A bold robbery on a small scale was perpetrated on a Broadway pawnbroker's shop, near the new opera house. A stran-ger entered the place late in the evening, and wanted to see some revolvers. He finally selected two, and wanted the pawnbroker to load them. He refused, whereupon the strange customer took some shells out of his own pocket, placed two in the chamber of each revolver, and coolly remarked, "Now, if you want your pay, come out in the street, and I'll give it to you." Some of those who visited Denver on the late excursion investigated the system of fire alarms there, and returned home convinced that Council Bluffs could improve greatly in that respect. It is to be hoped that they will be able to convince others that improvement is necessary here. Two things are greatly needed. One is that the alarm shall be so arranged that the bell will tap the number of the box from which an alarm is sent in, so that the public may be speedily informed of the location of the fire. The other and more essential thing is that new boxes be provided, so as to prevent the present liability of a blundering alarm, sending the department off on some wild chase in the wrong direction.

THE COMING FAIR.

Another Added Attraction to Call Out the Boss Girl of Western Iowa.

In addition to the other attractions offered for the coming fair, September 10 to 14, is to be the presentation of a sewing machine to "the boss girl" of western Iowa. The doctors and editors are to be the judges, and on their vote is to depend the giving of the honor and the machine. The presentation is to be made by Bill Nye, the funny man of The Laramie Boomerang, and the event will be one of the most interesting of the fair. It is expected that there will be a varied list vigorously this week.
