

THE DAILY BEE.

OMAHA.

Wednesday Morning, August 1.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The funeral of Mrs. C. A. Jackson will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from her late residence on Seward street.

A well known merchant of this city, and a Y. M. C. A. leader, has hit upon an excellent expedient for removing him to yettarth too long with the daughters of the household.

A certain young business man called on one of the girls the other night, and when a large section of the night had worn away and the family longed for rest, the father entered and paralyzed the young man by asking him to lead in prayer.

The young man was forced to decline. He felt that he was called elsewhere, and soon withdrew. It was another instance of moving power by prayer.

The Omaha stockyards have been reopened for business.

More lumber has been sold and used in Omaha than for any previous building season in its history.

The first annual fair of the Sary county agricultural society takes place at Papillion September 26, 27, 28, and 29.

The laying of the corner stone of the new Lutheran church, corner of Harney and Sixteenth has been postponed until next Sunday evening.

The Rosette Enterprise will give its fifth annual celebration on the 1st of August, Wednesday next, at Hassell's park. Hoffman's brass band is engaged.

Married--At the Eighteenth Street M. E. parsonage, July 31, 1883, by Rev. J. W. Shank, Mr. W. H. Hogle, of Omaha, and Miss Mary Kucera, of Weston, Neb.

Mrs. M. C. Kilder, wife of the Pacific express company's agent at Grand Island died of consumption after a long illness last Friday night. Both Mr. and Mrs. Kilder formerly lived in Omaha, and are well known here.

Dr. P. S. Linsenring, the city physician, corrects our statement that he is President of the Board of Health. He is not even a member of the Board but is ex-officio Secretary of the body, which is composed of the Mayor, Marshal and President of the city council, if we are not mistaken.

Two suits were commenced in the district court last week against Michael Donovan, the proprietor of the Creighton house, one by Anna Bernstein and one by Rachel Burnstein, each claiming ten thousand dollars damages for slander. Smythe & Bennett are the attorneys for the plaintiffs.

Another precedent has been added to the list in Douglas county, to be known as "Waterloo" precinct. Platte Valley precinct, which lies in the northwest part, has always been a very large one, and voters were put to great trouble and inconvenience at times in reaching the polling places. Accordingly Valley has been divided as follows: Commencing at the river on the half section line, running west one-half mile, south one-half mile and west to the Platte river. All south of that line will be Waterloo precinct, and all north will still be Valley precinct, which will be about equal in size.

The general offices of the Union Pacific, in their building on the corner of Ninth and Farnam, have become so crowded with the immense amount of work that it has become necessary to change the offices about and some of them have been moved to other parts of the city. D. O. Clark, who formerly occupied the northwest corner, has removed to Strang's building, with a local office on Fifteenth street. M. H. Goble, purchasing agent, occupies the room occupied by Mr. Clark. The office formerly occupied by Mr. Newman, stock agent, has been taken possession of by A. S. VanKuren, auditor of agents accounts. Charles Neelham moves to the upper story with his force of men, and it is rumored that P. J. Nichols will occupy the place vacated by him.

Attention of those who want to become borrowers of money on real estate and become members of the Loan and Building association, is called to the following order of the board of directors: "Whereas the profits of the association amount to over 75 cents per share, it is ordered that from now and until further notice the members shall pay a premium of 75 cents on each share bought after August 1st." Those who want to join the association should do so at once because they will save money. The office is open every evening between five and six o'clock and Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays evening between 7 and 8 o'clock at 213 South Fourteenth street. Those who will subscribe before the 1st of August, will pay 25 cents initiation fee on each share and monthly dues for May, June and July. After the 1st of August there will be a premium of 75 cents on each share.

BEHIND THE BARS.

Shatto, the Murderer, Caged at Last.

Sheriff Dave Miller returned from St. Paul, Minn., yesterday with Shaers, alias Shatto, who shot and killed Martin Knight, near the government corral in this city, on the morning of July 5th and who was captured after a long and well conducted chase by Sheriff Miller, at the little town of Rosemount, Minn.

The prisoner was kept at St. Paul until a requisition could be obtained and on his arrival yesterday morning was at once lodged in the county jail. A reporter called upon him but he refused to talk and as the details of the capture have already been published there is little more to say on the subject. He will come up for trial at the October term of the district court.

A true assistant to nature in restoring the system to perfect health, is Brown's Iron Bitters.

LOCAL LEGISLATORS.

A Lively Meeting of the City Council Last Night.

Interesting Debate on the Question of City Printing.

Miscellaneous Matters of Note Concerning a Little of Everything.

A regular meeting of the city council was held last evening at which all the members were present.

The reading of the journal was dispensed with.

From the city engineer: The estimated cost of resetting gutters on Tenth street south of the U. P. R. R., is $240, for the street interventions. Referred.

There was considerable discussion of a humorous nature and the resolution was finally referred to the committee on finance.

Mr. Redfield then offered a resolution that each member of the city council, be instructed to employ a private secretary, at a salary not to exceed $75 per month, and that the contracts be awarded to the highest bidder. Tabled.

The committee on rules, forms and printing reported in favor of awarding the contract of printing the legal notices of the city to the OMAHA EVENING BEE.

And that for printing the local notices and registration lists to The Daily Union.

And that of blanks, blank books and forms to Henry Gibson.

Councilman Anderson was called upon to put the figures of the various bids on the blackboard, and this occupied some time.

Mr. Behm moved that the blackboard be placed on file. (Laughter.)

Mr. Hassell said that "to the ordinary mind this statement was as clear as mud." (Laughter.)

Mr. Hassell proceeded to say that last year the contract for the city printing was let to the highest bidder, and that the charges on local advertising were outrageously inconsistent, citing examples which were evidently false. He favored giving the whole of the city printing to The Union.

Mr. Dunham said that the council did come near giving the printing to the lowest bidder and it was well they did not, as "The Telegram" died in less than five months afterward. They got the most for their money, although they did not award the printing to the lowest bidder.

Hassell: "How?" Dunham: "Why, we got double the circulation we could have had in any other quarter."

Hassell: "Now, that is exactly what I want to get at, this matter of circulation." He claimed that the Union now had the largest circulation of any paper in the city.

Mr. Redfield said The Union was only bidding for one part of the advertising, the local, and that it would be an absolute change to the boys to give them the legal "ads," and that if the councilman from the Second (Hassell) didn't like the other paper, he could not do them more harm than by giving them the legal "ads."

Mr. Anderson moved that the report be referred back to the committee, and that Messrs. Hassell and Behm be added to that committee. This motion was adopted.

On water works and sewerage, granting asking for drainage of St. Joseph's hospital and instructing the board of public works to advertise for bids for doing the work. The county commissioners will pay half the cost. Adopted.

ORDINANCES. An ordinance locating certain additional water hydrants in the city of Omaha was read twice and several amendments made and the ordinance was then passed.

An ordinance creating sewer district No. 10 in the city of Omaha was introduced, read twice and referred to committee.

A motion to adjourn was lost.

An ordinance ordering the construction of a sewer in sewer district No. 10, which is merely to accommodate the residents on a couple of blocks on upper Farnam street, was introduced, but subsequently withdrawn.

The official bond of James Knight as policeman was approved.

An ordinance ordering certain grading on St. Mary's avenue, came up and was referred.

The council adjourned.

DASH AND DOT.

The Telegraphers' Calico Ball--Mirth and Music at Crouse's Hall Last Evening.

The calico hop, given by the Omaha Brotherhood of Telegraphers, at Crouse's hall last evening for the striking operators, was a complete success both socially and financially.

During the entire day the affair was the chief topic of conversation in all parts of the city. Early in the evening handsomely attired ladies, with their male escorts, arrived at the hall, and in a short time several hundred couples were whirling away to the strains of Max Meyer's orchestra.

While the weather was quite warm it did not interfere with the enjoyment in the least. Every one came for a good time, and judging from appearances all succeeded.

A large number of prominent visitors were present, including about twenty or thirty from Council Bluffs. During the intermission supper was served by Callan, the well known caterer.

The affair was in charge of the following committees, to whom much credit is due:

RECEPTION--W. O. Eastlake, J. B. Twiford, A. E. Wernal, W. O. Tremaine, R. J. G. Conner, W. McElroy, W. O. Mooney, George Imhof.

FLOOR--T. W. Kane, E. H. Farrar, R. F. Wik, George W. Arbuthnot, W. H. Hayes, W. S. Howell, H. B. Davis, W. J. Rutland.

Upwards of 500 tickets were disposed of, which will net a handsome sum.

A Card from Generals Beauregard and Early.

A publication headed, "Are the Louisiana Lottery drawings fair?" was originally appeared in several Northern and Western papers as an advertisement, by a hostile lottery company, and as we believe, has been copied into a number of other papers, doubtless as an advertisement also.

The charges, insinuations, and innuendoes contained in said publication are false in every respect, so far as they affect the fairness of the drawings of the Louisiana Lottery, or the integrity of the acts of the Lottery Company.

When the undersigned had charge only of the semi-annual drawings, they counted the tubes containing the numbers previous to each of those drawings to be certain that all were put in the wheel. Since they have had charge of the monthly drawings also, the wheel has been under their exclusive control, and after each drawing they have restored all the drawn numbers to the wheel, locked it in such a manner as to render it impossible for the numbers to be reached or interfered with, without their knowledge. They have thus been always certain that all the numbers were in the wheel at each drawing, and they alone are responsible for the integrity of the drawings.

The suggestion that each ticket holder, on the day of or before each drawing, should be allowed to put his number and see it put in the wheel, is too absurd to deceive anyone who ever witnessed a single number drawing, and any lottery company which resorts to any such trick proves itself a fraud.

The intimation that persons have been paid to allow their names to be published as the winners of prizes in this Lottery is also false and without the slightest foundation in fact. Millions of dollars have been paid out by the Company in prizes through the banks and express agencies, as can be ascertained from the bank officers in New Orleans, and the express agents in New York, Washington City, and in this city, as well as from the winners of the prizes, whose names have been given to the public.

Signed, G. T. BEAUREGARD, Gen'l. New Orleans, July 12th, 1883.

ROWDISM.

A Complaint That is Common all Over the City.

And One That it Needs More Force to Quell.

"Something ought to be done," said a resident of Cumine street to reporter of the Bee yesterday, "to suppress the gang of loafers and outlaws who infest our neighborhood both day and night."

"It seems to have been growing worse the past month. All the way from the brewery on 23rd to the saloons on 16th, common decency and good order are outraged by young and old men, who commence their debauchery before dark, and keep it up until very late at night. Neighbors, and particularly the business men, are afraid to inform on them, because such a course would actually be dangerous to them personally. One policeman is powerless to prevent the mischief of even the young boys, who are known to congregate in the vicinity nightly, and an older member of the gang to the nearest saloon for beer, and then get drunk together with the usual result."

Monday night before dark a free-for-all fight occurred at the above named brewery, where one or two men were pounded up quite seriously and taken home. The remaining portion of the gang then went to Hill's place and got to fighting and became so hilarious that the saloon was closed. Their loud, foul-mouthed talk, disturbed everyone within a block's distance, and caused many passing ladies to turn back and find another street.

In one case, a mother was heard imploring with her husband and son to return with her, and declared, in a heart-broken voice, that she would not return without them. They were standing near a saloon then, but finally moved on.

Sunday night the gang of young boys above alluded to got on a drunk and broke in the front plate glass in the store of Mr. Z. Stevens, by throwing stones and other articles, and then went down to the saloon of a Mr. Downey and made themselves obnoxious in many ways than one, particularly the throwing of mud balls at the doors and windows of the hall.

Nobody can tell, however, just how much devilry this gang of rowdies are doing or will do, and the city authorities will soon find that if they do not take some action toward their utter suppression, the citizens will take the matter in their own hands.

RAILWAY MATTERS.

Work on the Cedar County Line--A New Superintendent, Etc.

An interesting item for Nebraska people generally will be the following from the Sioux City Journal of the 29th inst.:

THE CEDAR COUNTY LINE. The St. Paul shops in this city are fitting up eleven boarding cars for use on the Cedar county line. These are built for the Sioux City & Nebraska railroad, the name under which the Cedar county line is built. When completed the line will, of course, be turned over to the St. Paul, and operated by that company.

Track laying is to begin early this week. Most of the bridge material has already crossed to the Nebraska side, as has a good part of the iron and ties. The track layers, who will work from Wakefield, have just finished the company's track to Washburn, on Lake Superior.

THE NEW NEBRASKA SUPERINTENDENT. James McCabe, the gentleman who will on August 1st, take the superintendency of the Nebraska division of the St. Paul road, was in the city yesterday on his way home from a trip over the division.

Mr. McCabe, in a talk with a reporter, spoke highly of the condition in which he found the division, and said that he had never before seen so fine a country, a healthier and more beautiful one, than the northeast Nebraska. He is a short, thick set man, with a full blond beard and a quick turn of the eye, is thoroughly at home on all railroad subjects and has the reputation of being a good executive officer.

PRESIDENT ARTHUR. What Will Omaha do to Receive Him in Good Style.

President Arthur, in company with General Sheridan and party, is now on his way west as will be seen by our dispatches elsewhere and was announced to arrive in Omaha August 3rd, which will be on Friday next. It was also telegraphed that he would leave Rawlins August 5th.

A Bee reporter called on Gen'l. O. O. Howard yesterday to ascertain if any definite advice had been received as to the date of the arrival of the distinguished visitor, but General Howard stated he had no information on the subject.

In reply to the question as to whether any reception would be given President Arthur at Omaha, or whether he would stop over at all, the general replied that the president might stop over a short time to see the city, and if he should visit the city he would be received with the honors due his high rank. It is his invitation to visit the city which would be given only by Major Chase and he did not know what that official had done in the matter.

It would appear from the inquiries of the reporter that no steps have been taken to inquire if it would give pleasure to the president to stop over in this city, and no steps have been taken so far as known to give him any reception whatever. Some one should certainly move in the matter and at once.

A SURPRISED PARTY.

A Midnight Visitor Who Paralyzed His Host.

A Novel Way of Routing the Enemy.

A farmer living about two miles north of Florence, who occupies a room by himself on the first floor of his residence and is in the habit of sleeping with the outer door open during the hot nights, was in town yesterday and contracted with one of our gun stores for a complete arsenal, a bottle of bed bug poison and a box of rough on rats.

It seems that one night last week when the hands of the family time piece pointed to the witching hour of twelve, when burglars are wont to stalk forth and tired lovers begin to think of giving the front gate a rest, the slumbering titer of the soil was suddenly called from the land of dreams by an unusual noise in his bed-chamber. He sat bolt upright and after thanking his stars that he had deposited his money the day before, he looked around and off the dim, uncertain twilight light saw standing in the doorway--not a tall, masked burglar with blood in his eyes, a wear in his voice and a sand-bag in his hand, but a full grown grey wolf with glaring eyeballs and glittering teeth.

The victim was unprepared for this, and would much rather have been confronted by a two-legged intruder, with whom he could have reasoned, played editor or come the small-pox dodge. While eyeing the enemy and trying to call to mind all the wonderful escapes he had read when a boy, he was suddenly convulsed with a full-grown sneeze, which was followed by another and another. After this attack had subsided he wiped the tears from his eyes, and on looking around discovered that he was the sole occupant of the room. On looking out at the window he saw his visitor, which had now been joined by another wolf, standing about twenty feet from the house looking over their shoulders at the open door with a hungry disappointed look that was heart-rending. In a few minutes they trotted off and have not returned since. They were fully as large as a good sized Newfound dog and have been seen several times this summer in that vicinity.

Smith. A correspondent of THE BEE, under the nomme de plume of "Smitten" writes us as follows:

As there are thousands in my fix and as misery loves company, perhaps were you to publish this, the knowledge of my misfortune would cause them the most intense gratification:

FAREWELL. Deep down within my inmost soul, Beyond the reach of my control, Lies buried my lost love: There hidden from all human eyes It rests--for 'twas never dies Till called to heaven above.

I shall travel like the Wandering Jew, Lend him my affection prove, Unlike him, sometime die; But Josie's free and winsome face, And Josie's free and winsome face Will always secun near by.

The torture will be that I loved, And would have my affection proved, But met with no return; And so I am forever doomed to roam With my poor heart without a home, Because she did me spurn.
