The Connecticut second or ground-leaf is mostly used for this purpose. It is well calculated for binders, as it is strong and well flavored.

A new feature in the cigar business is the introduction here now of California cigars. They get the leaf elsewhere, and the cigars are made up by Chinese, who become very expert in rolling them. They can't be sold on the Pacific coast, so are sent east, and are frequently rebranded and sold by large dealers as a domestic brand made east. They are cheap and fine looking, and when put on the market at less prices than homemade cigars can be sold cheaper. This new feature has caused a great deal of the bitter war between the cigar maker's union and some of the factories and dealers. They are denominated "coolies." Then there are the "tenement house" cigars made in New York cheaply by the people who live in tenement houses. The stock is measured out and issued to them and the work is done at their filthy rooms. These are some of the things that first class local manufacturers have to contend against to compete in good brands of cigars with imported goods.

As to styles in cigars, the "Flor de Fuma" brand is rough and thick. Some are nearly octagonal in shape and sharp-pointed at the head—this is the part that is bitten off in smoking. The end you light is called the "tuck." The "Londress is a long five-inch cigar that is next in popularity; it tapers from nearly the middle of the cigar to the head The fancy twisted cigars are going out of style, as are also the perfectly round, smooth cigar, except in cheap 5-cent brands. The "Imperial" style is also a favorite in Chicago.

The men who make cigars are as numerous as Micawber's family. There are 1,200 cigar makers in the union here, and fully three hundred that do not belong, making 1,500 in all! They get from $7 to $17 per 1,000 for their labor, with certain extra pay for certain lengths. The lowest price, of course, is for mold work, the higher for hand made cigars. A good handworker turns out from one hundred and fifty to two hundred and fifty cigars a day, and makes very good wages. The union furnishes all manufacturers a scale of prices in printed form, and they must live up to them. Besides the cigar rollers there are strippers, generally girls of from 14 to 20 years of age, who strip the tobacco from the stem and prepare it for the rollers or moulders. Girls are more careful than boys, and not so wasteful. They have a more delicate touch. Then there are packers, who put up the cigars in boxes, and also men that "case" the tobacco. By casing is meant dampening the leaf. One keep an entire force supplied.

Tilden's Dance of Death.

Brother Gardner on Base-Ball.

Detroit Free Press.

The reading of the following epistle created the wildest excitement for two or three minutes:

GREEN ISLAND, N. Y.

Brother Gardner: We would respectfully inquire of you if Samuel Shin and Pickles Smith are open to an engagement as pitcher and catcher with a first-class base-ball club—the McGrogys, of Green Island. Since Sullivan has taken to the base-ball field, we feel that we need one or two celebrities in our club in order to keep to the front. We are willing to pay the two honored members of your club mentioned $5,000 each for the remainder of the season, and if you will allow Brother Pullback to accompany them as supernumerary as it were, we would allow him $4,144.02. In the event of acceptance of this offer, the following members of the McGrogy Base-Ball Club will forward their names and initiation fees to the Lime-Kiln Club for membership: De Fogo Winne, Hi Ti, Focus McCarty. With respect, yours, JOHN MCGROGY

"I accept!" "I accept!" "I accept!" shouted the three members mentioned, as they sprang to their feet, and the movement was the signal for a general ruuning to and fro and shaking hands, and uttering congratulations. The President called for order three times before he secured anything like silence, and when he announced that the offer would not be accepted there were howls and groans, and laments all over the hall.

"Gem'len," he continued, "it war only about fo' weeks ago dat I descended from dis platform and crippled several members fur six months fur wilfully disturbin' de meetin'. If you want dat scene reenacted you had better select a committee to gather up de splinters."

Silence was instantly restored, and he said:

"It am a werry flatterin' offer, but it cannot be accepted. When you h'ar of a member of congress leavin' his situation at de helm of government to run foot races or drive in hoss races at an advanced salary it will be time fur de prominent members of dis club to frow responsibilities aside an' let de kentry run off de track. All of you sot down an' hush up. You can appeal, an' I will forward dat appeal to de supreme court, but at de fust sign of a riot in dis hall I shall walk down among you!"

Reports were received from the janitor, treasurer, librarian, and keeper of the sacred relics, but it was plain that a majority of the members must have time to discover from the set-back received, and Brother Gardner wisely adjourned the meeting with the remark that as each member passed down stairs he would receive a large piece of watermellon expressly prepared for the occasion.

*For years Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham has been contending with the terrible hydra known as Disease, with what surprising success many who were in the serpent's coils will testify. Often has the powerless victim been snatched from the open jaws of the destroyer. In smiting the heads of this monster Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable compound is far more efficacious than the processes of potential and actual cautery.

Wants to Get Out.

Washington Dispatch to Boston Herald.

The postmaster at Cimmaron, N. M., who wants to resign, has been writing some letters to the postmaster-general. In his first letter, which is dated July 4, he says:

"Dear General: Will you be so kind as to add a law to your digest which will allow a postmaster to get out of an office after using all means to get it. Yours, H. V. Ludlum, postmaster (who can't get out.")

Later he writes: "Dear General—I hope you have by this time got over your Fourth of July spree. If so, please look up my resignation and attend to it at once."

He hastens, however, to write another letter, stating that if it is true that his salary has been raised $1,000 he will withdraw his resignation. Two other intermediate letters are as follows:

"Dear Madam—Will you see if my resignation has not been put in among the old maid's things. It was sent a month ago, and must have been mislaid. H. V. Ludlum, postmaster. To the United States Postmistress, room 1953, Washington, D. C."

"My Dear Old Man—I wish you could see if there are enough stamps on the envelope which contained my resignation. If not, put on a few and see that it is attended to at once. Yours in resignation. H. V. Ludlum. Thirty-ninth auditor, Washington. D. C.

Not a Case.

One He Missed.

Detroit Free Press.

"Boy" said an excursoinist to a bootblack at the post office, yesterday, "are there any sights worth seeing near here?"

"Not this afternoon, as I kin think on," was the reply; "but you missed an awful big thing this forenoon."

"What was that?"

"Woman passed a bogus quarter on a man up here. Man passed a green watermelon on the women. Both found it out about the same time, and it was 'nuff to make your blood run cold. She called him a gentleman, and he called her a lady, and she busted the green melon on the floor, and he flung the bogus quarter at a dog, and a horse he ran a way, and two boys had a fight, and the woman cried, and it was the awfullest time we ever saw. The next time you are coming on a 'scursion you'd better telegraph me and see if there's anything big going on."

A GOOD INVESTMENT.—One of our prominent business men said to us the other day: "In the spring my wife got all run down and could not eat anything; passing your store I saw a pile of Hood's Sarsaparilla in the window, and I got a bottle. After she had taken it a week she had a rousing appetite, and did her everything. She took three bottles, and it was the best three dollars I ever invested. C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

POZZONI.

No name is better and more pleasantly and widely known than that of Mr. J. A. Pozzoni. For years he has made himself famous by the elegant perfumes and complexion powder that bears his name, the latter having found its way to the belles of Paris, Germany and London. Everybody admires beauty in ladies. Nothing will do more to produce or enhance it than a use of Mr. Pozzoni's preparations.

The Holy Ghost Flower.

The Botanical Garden in Washington is possessed of a rare curiosity now in the flower kingdom. It is a Holy Ghost or Dove flower in bloom. This curiosity is from Panama, and blooms annually. The plant grows from a bulb about the size of one's hand, and springs up in a single stalk, which is the size of a pipe stem, and resembling in color and general appearance a rush, and is about 3½ feet high. At the top of the stalk, and for a space of probably six inches along its sides near the top, the flowers are located. They are about 2½ inches in circumference, white as snow, appearing rather like white wax or marble, and of the shape of a cup, with the mouth inclined outwardly. In the bottom of this cup-shaded blossom is a most lively specimen of nature's art. It is the dove, which occupies a sitting posture, with wings extending upward and exhibiting the first half of the body. In front of the dove is an alter slighily sprinkled with minutive dots of maroon coloring, and this is the only color about the bloom. At the base of the stalk are shoots or long leaves like the shoots to new corn. There are twenty-five of the cups on the stem, and the fragrance is very delicate and sweet. It is a great curiosity, and is attracting a large number of visitors. The dove specimen is kept in the green house where the air plants are, which are nothing less than blocks of wood, kept in a temperature so hot and damp they are forced to grow and bloom, and these alone are worth seeing.—Washington Hearld.

A Newspaper Editor.

O. M. Holcomb, of Bloomville, Ohio, rises to explain: "Had that terrible disease catarrh, for twenty years; couldn't taste or smell, and hearing was failing. Thomas' Eclectric Oil cured me. These are facts voluntarily given against a former prejudice of patent medicine."

A Favorite Prescription.

Buffalo Express (Rep.)

America is no place for so arrogant a corporation as the Western Union. It belongs in Russia or Turkey, and the United States wants a system of postal telegraph in its stead.

GOOD NEWS FROM TEXAS.

Mr. Thomas A. Howard, of Honey Grove, Fannin county, Texas, under date of April 5, 1883, writes as follows:

"I have been suffering during several years from severe illness, and a general breaking down of my physical system, and have tried the treatment and prescriptions of many doctors far and near, and traveled to the Hot Springs and other mineral springs famous for their remedial qualities, drinking the waters and bathing systematically in their depths, but all to no avail, as I steadily falled in health; and although informed by my physicians that my ailments and weaknesses were the result of kidney disease of a dangerous character, they could give me nothing to cure me. During the past two years my sufferings at times were dreadful and I had the most indescribable pains in the regions about my kidneys, the paroxysms of which were so severe as to render it impossible for me to sleep. While in this deplorable and discouraged condition I was persuaded to try Hunt's Remedy, and after using less than half a bottle my great sufferings and paroxysms of pain were entirely relieved, and I could sleep better and longer than I had in two years before, and although I am now on my third bottle only my improvement is very remarkable, and I regret that I did not know of the wonderful curative powers of Hunt's Remedy before, as it would have saved me years of suffering. I heartily recommend it all afflicted with any kidney disease or disease of the urinary organs."

"HIT MY CASE EXACTLY."

Please allow me to speak in the highest terms of "Hunt's Remedy," for it hit my case exactly. I had kidney and urinary trouble pretty bad. I was recommended Hunt's Remedy. I took one teaspoonful and I felt a decided change at the first dose. I took two bottles, and have felt like a new man ever since. Please receive the sincere thanks of myself for the benefits which I sought vainly for and found only in Hunt's Remedy.

I will cheerfully give this same opinion of Hunt's Remedy to any one who wishes it, by addressing

IMPROVED BUTTER COLOR

A NEW DISCOVERY.

For several years we have furnished the Dairymen of America with an excellent artificial color for butter; so meritorious that it met with great success everywhere receiving the highest and only prizes at both International Dairy Fairs.

But by patient and scientific chemical research we have improved in several points, and now offer this new color as the best in the world.

It Will Not Color the Buttermilk. It Will Not Turn Rancid. It is the Strongest, Brightest and Cheapest Color Made.

And, while prepared in oil, is so compounded that it is impossible for it to become rancid and spoil the butter.

BEWARE of all imitations, and of all other oil colors, for they are liable to become rancid and spoil the butter.

If you cannot get the "improved" write us to know where and how to get it without extra expense. (46)

HEAR THE WITNESSES.

SAVED FROM A HORRIBLE DEATH.

Up to May last I had spent at least five hundred dollars for treatment by many of the best medical men, without any benefit. I suffered excruciatingly, and all my best friends advised me that the icy hand of death was fast approaching. I caught at S. S. S. like a drowning man at a straw. After taking two bottles I could feel a change for the better. The sores began to discharge freely and the Rheumatism to abate. When I had taken six bottles every sore had healed and my skin began to assume a natural appearance. I persisted until I had taken twelve bottles, large size, and THERE IS NOT A SYMPTOM OF THE DISEASE REMAINING, and I feel as well as I ever did. I have gained twenty-one pounds in flesh, and my friends wonder at my improved condition. I have recommended it many, and in every instance with complete success. I believe that S. S. S. has saved me from a horrible death.

C. H. SMILEY,
