The Capitol Removal Business Knecked Into a Cocked Hat by the Courts of Dakota.

Judge Edgerton Bounces the Commissioners as an Illegal Body, with Costs.

Yankton Jubilates on Securing a Hard Fought Victory.

YANKTON, D. T., September 16.—The the quo warranto case against the Capital Commissioners was made public to-day. Judge Edgerton, of the District Court, after affirming his jurisdiction in the premises, recites the legal service upon each of the defendants and their due appearance and answer to the complainant, shrough their authorized attorneys: "That the case was regularly called for trial at the July (1883) term, whereupon plaintiff, by its attorneys, duly moved for judgment on said pleadings, and by consent of said parties in open court, both of said motions were thereupon tried together." said office of commissioner mentioned in said act, in the complaint described, and from all franchises and privileges named, enumerated and included therein; that plaintiff have and recover of defendants the sum of - dollars' costs allowed

The effect of the decision is to keep the capital at Yankton unless the Supreme Court should otherwise order. It will take three of the four justices of the Supreme Court to reverse District Judge Egerton's decision. Therefore the ques tion is looked upon here as practically settled in favor of Yankton.

BISMARCK'S MERRIMENT.

BISMARCK, D. T., September 16.—The decision of Judge Edgerton, ousting the Capital Commission, causes more merri-ment than fear here, pending the decision of the Supreme Court of the Territory and of the United States Supreme Court, where the capital removal bill will surely be taken by one side or the other. The Commissioners will continue to act and have full control. This fact leaves Bismarck quiet and confident that the act of the Legislature repealing that chapter of the political code which fixed the seat of government permanently at Yankton will finally be sustained. The contractors of the capitol building called on the Commissioners to day and aschurch, West Wilton, Saratoga county, sured them that they were ready to go on was arrested to-day as principal, and Dr. with the work, which will be pushed to James A. CAPITAL NOTES. THE SHENANDOAH BATTLEFIELDS.

Washington, September 16 .- A company of veterans of Sheridan's old command, from Massachusetts and New Hampshire, are in Washington on their way to his old battlefields in the Shenandoah valley. They leave to-morrow for Harper's Ferry, where they hold the first camp-fire. From there they go to Win-chester and other battlefields. Some Confederates who took part in the battles have places to meet the Union veterans and visit the scenes of former struggles with them. One object of visiting the scenes is to locate the positions of troops Sharon recognized Miss Hill as his wife. for the purpose of securing accuracy in The civil marriage contract is also pubmaps. RMIGRATION STATISTICS.

The report of the Commissioners of Emigration for the State of New York, show that 363,374 emigrants landed at the port of New York from August 3rd. 1882, to June 30th, 1883, inclusive. The largest number landed in any one month was 69,593 in May, 1883, and the smallest 8,343 in January of the same year. THE PEVER AT PENSACOLA.

A man from the Niobrara, with four children, sold one of them to a stranger at Columbus, for $20. The Democrat describes the parting as most affecting. "The child again and again kissed his brothers and sisters and bid them good by, and was put into the stranger's wagon, and started off, but so grieved and pained was his little heart, over being thus ruthlessly torn from those he loved, that after going a short distance, he jumped out of thus ruthlessly torn from those he loved, that after going a short distance, he jumped out of the wagon, went back and again begged not to be sent with strangers. But he was taken back and put into the wagon. So touching was this inhuman circumstance, that the wife of the purchaser went bitterly."

The owners of several country papers are now enjoying the "fat of the land" in the vegetable line. They offer subscription prizes for the best melon, bunches of grapes, froits and other articles, devour the articles on the spot and postpone the award till the crop is exhausted. It is an old scheme, a sort of free lunch "without money and without price."

The skeleton of a women, discovered on a sandbar in the Platte river, three miles west of North Bend, the 30th of Angust last, was fully identified last week as the remains of Mrs. Margaretta Longmann, who was drowned in the Platte last May, while she was trying to rescue a man from she fate that overtoek her.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Seymour, of York, celebrated their silver wedding on the 7th. A large number of relatives, friends and neigh. CHICAGO, September 16.—The conse-cration of Rev. Father Patrick Riordan. were conducted in Latin and occupied over two hours. The music in connection therewith was rendered by an orchestra of 200 pieces and a chorus of 60 selected voices. The sermon was delivered by Bishop J. L. Spalding, of Peoris. His theme was the command, "Go ye therefore and teach all nations." He dwelt on the foolishness of such a command and rashness of any attempt to execute it unless it came from God. He dwelt upon the apostolic succession into which the candidate was being inducted and the great work before him in California for which he was so well fitted by nature and training, and concluded by counseling him in his work to make a special fight against the evils consequent on intemperance.

After the ceremonies of consecration,
Bishop Riordan assumed the mitre and passed through the church aisles, bestowing his blessing upon the parishioners, from whom he is about to separate. from whom he is about to separate. Among the prelates who took part in the care monies were Very Rev. Dean Blandown, though a week has passed since the Columbus club got away with their "wads." The Wahoo Times says: "Had the Keystones hon orably won the game, and not stolen it throo his dishonorable umpiring, there would nave been no "kicking," but Wahoo men don't like to be robbed in that sort of style. If Columbus has money that says that the Keystones, as they have played, can down the Wahoos with fair umpiring, on grounds in Omaha, let them put up and meet the boys on neutral grounds. All the boys ask is fair play and no favors."
