another beautiful collar for this last act of intelligence. He really showed more sense than the man who leaves a team unhitched. Neither of the horses were injured by the run.

HE WOULDN'T BE ROBBED.

Two Highwaymen Tackle a Citizen

A man named Gustisan was arrested by Chief Field yesterday on the charge of tapping the till in Kriedler's store. Kriedler could not identify the man positively, and as it was found no money was stolen, he was discharged.

The fair week proved a very quiet one in police circles, and considering the crowd that was in the city there was

The Ancient Order of Hibernians have arranged for a grand ball to take place at $340. Dohany's opera house Thursday evening. Excellent music has been secured and every possible arrangement perfected for having this social occasion one of the most enjoyable of the season. With the committees as selected a good time is

Dave Tostevin was again arrested yes-terday for being drunk. With Dave ap-pearances are deceitful. The last time he was run in a doctor was called to ex-amine him and decided his strange actions were due to an overdose of belladonna. Just what medicine Dave has been taking lately it is difficult to de-

Officer Clough arrested a man named John Allen for carrying concealed weap-ons. Allen's side of the story is that he flave it to a man to get repaired and had just got it back, and hadn't carried it home, but dropping into a beer garden, had some trouble with two strangers, and to defend himself drew the revolver, which led to his arrest.

The preliminary examination of George Larson, the section boss at Crescent city, who is charged with criminal carelessness in leaving a switch unlocked is to take place before Justice Schurz to-day. A large number of witnesses have been subpoemed, and the the probability is that the bottom facts of the accident will be got at.

Peter Bilger, registered at the police station as "a bad boy," was before Judge Aylesworth yesterday morning. His Sunday sojourn in jail had made him rather repentant and the court harrowed the moist soil with a fatherly sort of a lecture, while the boy's father concluded the meist soil with a latherly sort of a lecture, while the boy's father concluded that he would buy the boy once more be-fore having sent to the reform school.

The Odd Fellows Protective associa-tion held a meeting last night. The as-acciation, like many others of the corporative plan, has shrunk in numbers lately, the business being divided up among so many associations that some of them have to lose, and as this association keeps no paid agents canvassing for it, it nat-urally suffers a shrinkage in members. The assersments are that much lighter, though. That is one consolation.

A fellow named Brown raised a rumpus at the Coy house Sunday night, while drunk he jumped through an open dining room window, and began hugging one of the girls, and when she wouldn't have any such nonsense and a fellow named Hilt came to her rescue, Brown knocked him down. Another man steamed to the him down. Another man stepped to the front, and as Brown pulled a revolver, the man pulled too, and remarked: "I sunday night, with what threatens to be made and a little of that, too." Brown skiplarial fever.

B. Silloway, of Cedar Rapids, and proup another row but was soon frightened away by the police.

It is evidently not generally known that a license is needed by everyone who is excavating or building. Yesterday J. P. Goulden, who, it is said, helped to make this very ordinance, was brought to the front for having forgotten all about it. It only costs fifty cents for the clerk's fee to get such a license, but it may cost several times fifty cents not to get it. Builders and those contemplating building should bear this in mind and get out licenses before commencing any work. The matter has been neglected by the authorities as well as the builders, and

> A man who with his family stopped over here on his way back from Dakota, and enroute for Nebraska, camped over and enroute for Nebraska, camped over night near the poor farm. After pulling up and moving on he discovered that he had forgotten two shot guns, and, going back, could not find them. He suspect-ed that the poor farm folks had taken them, but they denied it. He got out a search warrant before Justice Abbott, and Constable Chatterbunch went out there. Mr. Ennix, the man in charge of the farm, said he didn't know anything about the guns, but perhaps they might be in the smoke-house, and sure enough, there they were. The stranger also com-plained because Ennix refused to let him have any water from the well.

The new seats so long expected and so long needed for some of the school rooms have arrived and are being put in place. Thry ought to have been put in during the summer vacation.

The body of Howard Dougherty, son of George Dougherty, and brother of Mrs. L. C. Brackett, is expected to arrive here for burial Wednesday morning. He died in Colorado.

William McLaughlin was yesterday street, and leaving the main part of the vehicle there, they rushed on with the fore wheels through the cut and up onto the hills. "Shep," the pet of the fire lads, went after them as he always does when a fire breaks out, and the knowing dog soon discovered that there was some mistake about this run, and dashing ahead of the horses, kept turning about and barking in their faces, and finding that this had no effect, he made a lively run alongside, jumped up, caught one of the reins in his teeth and pulled it, and just about that time, either from not been examined before, the newspaper men were in a sorry quandary indeed. Where there were so many girls who seemed entitled to being crowned "the boss girl," it was difficult to choose. They had been shown during the past week specimens of sewing and had tested samples of cooking of all sorts, except bad sorts, that to have to decide which of all averaged up the best in all the departments was a pively run alongside, jumped up, caught to have to decide which of all averaged up the best in all the departments was a possible. William McLaughlin was yesterday placed behind the bars for being too drunk. He spent nearly all the afternoon in exercising his lungs in orating on another beautiful collar for this last act formed the acquaintance of all of intelligence. He reins in his teeth and pulled it, and just about that time, either from not been examined before, the newspaper fellows, modestly blushing in spots, became to a stop. "Shep" deserves still another beautiful collar for this last act formed the acquaintance of all of intelligence. He really showed more

Alderman James is the only one of the city council who drew his $100 back pay and kept it. Now that the council has unanimously rescinded the resolution isn't it about time that James paid back the $100. He has had it for several weeks already.

The fair week proved a very quiet one in police circles, and considering the state of the police of the city council who drew has a decided to report recommending that the fellows pulled a gun on him he scrambled off in the darkness and got away. He says he only had a small roll with him, but he didn't like to give even that up, and he managed to get away with a whole skin and a whole pocketbook.

made, the newspaper men met at the Pacific house yesterday afternoon to decide who was "the boss girl" and who should be entitled to the sewing machine offered as a premium in that class by the fair association. The award was to have been made Saturday afternoon at the fair grounds, but the rain on that day inter-fering with the programme as arranged, a postponement was made to yesterday. formed their ears, heir cheeks having never formed the acquaintance of a blush, they withdrew from the sly glances of the ladies who were gathered in the parlors, and retiring into a room by themselves and drawing a long breath, began the work of balloting. At first the was a general split up, every one having some special favorite, and it looked as though there was to be a prolonged but good natured struggle. At last Miss Emma Barton received a majority and was declared the winner, Miss Ella Stubbs coming within John Mikesell, who lives in Streets-ville, on returning home late Saturday Miss Hattie Bellinger, Miss Mannie night, was tackled in the vicinity of the B. It is reported that a stranger passing through the city had his pockat picked at the transfer, losing $300, but as he didn't stay to make any complaint the details of the affair are not Losing to the little deviltry. It is reported that cord in the recorder's office, September 15, reported for the Bre by P. J. Mc-Mahon, real estate agent:

The press representatives feel under special obligations to Mesars. Ferguson & Son, of the Pacific, not only for showing them the way to the back stairs, but also for their kindly courtesy in allowing them the use of the parlors and their attentiveness in supplying all needed facilities for reaching properly the weighty decision.

Without any disparagement of the other "boss girls," it is safe to declare that the winner, Miss Barton, is one in all ways worthy of the name and of the machine, and the prize has fallen into the hands of one to whom it will be a practical help, and one whose womanly independence, industry and skill merit some such recognition.
