COUNCIL BLUFFS. How Judge and Jury Have Been Deal-

Two Murder Cases and Numerous Lighter Offenses Considered.

As a number of the cases which have been adjusted at the term of the District Court, held at Denison, have already attracted attention here, their disposition will also interest many. Many still remember that last winter there was a bloody fracas at what is known as the Three Mile house, in which two brothers, J. P. and Nels Johnson were injured. It was alleged that Messrs, Peter Johnson and Jurgen Peter Hansen, the cigar maker and diet for $600 for damages, but Judge native of that land took his audience inmusician, has a bran new boy, and is of Reed set this aside. A PRETTY STORY.

Woven From the Romantic Caree of an Ohio Man.

NEWARK, O., November 10.-About thirty-five years ago there lived in Barnesville, this State, a family named the matrimonial tie existing between him that of Charles Wyhle, sentenced to two being about four years. The husband months in the penitentiary for stealing a concluded to leave for the far West and suit of clothes. The Bulletin sarcasticely remarks. ried in November, 1877, at Van Meter, Iowa, and he claims that she has now deserted him and refuses to come back. The case will come up at the next term strong of the case will come up at the next term strong of the string of paraphernalia suit of clothes. The Bulletin sarcastic cally remarks on the case:

"This young man, in need of better clothes, stooped to steal them, and will pound stone for sixty days at Wt. Madiport, but suddenly communication was supported by the string of the st passed on and no tidings of the husband > preserved gentleman appeared at the res-dence of Mr. Thomas Anderson, in the East End, and inquires: "Does East End, and inquires: "Does Mr. Thomas Anderson live here?" He was answered by Mrs. Ander-THE BEE readers will remember the sen in the affirmative, and he then asked for Mr. Anderson, and was informed that he was upstairs asleep The old gentleman hastened up to Mr Anderson's room, fell on the neck of the sleeper and kissed and embraced him, making demonstrations indicative of the greatest delight. This awoke the sleep-ing man, and he demanded an explanation of the strange proceedings. The strange visitor, with tears in his eyes, cried out: "Why, Tom, I am your long-lost father; you were but four years old when I saw you last." He then pro-ceeded to make minute statements, and Mr. Anderson was convinced that he was now face to face with his own father, who it was supposed had been dead thirty years. Mutual congra-tulations followed, and the elder gentle-man was imformed that the family had removed from Barnesville to this place The elder Anderson's wife had become a widow, the man she married after hear ing nothing from her absent husband having recently died. The children had grown to manhood and womanhood and become respected citizens with families, the sons filling responsible positions on railroads. It is expected now that the long-separated husband and wife wil again soon be reunited in marriage, and pass the remainder of life together in peace and comfort.
