Mr. Lemon was formerly a resident of that place. He will return in time to fill his pulpit here as usual next Sunday.

Mayor Bowman's proclamation ordering tramps and crooks to leave town, set the limit of their staying till last night. Now if there are any hanging around today, it will give a chance to see what the authorities propose to do if the order is not obeyed. Proclamations have not amounted to much, as a rule. It is hoped this will prove an exception.

The Odd Fellows of the city are now is to meet here next year, and there ought to be a temple furnished before that time. The site being talked of is on Broadway next to Metcalf Brox., clothing store, where De Haven's drug store. Pat Levy's salcon and the 90 cent store, Pat Lacy's saloon, and the 99 cent two firemen. 1,400 store are now located. It is to be hoped 400 tons of coal at $3,50 per ton 1,400 that the talk will culminate in action.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway company is arranging for a 6 per cent upon $1,000, which large charge in the method of protecting its amount would about represent the cost of freight cars from the raids of thieves. The old system of numbering tags and seals is being done away with, and the plan now being adopted is to fasten the cars with stubs of tin, on which the number of the station, date of shipment, etc., is stamped by a pair of pincers. Each is stamped by a pair of pincers. Each station has a different sort of pincers, so that it is expected that the preventing of any tampering will be complete. It is stated that this road uses 375,000 seals

COUNCIL BLUFFS. The Talk About How Council Bluffs is

The Board of Trade Wrestling With the Problem.

Some of the difficulties attending the colution of the question of sewerage in Council Bluffs have already been given by THE BEE. The importance of the question, however, is such that these difficulties must be overcome, and the city council lie down in the mud and water and say it cannot be done. The board of trade has a committee consisting of J. W. Rodefer, E. L. Shugart, Anlist, but expects to be able to get into Birkinbine, who have been wrestling with the question. They were to have met John Brown was arrested yesterday fer disturbing the peace by kicking up a row off until last evening, it being more convenient than to consider some matters Justice Abbott yesterday tied the knot which binds as husband and wife G. Harry Birkinbine, the engineer, who is an important member of the committee, left yesterday for Louisville on important business, and will not be back before the latter part of the week. He prepared a report before going, which prepared a report before going, which

But let the city work with some system in view so that in the end their work will all be available and cific yesterday. useful. It is therefor impossible to place an estimate upon the expense of the gravity plan. Pumping System.—This system will necessitate the construction of a cesspool, erection of a steam pumping apparatus, and the employment of an engineer and two firemen. Now these look like ex-

Say $6,000 per annum, the interest at raising building and the grading of two streets running north and south.

In estimating the cost of machinery we have taken the most expensive. The next question would be, what would the sewer cost? * As the main sewer would be of different diameter, say 18, 20, 24, 30 and 36 inches, we have assumed it at an average of 30 inches in diameter. Suppose we start our main sewer on First street and Broadway, run down Broadstreet and Broadway, run down Broadstreet and Broadway, run down Broadstreet, near Broadway way to Eighth street, and down both Eighth and Main streets to Tenth avenue, and there construct our cesspool and pumping apparatus, a distance of 12,375

This frontage tax system would enable the city to keep on building sewers until the original appropriation was exhausted by street intersections and inlets. We assume an eight-inch sewer as the average size, as branch sewers would be, say, 12, 10, 8, 6, and 4 inches

We are of the opin-ion that the sewage of the glens would not make the creek any more offensive than it now is, as the increasd flow would be a benefit to it. It is therefore safe to prophesy that if the city should issue sewer bonds to the amount of $160,000, and then adopt a system of frontage tax upon property passed by the sewer, that the entire city could enjoy one of the greatest blessings a system of sewage.

In closing let us ask the city council that before they adopt any system of sewage, that they have a careful survey made of the entire city area, and have the same properly plotted, so that no matter which system be adopted, it will be available and reliable.

If the city orders this survey, we hope that they will have the reference stakes or monuments of ground set in different parts of the city, as they will be of inestimable value in years to come.
