community where he has lived for nearly eighteen years and where he has been honored by the highest mark of esteem which citizens can bestow upon a professional man, the slurs and slanders of malicious partisanship will fall short of their mark and do no damage. No judge ever voluntarily left the bench with more friends and fewer enemies or resigned a trust which he had long and faithfully kept, amid more heartfelt expressions of regret from both the bar and the people.

Allen Savage's decisions has been reversed in the Supreme court. That while the number of cases actually taken to the Supreme court from Mr. Savage's district has been less than from the district of Judge Pound, Judge Weaver or Judge Post, the per centage of reversals has been greater."

The answer to this may be made short and the author stands convicted as a liar by the reports themselves. But, admitting that it were true, it might well be answe ed that with more important cases tried in the district over which James W. Savage was judge than in any other dis trict in the State, the fact that so few appeals were taken is the strongest of points in the judge's favor. Few judges can stand a test of their abilities which measures their learning by the number of reversed or affirmed cases. It is well known to every lawyer that there are court reverses itself. Still more numer ous are the cases where the court is divided, in which case a reversal merely shows that two judges have thought one way and two another. A careful examination of the Supreme Court reports from the 6th to the 13th ion. volume, which comprise Judge Savage's term upon the bench, shows that so far from his per centage of reversals being greater than those of other judger, his judicial record was the best or at least Jo an Bright. The Republican stands as a self-convicted liar. It has appealed to the records because it knew that to the great majority of readers they were sealed books. And fair-minded and reputable attorneys throughout the State will indignantly repudiate a candidate whose supporters and advocates are waging a campaign with falsehood, malice and envy as their Sweden, in proportion to the population, as a judge shows that the number of his principal weapons in their endeavor to besmirch the honorable and hard earned record of a good citizen, an able lawyer and a competent and honest judge.

OTHER LANDS THAN OURS.

The political event of the greatest significance abroad during the week was the resignation of the Spanish ministry. In 2S.7, Prussia 26.1. France the Alphonso affair caused the retirement of one minister, but in Spain the whole cabinet retired because the Royalists insisted that the French gov-ernment should be humiliated by making a further official publication of the apol-ogy already made to King Alphonso. Spain too is quieting down. The general feeling on the continent is that Alphonso's political fortune has been made by the insults offered him by the Parisian mob. The attention of Europe has been fastened on Alphonso, the loyalty of the Spanish people thoroughly aroused, and Spain has been elevated into a political prominence which nothing else could have accomplished. From another point of view the affair has been fortunate. The new Spanish cabinet is decidedly liberal in tone, and is undoubtedly intended as a step toward the conciliation of the liberal element among the Spanish political leaders. There are even rumors that the Cortes will be dissolved, and that an appeal to the country will be taken in order to base the government on the broad foundation of popular opindignitary would have considered his rank degraded by entering into any commercial speculation of this kind, but time has worked wonders even in the land which used to be regarded as more unchanging than Egypt.

THE parliamentary bill recently passed authorizing the expending of $250,000 in the transferring of destitute Irish tenants to small farms, is so drawn that a company can be formed with a portion of this money as capital. The conditions are that security shall be given for the proper use of the government subsidy, and that the amount shall not be in excess of other moneys of the company used for the same purpose. The company now forming under this bill has secured a $5,000 subscription from the bishop of Raphoe, and $10,000 from Mr. Parnell. The plan is to buy an estate and lands never subdued, cutting the territory into small farms, thus putting the scheme for a peasant proprietorship in Ireland to a practical test.

THE law requires the County Clerk to make out the tax list. It is a part of his regular duty for which he is allowed $2500 a year in fees As a matter of fact the tax lists have been made out entirely by Mr. Baumer's deputies and clerks. Mr. Baumer hasn't done an hour's work on either of them. The county has paid for these clerks and deputies, but Mr. Baumer pocketed $1275 for "making out the tax lists."

Ten years ago, when the law did not limit the income of the clerk, the county employed Truman Buck to make out the tax list, which was not only for the year 1883, but for the delinquent taxes for all the preceeding years. Mr. Buck was allowed $400 for his work, and then he earned at the rate of $100 a month. No wonder John Baumer says its "just like finding it;" but will the taxpayers endorse such robbery.

THE Supreme Court of the United States has again delayed the decision of the great California tax case, involving the question whether a corporation is a person in the sense that its property may not be taxed by a State at higher rates than the property of other individual tax-payers. The railroad corporations m California claim that they are discriminated against by the tax laws of that State, in violation of the provisions of the Fourteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States. This was the most important matter in litigation aals 11. before the Supreme Court, affecting the legialation of nearly every State in the Union.
