POLITICAL POINTERS

COUNCIL BLUFFS. The Prespect for Prohibition in Iowa's Legislature.

> County Clerk Street Dresses Up John Chapman.

The Chicago Tribune, with a view of secretaining the sentiments of the members of the next General Assembly, which meets carly in January, on the question of prohibition, recently addressed a circular letter to each of the 150 members who will compose that body, requesting their views on the following points:

I. Do you consider the amenament sow to have a binding force in spite of the adverse decision of the Supreme Court!

2. Do you favor the submission of a iew amendment? 3. Do you favor establishing prohibition by statute?

Some answered openly and above board, others gave their opinions on the condition that their names should not be ways, as best could be ascertained.

The summary of this canvass shows that there are three in the Senate out of fifty, and fourteen in the House out of one hundred, who believe the amendment is still binding. Forty-five Senators and seventy-eight Representatives believe it is void, while two Senators and ight Representatives are doubtful.

The question of resubmission or statutory prohibition to be successful, must ommand 26 votes in the Senate and 51 in the House. In the Senate resubmission has 20 supporters and 27 opposed to it, with three doubtful. , The 27 opposed to it are made up of the ten democratic members, 17 Republicans, while the yesterday. Officers Brooks and Cusick 20 favoring it and the three doubtful are Republicans.

In the House there are 30 in favor of resubmission, 61 opposed to it and nine field, one of the Broadway merchants. Wm, Gray was arrested at the Union doubtful. The 41 Democratic members are all solid against it. If the doubtful senger. He claimed that he found it ones shall all vote in favor of resubmission, the resubmitting of the amendment would even then lack a majority.

In the House 48 favor it, of larceny. The case came up on a writ 49 oppose it and three are doubtful. All of hapeas corpus, the defense claiming the Democratic members of both houses are reported as solidly opposed to the ruestion also.

Senator Carson of this city does not seem to like to have his opinion put in print, but the Representatives of this county, Clayton and Davin, are described as stating as follows:

REPRESENTATIVE CLAYTON, Representative Clayton, of Pottawattamie, considers the amendment as having no binding force, favors the submission of a new amendment, and is cautiously classed as doubtful on the question of statutory prohibition. The fact is, he is opposed to prohibition, and, it is said, has declared against a prohibitory statute since election.

Representative Davis, according to his neighbors and friends in Pottawattamio county, does not consider the amendment binding, but favors a resubmission, presumably in order to satisfy those who claim that the people should have a chance to vote on a technically correct The body of Ezra McKey, who was amendment, and thus settle the question killed by the cars in Minnesota, reached as far as its adoption or otherwise may be who seem to be well posted on the ins and outs of the muddle, will require at The injunction suit brought by Judge least three years before it can be settled

Saturday afternoon a stranger who. with his wife, was en route for California, was robbed of $168 while crossing the river on a train to Omaha. The thieves got up a pretened quarrel in the car and in the confusion went through the man's pocket, getting $160. The police here, learning that some of the thieves were on this side of the river, hunted for them thoroughly Saturday night, but to no avail.

There was a railway collision at Dow City Saturday. A freight train was standing on the sidetrack, and one of the trainmen, in a freak of thoughtlessness, turned the switch, after having himself turned it as it ought to have been. An incoming passenger train, consequently, ran right in on the same track, and, be fore it could be stopped, the engine struck the cabcose, smashing it into kindling wood, but, luckily, injuring no one. The engine was also smashed some.
