LOCAL BREVITIES.

The firemen's social this evening will, as usual, be a pleasant affair.
A public reception will be tendered Rev. Mr. Savidge, of the First M. E. church, on Thursday evening, Sept. 27th.

The W. C. T. U. will hold their meeting this afternoon, Thursday, the 27th, at the Y. M. C. A. at 3 o'clock.
James Peterson, the U. P. brakeman who had a leg cut off recently at Fremont, is rapidly getting well and every one will be glad of the fact.

Trustees have been appointed for the new town of Edinburg, and held a meeting yesterday evening at the office of Hon. J. M. Woolworth.
Don't forget the dances given by the Prairie Queen Dancing Club every Sat. eve. at Matthews & Gaynor's Dancing Academy, S.W. cor. 14 & Dodge. Admission 50c. 2033.

Mr. Geo. C. Brown and Miss Lizzie C. Gooding were married Tuesday morning at the residence of the bride's parents, on Sixteenth street, between Hart and Cumby, by Rev. F. H. W. Bruchart.
A petition is being extensively circulated among the citizens of Sherman Avenue, for the purpose of paving the thoroughfare. It is hoped that the county officials may be induced to bear a portion of the expense.

Ames' real estate agency is about to move into a new and elegantly fitted office just opposite the old stand. Ames is always to be found on top and is to be congratulated on his new departure.
James Martin, an employee at the smelting works, had one of his great toes smashed by a piece of bullion falling on it. He was taken to Dr. S. D. Mercer's hospital, corner Twelfth and Howard, and his injuries attended to.

Another attempt is being made to get license money from the liquor dealers doing business in the three mile limit about the city. It appears to be a hopeless case and one not provided for by the statutes.
A battery of military from Fort Omaha paraded the streets to-day and rested for a while on the hill near the court house. Their warlike appearance led many to believe that martial law had been proclaimed by the Mayor.

Mr. A. Andreen, of the Omaha Safe works, left yesterday with the Omaha delegation to attend the State convention at Lincoln, where he is sent to voice the sentiments of the citizens of the Second ward. Mr. Andreen will combine business with pleasure, by looking after a job he has undertaken in the new capital building. Mr. Andreen represents one of the most important industries of Omaha, and he has his hands full of business all the time.

In the police court yesterday there were two plain drunks, one being discharged and the other having his case continued. A man was arrested for stealing some groceries from a farmer's wagon, a jug of whiskey being in the list of stolen articles. The culprit claimed that he took the liquor to prevent the owner from drinking it, but the judge did not look upon the act in the same light and the man went up for ten days.

The sale of surplus mules in the Department of the Platte took place Tuesday, twenty-eight in all being disposed of at the Omaha corral at prices ranging from $85 to $180. There were 14 sold at Claymont and between 300 and 400 in all in this department. The cause of this move is that the appropriation for Congress for expenses in the Quartermaster's Department was cut down considerably, and did not allow money enough for the pay of the teamsters or the maintenance of the animals. Hereafter freight will have to be hauled by contract, and the cutting off of transportation will be quite severely felt in many ways.

News was received in this city Tuesday of the fatal accident at Brainerd, Minn., which resulted in the death of a well known and popular railroad man, for many years connected with the Union Pacific service. This was none other than Mr. James Kernahan, who, after his retirement from the railway service here, engaged in business as a butcher on lower Tenth street. He subsequently went to Brainerd, Minn., and took the position of yardmaster, and while engaged in coupling cars, on Monday morning, was caught and crushed so that death ensued shortly after. Mr. Kernahan, who was still in this city, was telegraphed for and left at once for Brainerd. Jim had been married less than a year, and was a good husband and a splendid fellow in every way.

GEN. SHERMAN.
The Commander of the Army on His Farewell Trip.
The Salt Lake Tribune of Sunday last says:

Yesterday General W. T. Sherman arrived from Colorado in a special Denver & Rio Grande train. The run from Pueblo was made in about 26 hours. General J. C. Tidball and Colonel R. J. Dodge, of his staff, were of the party. They were met at the depot by General McCook and staff, who escorted General Sherman in a carriage to Fort Douglas, his staff officers taking rooms at the Walker house. General McCook had intended making the visit of General Sherman an occasion for a grand reception, at which several hundred persons would have been invited, but there was so much uncertainty as to the time of the coming of his honored guest that he was not able to perfect his plans and know when to invite citizens to the Post. During the afternoon and evening numerous persons visited Fort Douglas to pay their respects to the commander of the army of the United States, and in the evening there was a social gathering at the residence of Gen. McCook.

This morning at 9 o'clock there will be a review of the garrison, and other interesting ceremonies, as will be seen by the programme, which will be found in another column of The Tribune.
It is the intention of Gen. Sherman to start east early to-morrow morning over the same route he came, and travel by the same special train.

The general passed through Plattsmouth last evening.
Rev. Mr. Savidge will be glad to see all his friends at the public reception next Thursday evening, September 27, at the First M. E. Church.

BOLD BURGLARS.
An Attempted Raid on Hellman's Clothing House.

A Wholesale Attempt at Robbery.
About 9:30 o'clock last evening one of the clerks at Hellman's store, corner of Thirtieth and Farnam streets, ran out and called loudly for the police.

The alarm was promptly responded to by Officer Knight, Block Watchman Murphy and by Capt. J. O'Donohue, and it was discovered that one of the boldest attempts at robbery ever made in Omaha, had been frustrated by pure accident.

The store was closed up early in the evening, and all the employees, with a single exception, had gone home. One young man was in the office, and was engaged in writing letters, when he heard the sound of footsteps in the second story of the building. He at once gave the alarm, as stated above, and prevented the carrying out of a well-planned and nearly successful robbery of the place.

Captain O'Donohue and the other officers, on arriving at the scene of the robbery, found that they had piled up a lot of store boxes, one upon another at the west side window in the rear of the building just back of Hickman's and by the means climbed to within a few feet of the second story, shinning up the lightning rod for the rest of the way.

The officers stated that they found two teams in the alley which were evidently there for the purpose of carrying off the spoils, and one of these teams was captured and taken to a livery stable.
A search was made over the entire building but without finding any of the burglars, they having doubtless been frightened away by the clerk, who hailed up the stairs before calling the officers.

AUTUMN.
The Solemnly Days Have Come.
Like the closing days of a well ordered life, the autumn is stealing upon the world. There is a quiet in the air; the more tender foliage is changing color; the mother birds are withdrawing from work, all their fledglings being able now to earn a living for themselves; the hunter moon is overhead at night; the apples hang ripe in the orchards; there is a haze in the air as when in old age "the windows" began to be "darkened," there is a restfulness over all, the heat of the summer being past and the chill of the winter not yet having come. Sometimes it is true in the deep night the wind comes for a moment in a storm which is of itself a storm to us, even as old men turn on their couches and with a sigh say, "that twinge was rheumatism," it is a notice that I am no longer young, but the general effect is of peace and of the heat and the excitement of the day are past, when around life the curtains begin to be closed and the commencement of the long rest has come.

Trade Embarrassments.
There were 177 failures in the United States reported to Bradstreet's during the past week, 41 more than the preceding week, 36 more than the corresponding week in 1882, and 81 more than the corresponding week of 1881. In the principal trades the failures were as follows: Grocers 34, general traders 14, liquors 13, manufacturers 13, clothing 7, lumber 7, furniture 7, jewelry 6, shoes 5, dry goods 5, fancy goods 5, produce and provisions 4, hats 4, hardware 4, grain and flour 3, hotels and restaurants 3, harness 2, commission 2, oil 2, gent's furnishing goods 2, stationers 2, tobacco and cigars 2, millinery 2.

A TERRIBLE TUMBLE.
A Man Falls From a Third Story Window.

And Meets With Painful If Not Fatal Injuries.
A terrible accident occurred about 9:30 yesterday on Douglas street, between Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets, which resulted in serious if not fatal injury to the victim.

Mr. J. H. Livingston, a bricklayer in the employ of Mr. A. T. Large, the architect, was at work putting in the key, stone to an arch in the third story, back window of the new building being erected by B. F. Smith, Esq., just west of A. Cruickshank & Co.'s block. While putting in the key, Mr. Livingston stepped on a loose brick, and it turning with him he was precipitated to the ground, alighting first on the wall and falling into the cellar, a distance of forty feet.

The victim was picked up in an insensible condition, and carried to the office of Dr. Merriam, where his injuries were attended to. It was there found that he had suffered a severe fracture of the right thigh, and several ribs were broken, besides other serious internal injuries were sustained, the full effect of which cannot at present be calculated.

A BIRTHDAY PARTY.
A Pleasant Episode in the Life of Schuyler Wakefield.

Tuesday being the forty-sixth anniversary of the birth of Mr. Schuyler Wakefield, the popular assessor of the Fifth ward, he entertained a few of his friends (but the number was more than two hundred all the same) in royal style at M. Leary's Hall, Twelfth and Chicago streets.

The music was furnished by Forst's orchestra, under the direction of Frank himself and his inspirations made it impossible to resist the temptation to dance—particularly when we consider that there was such a galaxy of fair ladies present.

During the evening the band of the A. O. H., under the leadership of James Douglas, tendered a serenade to Mr. Wakefield, rendering several airs in their usual beautiful style.

The enjoyment was continued until early in the morning and before adjourning the gentlemen present appointed a committee on resolutions, who reported the following, which was unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, We hold our fellow-citizen, Schuyler Wakefield in high esteem, as a gentleman and friend, be it Resolved, That it is the unanimous and hearty and heartfelt wish of those here present, that our host may live to enjoy many happy returns of this day, and that he and his family may—to quote Rip Van Winkle—"live long and prosper."

LOCOMOTIVE FIREMEN.
The Proceedings of the Convention at Denver.

The Good Work Accomplished by the Order.
The annual convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, held in Denver last week, concluded its business on Friday night last at 12 o'clock.

This organization, although not an old one, has a large membership, which is constantly increasing. At the annual convention held in Boston two years ago the body numbered but little over 3,000 members, and now there are over 8,000, which number is receiving accessions every day. There were in actual attendance this year over 700 delegates.

The Brotherhood is a purely charitable institution conducted on the mutual benefit principle, guaranteeing to its members, in case of disability, or to their heirs in case of death, the immediate payment of the net sum of $1,000. As a medium of accidental insurance it is not only a worthy, but also a very cheap one, the assessment being only about $10 on the thousand during the past year. It is also a society whose social advantages are obvious.

The convention at Denver was a harmonious one in every respect and was attended by delegates from all parts of the country. Among the notable and praiseworthy acts of the body while in session was the allowance of $14,000 to the heirs of deceased members who had failed to pay up their assessments by reason of change of residence, etc.

The citizens of Denver, with their usual hospitality gave the delegates a rousing reception and entertained the visitors in royal style. A visit was made to Georgetown, Silver Lake and other points of interest. By the courtesy of the Denver & Rio Grande and Denver & South Park roads, who furnished them with special trains, the delegates visited Pueblo, Colorado Springs, Pike's Peak, and other famous spots of interest.

This next annual convention will be held in Toronto, Canada. Among the delegates who returned yesterday afternoon were: Andrew J. Reagan, Portland, Maine; H. Hollar, Cleveland, O.; H. C. Randall, Indianapolis; J. M. Garrett, Urbana, Ill.; J. W. Adams, Clinton, Ia.; J. J. Gavin, St. Paul, Minn.; Wm. J. Ely, St. Louis; J. M. McMillan, Palestine, Texas; Chas. M. Baker, Ft. Worth, Texas, and H. H. Burrus, Little Rock, Ark.

All these gentlemen express themselves as highly pleased with their reception by the citizens of Denver and with the country, which was by many of them seen for the first time and all feel gratified at the unquestionable success of the convention.

ORANGE BLOSSOMS.
The Marriage of Mr. H. F. Willrodt and Miss Emma Becht.

A few days since THE BEE chronicled the departure of Mr. H. F. Willrodt, the veteran United States gunner, now stationed at Her city warehouse, for Peru, Ill., and intimated that he was about to embark on the sea of matrimony.

On the 22nd inst., Saturday last, Mr. Willrodt was united in marriage to Miss Emma Becht, at the residence of her parents, by Rev. Mr. Ankerl.

The bride is a sister of Mr. Max Becht, of the firm of Schroder & Becht, and is a lady no less distinguished for her amiable character and numerous accomplishments than is her husband as a warm-hearted, popular and universally respected gentleman.

The wedding took place at 8 p. m. and was attended only by the relatives and intimate friends of the highly contrasting parties. The ceremony was followed by a splendid supper and the happy couple left at once for Omaha, stopping on their way to visit friends in Davenport and arriving in Omaha Tuesday morning.

They will take up their residence at No. 824 South Eighteenth street, where Willrodt had prepared a cozy home for his bride.
The Bee wishes the happy couple all the joy incident to married life, and we feel satisfied that Mrs. Willrodt will not regret her permanent removal to the Gate City.
