

THE DAILY BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Tuesday Morning, August 7.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: By Carrier - 20 cents per week; By Mail - $10.00 per year.

OFFICE: o. 7 Pearl Street, Near Broadway.

MINOR MENTION.

See Joseph Reiter's fall goods. Cheap railroad tickets at Bushnell's.

Deputy Marshal White is on the sick list.

The Supreme court will meet here September 17.

There are now 250 teachers in attendance at the normal institute.

George O. Bannon was yesterday found guilty of assault and assessed $5 and costs.

Wilson, the shoemaker, was yesterday fined $25 for drunkenness, but judgment suspended during good behavior.

John W. Bolton and Martha Jane Shade, the former of Boschoel, Wis., and the latter of Des Moines, have received permit to wed.

Delia Robinson is to be heard in police court this morning as to why she hit another colored lady over the head with a beer glass.

The interior of the First national bank is being frescoed and adorned in fine shape, Mr. Gullman, of Chicago, being the artist in charge.

The board of trade met last evening, but no business was transacted for want of a quorum. The board adjourned till next Monday evening.

The cases of the expressmen are continued until Wednesday morning. In the meantime other informations for violation of the new ordinance have been filed.

City Clerk Troutman reports the cash receipts of his office for July as $1,403.85. This month will be several times that amount, as the quarterly saloon licenses are coming in.

R. N. Whittlesey, son of the old man, has taken his father's place as news-gatherer for the Globe, and promises to throw even more life in its columns than the veteran colonel has.

A man named Roberts was arrested last night on the charge of obtaining $12 on false pretenses, from A. Grattan. Roberts collected the money on a life insurance policy, claiming to be the agent.

Emmett Farmer, a little boy, was brought into court yesterday for indecent conduct toward another little boy. He was given a severe lecture, and sent away with a fine hanging over his head ready to drop in a minute, if he does not reform.

Ada Williamson thinks she ought to be divorced from Charles Williamson, and so prays the circuit court. They were married in Kansas City on the Fourth of July, 1880, and she claims that he went off and left her in less than a year after that.

Elizabeth Mason now wants a legal release from Charles H. Mason, whom she married in Atlantic on New Year's day, 1870. She claims that he has been altogether too intimate with Bella Harris, and that he has got also in the habit of tarrying too long at the cup.

The expressmen mean war to the bitter end. One said yesterday that $500 would be spent in testing the question of license, and carrying it to the supreme court if necessary. They say all they ask is protection, by insisting on all teams taking out a license. Then they will pay.

The machinery at the new McClurg cracker factory was started up yesterday, and it is expected that the first batch of crackers will be turned out to-day or to-morrow. The preliminary arrangements made indicate that in quality and quantity the goods will be a credit to Council Bluffs.

Mr. E. C. Brown, one of Harle & McKure's efficient clerks, met with an accident yesterday that came near marring his beauty. While getting some muriatic acid for a customer he accidentally got some on his face, but by a prompt application of antidote prevented any great trouble.

Complaint is made of the uproar kept up all night among some of the colored population housed on North Main street. Some of the neighbors who complain of the place dislike the information, because of the fear the revenge will be wreaked on them. The officers who are paid for such work can easily straighten the matter out, however.

There was quite a row of plain drunks in the police court yesterday morning. Among them were Robert Morrow, fined $7.50 cash. Tom Jefferson, same amount, gave an order on the water works to pay whisky bill. Joseph Brennan, sent to work out his $7.50. Joseph Sutton, took his out in jail. Mike Murphy came down with the cash. Theo. Ryor, ditto.

The Young Men's Democratic club had its organization completed by the election of the following officers: President, W. H. Ware; vice-president, E. A. Troutman; secretary, J. C. Beem; treasurer, J. Hendricks. Executive committee, W. H. Ware, chairman; first ward, Robert Rain; second ward, J. W. Templeton; third ward, Jos. Bergman; fourth ward, J. J. Franey.

The lectures given by Rev. Mr. Hubbs last evening were very unique, and very interesting as well. He exhibited by a large painting of the "Black Valley Railroad" the evils of intemperance, and impressed upon the minds of all a lesson which they will not soon forget. His thrilling powers are fine, his anecdotes thrilling, and as a speaker he is at times eloquent. It was in fact one of the best lectures in that line ever given here.

Chief Field yesterday received from Ohio the description of four fellows wanted there for the murder of a woman. Three of them correspond closely with three of the gang of tramps lately arrested here, and with whom the police had such a fight. There is no doubt in the chief's mind but what they are the same. Had they been held thirty days for vagrancy, as they ought to have been, they would then have stood a good show for going back to Ohio. As it is, they have flown.

The city council may well be termed a "congressional kindergarten." For a democratic body, it follows pretty clearly the action of congress in regard to back pay. In voting themselves an additional salary of $25 a month, they made it date back as well as a date ahead, and increased the salary of the president, (the mayor) at the same time. Some relented and paid back the other amount, others have drawn it and breathe defiance, while others are waiting, not knowing what to do. The "congressional kindergarten" is surely developing miniature statesmen.

The Bee still gives warning that unless the fire alarm system is perfected it is liable to fail the department just when it is most needed. In case of a big blaze it may come in all right, but it may not, if not, and the department is sent off on a wild goose chase, as was lately the case, and come moping back, with the fires out of the steamers, and finds a big fire already under great headway, then what? Where will the amount needed for getting a perfect fire alarm stand in comparison with the loss which may ensue? No time should be wasted in attending to the matter, if the council thinks it can spend $2,100 extra for the extra services of the mayor and aldermen, they should surely not hesitate at investing an equal amount in getting a fire alarm system of some sort that can be depended upon.

The other evening a search warrant was placed in Officer Leonard's hands directing him to search what is known as Ben Mark's gambling establishment, and "seize all gambling devices in said building, and bring them into court to be dealt with according to law." It is a notorious fact that the said devices were found and seized, but they apparently were not held, the common report being that the mayor himself called the officer off. Some curiosity has been felt as to what sort of a return the officer will make. Investigation shows that on the back of the search warrant appears, "This warrant came into my hands July 31, 1883, and was duly served. No property taken, S. Leonard." The return is a little unusual, if it had been "no property found," it might have passed muster, but there is an air of mystery about this return of "no property taken," and the evasion of the proper question whether any property was found or not, and if found, why it was not seized as directed in the writ, if the return was made to give the actual history of the transaction, it would be still more interesting.

J. W. Roddefer having been elected secretary and treasurer of the Mercantile Loan, Trust and Improvement company of Council Bluffs, has accepted the position and assumed the management of the company's business. The following named persons are on the board of directors: T. A. Kirkland, C. S. Lefferts, J. W. Roddefer, I. A. Miller, E. L. Shugart, T. A. Kirkland, President.

TEMPLE OF MASONRY.

Plans Submitted for the Proposed New Structure of Beauty.

Yesterday afternoon the various plans for the proposed masonic temple were submitted to the trustees at a meeting held in J. W. Roddefer's office. The plans were all fine, and if any one of them was followed out, this city would be sure of having a building which would not only do credit to the order, but to the city as a whole.

Mr. S. E. Waxson had a very fine looking building on paper. The entrance is of the Gothic style, while the front, as a whole, is a blending of different styles, the whole presenting a fine appearance.

Two Omaha architects submitted plans. Henry Voss, with whose make Council Bluffs is already familiar, showed up a solid, plain looking building, decidedly modern, and with little of the ancient ornamentations.

W. R. McPherson's plan was for a sort of Queen Anne style of building, very handsome.

T. D. Allen, of Lincoln, presented the plan for a very elaborate and costly building, the front supported by Corinthian pillars, and the structure surmounted by two towers. It was drawn for the temple at Lincoln.

J. C. Swepe, of Princeton, Ill., presented a plan for a modern building, which was very pleasing on paper.

The trustees have been thinking of erecting a building with 105 feet frontage and 100 feet depth. The main building, with a 60 feet front, being three stories, the rest two stories. Mr. Maxon's plan is for three stories throughout, and the building will probably be made that height. It certainly will make a great improvement in the looks.

The trustees could not decide very well upon a plan, as the figures were not very definite, and the cost of such a building is naturally one of the chief things in the calculation. Estimates of cost will be made between now and this evening, when the trustees will meet again to consider the matter further.

CITY COUNCIL.

The Marshal Charged with Permitting the Gambling Houses to Run.

Articles of Impeachment to be Prepared-Other Business.

The regular meeting of the city council was held last night, all present except Alderman McMahon.

The report of the city treasurer was presented, showing that the general fund was overdrawn to the amount of $1,787. Cash in police fund, $3,073; total cash in treasury, $8,343.

The council decided to take a drive about the city and note what improvements on streets and sidewalks are necessary.

The contracts to fill Broadway from Center to Indian creek, was awarded to A. F. Boyle at 23c per yard, and the filling of Third avenue at 35c.

Five hundred dollars was transferred from the police fund to the general fund.

Alderman Wood, chairman of the police committee, called attention to the fact that the gambling houses were again running, notwithstanding the orders of the council to the marshal to close them. He offered a resolution that articles of impeachment against the city marshal for unlawfully and knowingly neglecting and refusing to carry out the orders of the council in regard to closing the gambling houses, be prepared by the police committee. The motion was unanimously carried.

No action was taken by the council in regard to the back-pay grab, and the members will continue to draw their $25 extra for committee meetings.

Adjourned.

A GIVE AWAY.

The Youthful Horsechief Captured in Missouri, Confesses.

Fred Ulen, who was lately captured in Missouri and brought back here on a charge of stealing a valuable horse from W. H. Sanders, of Knox township, has waived examination, and now lies in jail here awaiting the action of the grand jury.

He has made a statement of the whole affair, which is to the effect that he is only sixteen years of age, and is a native of Missouri. His father and mother live in western Kansas, where his father owns a farm of 100 acres.

A man named Tom Howard came through with him the night he took the horse, and said he would meet him in St. Joe, on the following Saturday. He got acquainted with this man in the eastern part of the state, and had known him about seven months.

Howard was a farm hand. They came from Sioux City via Council Bluffs. Howard had been working on a farm near Sioux City, and was a man who drank some and gambled. He had seen his gambler in Sioux City. From Avoca Howard had went east and he had not seen him since. The night that young Ulen stole Mr. Sanders' horse he entered two other stables. When asked why out of fourteen horses he could pick the best one in the dark, he replied he was a good judge of horses, and that by feeling of them, and especially of their legs, he decided the one he had was the best of the lot, and so it proved. The young fellow says he has worked out ever since he was twelve years old, and that he has not heard from his father or mother for the past five months.

J. A. Ross has opened at 537 Broadway a very neat restaurant, which he has christened "The Clifton." He sets a tempting table, and his prices are certainly reasonable.
