A MARRIAGE HOPS.

How Loving Couples Desiring to be United are Put Through the Mill.

September the Favorite Month Lochbaugh.
Name Changed—Hale Village, Jones Judge's Office.

Eloping Lovers Who Don't Want to Get Into the Newspapers,

"The marriage business seems to be unusually lively this month," said a BEE reporter, as he paid his respects to Judge Chadwick in the County Court this morn-

"Indeed it is," said the Judge, smiling happily from behind the desk, "I have never known so many marriages to occur ent. in one month."

"Can you give us some figures?" The judge reached for the book which contains the record of all these life un-

There is a well-to-do girl marrying a servant on her father's farm, and here an uncle marrying his niece

TO COVER UP HIS CRIME. The judge turned the leaves of this book and said, "I discover there have been since the first day of September, forty-three marriages, almost as many as during the whole of August, when there were forty-six." "How do you account for the popularity of this month?" queried the reporter.

"I'm sure I cannot tell," said the magistrate, "unless because its coler. June used to be the favorite month. Last year there were fifty

"The ministers are the men that make the money," said one of the gentlemen in the office, "alhtough Judges are sometimes found who are not above ac cepting a little sum occasionally. An excursion party passed through here from the East not long ago, and a well-dressed man and a very handsome girl left the train just as it was pulling out, came up town and were married.

"No he told the boy he had better GIVE IT TO HIS WIFE, but whether he acted on the elderly judge's advice or not I never heard."

"What's the legal age for marrying?"
the reporter asked the judge.

The law says that the woman must be over sixteen years old, but if she is now a flourishing city. The bi-centennial an- under eighteen she must have the niversary of this event will be celebrated in parents' consent. The boy must be eighteen, but if he is under twenty-one years of age, he also must have his parent's consent. I have to refuse them quite often because they are not old enough, but then all they have to do is to GO OVER TO COUNCIL BLUFFS and get married. Sometimes they lie out and out about their ages. Sometime last superintendent of the house of correction month I refused a license to a fifteenyear-old girl, and I was afterwards telling this to one only seventeen, whom I correction, and now of the board, and had just married, 'Humph!' said the wife; C. A. Gombert, county architect, lately married one with great dignity, 'that little thing ought to have gone to school a year or two longer.

The applicant swears "that neither of said parties is possessed of negro blood; that neither of said parties has a husband or wife living; that both of said parties are possessed of the power of reason and common understanding; that they do not stand in the relation to each other of parent and child, grand-parent and grand-child, brother and sister of half or whole blood, uncle and neice, aunt and nephew; and that there is no impediment known to said parties enter ing into the marriage contract.'

"If they are negroes," explained the judge, "we merely substitute 'both' for 'neither,' but the document is awkwardly

"Applications to you for marriage are generally from the lower class." "Yes, the better people are married by their respective clergymen. Swedes and Danes are particular, but Germans not so much so. The Jews have no Rabbi

ORDINANCES.

An ordinance was passed providing for he issue of $100,000 paving bonds for the purpose of paying the cost of paying the intersections of streets and spaces opposite the alleys, in place of $100,000 of paving bonds in pursuance of ordinance No. 575, and repeating the same.

The new ordinance is demanded by the discovery of a technical point connected with the first issue of bonds, which was "dropped on" by a New York expert.

"For the issue of $100,000 6 per cent. paving bonds" etc. Subsequently city Treasurer Buck negotiated the sale of the bonds to the Omaha national bank which took the whole amount issued at 5 per cent, instead of 6. These bonds were duly delivered and the bank forwarded them to New York where they were "xamined and an abstract of the history of the issue sent for.

The next news received was that as the vote was for "six per cent bonds," the five per cents were not legal and the authorities were requested to legalize the issue in some way. As the case is stated the bank does not want a higher rate of interest and pro-

The Board of Supervisors of Milwaukee Visit Omaha.

Object of Their Trip.

The Millard hotel is at present the stopping place of quite a distinguished party, composed of the members of the Board of Supervisors of Milwaukee county, Wisconsin.

This board corresponds to some extent with our board of county commissioners, with the exception that in that State each town in the county is represented by one supervisor and each ward of the cities by one, the system being more like that in vogue in Indiana, where the officials are known as town or township trustees.

The board makes a trip each year, and for 1883 made Omaha their objective point, the trips being made solely for pleasure. The party now at the Millard consists of twenty-five ladies and gentle men, as follows: Geo. P. Traumer clerk of the board, and wife; F. J. Ries. and wife; Miss Minnie Brunst; Henry Hase, ex-superintendent of the house of correction, and now of the board, and and wife; Robert Luscombe, supervisor of the Fourth ward, of Milwaukee; Lucas Scanlan, superintendent of Town Lake; Leopold Ries, deputy sheriff; H. Reidenback, Paul Huenzberg, C. Eckert, H. Schweidhardt, Charles Schrubb, Anton Schlegel, members of the board; Dr. Cornell, superintendent of the county hospital; S. Verfurth, superintendent of the county poor house; Phil Gross, Christ. Reidenbach and James Truss, of

of the Department of the Platte.

Some Good Records Being Made at the Range Near Fort Omaba.

The preliminary practice for the department rifle contest commenced Monday, and is being conducted during this week, in charge of Captain Coolidge at the range near Fort Omaha. There are over sixty men participating from the different posts in the department and some very good firing being done. Yesterday was the third day and we publish the records of the two preceding days for comparison. On Saturday occurs the individual skirmish match and next week more interestfollowing shows the marks made at 200, 300 and 600 yards, the total for the day, and the grand total for two or more days: YESTERDAY'S FIRING.

A Novel Wager

A recent wager was made in England between two farmers on a trial as to who would do more work in the harvest field -the one drinking beer only, and the other drinking water only. Fifteen acres to each "pitcher" was allowed. The result was that beer won by above an acre. Before making a hasty generalization on the superior virtues of beer from this ing matches, the contest proper. The single fact, it would be well to know all the conditions. There are varieties as well as water. This particular beer may have been a genuine product of malt and hops, and not a compound of glucose and aloes, with which consumers of beer it the scountry are not wholy unfamiliar. Then it will be necessary to know something about the two harvesters. It is possible that if the winner had drunk water instead of beer and the aquarian beer instead of water the wager would have been won by two acres. So, when all the conditions are not ascertained, it will not be ra'e to decide too hastily in favor of beer as an auxidiary of labor in the harvest field.
