due certain contractors for street and sewer work as per estimates of the city engineer, was read twice and laid over for special consideration to-morrow evening. Adjourned.

A Blessing to all Mankind.

In those times when our Newspapers are flooded with patent medicine advertisements, it is gratifying to know what to procure that will certainly cure you. Dr. J. C. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, is a blood tonic of order, liver invigorant, or generally debilitated, there is nothing in the world that will cure you so quickly as "ELECTRO-BITTERS." They are a blessing to all mankind, and can be had for only fifty cents a bottle of C. F. Good-man's.

RETURNED PIONEERS.

A Reminiscence of the Early Days of Omaha and Montana.

Four Months on the Overland Trail--How the City Looks to Old Eyes.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Gurnet, of Helena, Montana, arrived in Omaha, Monday, intending to remain till after the holidays. They are the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Swift, the ladies being sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Gurnet crossed the Missouri river to Omaha in 1857, and can justly claim high rank among the pioneers of this city. They remained here about eight years, and saw some "stately" buildings rise in the young metropolis.

In 1864, with a large number of adventurous Omahans, they pulled up stakes and started overland for Montana, whose fame had reached their ears and dazzled them with visions of wealth in the near future. It was a long dreary trip, occupying four months. It required no small degree of courage in those days to undertake that journey, through a wild and almost trackless region, beset with innumerable dangers, not the least among them being the Indians, who roamed at will over the plains, unrestricted by restraint of law or military force. The party fortunately met with no serious mishaps beyond a few scares and the fatigue of the journey. Six months had passed before Mr. Gurnet and his wife were sheltered by the roof of a house in Montana. They were soon settled down, however, secured a farm and a home near Helena, and after nineteen years of hard work during fifteen of which, as he himself expresses it, "the sun never caught us in bed," they feel fairly "well fixed" in the world's goods and sound health that gives promise of many years to enjoy the fruit of their labor.

It was interesting to hear these old-timers talk about the wonderful growth of Omaha, compared with its appearance in the sixties. The old Douglas house was sought for with as much interest as a lost child, and the old land marks that stood where the B. & M. freight depot now is, failed to meet their expectant gaze while crossing the bridge. The remodelled Herndon house was not known and nothing but the shops and river were left to convince them that they had reached Omaha.

Mr. Gurnet can hardly find words to express his astonishment at the growth of Omaha. "I would never believe it," he says, "if I did not see it with my own eyes. And he has not seen one-tenth of it yet.

Mr. Gurnet says the completion of the Northern Pacific through Montana has revolutionized business and towns. Helena is growing rapidly, a majority of the capitalists of the territory making it their headquarters. New and elegant stone buildings are going up, and everywhere is seen the evidence of steady, substantial growth. The discovery of the Gallatin coal field is one of the greatest booms of the year, as it affords a cheap fuel for manufacturing purposes. The trip from Helena to Omaha by way of St. Paul occupied about three days, and the weather was as pleasant as that which greeted them in Omaha.

Excited Rhomboids. All over the land are going into ecstacy over Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their outlook for recovery by the timely use of this great life saving remedy, causes them to neglect to mention it. It is guaranteed to positively cure Sore Throats, Colds, Asthma, Hay Fever, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Loss of Voice, or any affection of the throat and Lungs.

"Don't Holler Until You are Out of the Woods." Sometimes, well people have little sympathy for the sick.

Not long ago we heard a gentleman "chaffing" a friend who was using Humphrey's Homoeopathic Specific, No. Nine, for the headache.

It was not a month before this worthy was using the same remedy, and praising it, too, for its power over this troublesome complaint. He further affirms that Humphrey's Homoeopathic Specific, No. Seven, for coughs and colds of a stubborn character cannot be excelled. It allayed the nervous, tickling sensation in the throat, produced by a hard, distressing cough, and relieved the hoarseness when his friends had become alarmed lest an attack of pneumonia was striking him.

At this juncture the gentleman, with Specific No. Seven, taking six pellets every few hours night and morning. The cough soon became milder, hoarseness passed off, strength and appetite improved, and in a week he was completely cured, having used no other medicine. Since then he has learned that Specific No. Seven has promptly, effectively and inexpensively cured thousands of similar troubles, and no longer wonders at his friend's unqualified praise in speaking of No. Nine. He speaks from experience now, and with much suppressed amusement remarks, "It is never well to holler until you are out of the woods, you know."--New York Examiner. d11-cdm

Bad Sidewalks.

To the Editor of The Bee. I would like to call your attention to the way the contractors left the sidewalk after grading the streets in front of the South M. E. church. It is in an outrageous condition, half the boards lying loose. Yesterday I was the innocent cause of a lady falling and quite severely bruising her face by tripping on a loose board. Hoping that the authorities will have it placed in a safe condition I am yours. M. N.

HORSE-STEALING.

Bold Thieves Take Teams From the Streets.

STOLEN AND RECOVERED. Just before 12 o'clock last night a horse and phaeton were stolen from in front of Kessler's hall on South 13th street. They belong to Fred Krug, the brewer. The theft was discovered almost immediately, and pursuit was made. The thief was not yet out of sight. He was so close pressed that he jumped out of the phaeton and the stolen property was recovered at 11th street. It was found that the hitching post had been cut. The thief escaped, as owing to the late hour pursuit was impossible and the owner was satisfied with having recovered his property. Mr. Krug considers himself quite lucky in not losing his turnout, as it included not only a good horse and a handsome phaeton, but also a fine set of silver plated harness.

LOST AND FOUND.

Last night, just before 12 o'clock, a young man named McCarthy reported at headquarters that a team, which he found to have been stolen, was being driven by O. J. Pickard, a farmer living four miles west of the city. About 10 o'clock Mr. McCarthy tied the team on Douglas street near Fifteenth, and went into Groff and Montgomery's law office. He remained there probably an hour. When he came out the team was missing. The horses were afterwards found by Officer Boyle. They had in some way become untied, and were walking down the streets. They were soon returned to Mr. McCarthy, who was glad to learn that they had not been stolen, as he feared.

HARNESS RETURNED.

The harness which was stolen about a week ago and was afterwards found and left at the police headquarters, has been returned to the owner. It was claimed and identified yesterday afternoon by Ed. Culbertson, who has a barn near the race track.

STOLEN TEAM RETURNED.

Monday evening Port Redmond, a resident of Saratoga precinct, drove into this city and tied his team in front of J. J. Brown's wholesale house on Douglas street, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets.

It was not yet 8 o'clock when Mr. Redmond, leaving his team, stepped down the street to attend to some business. In about one-half hour he returned to where he had left his team and found to his surprise and indignation, that they had left him, in the hands of some other driver.

They were a pair of fine black animals, quite large, and were hitched to a light platform spring wagon.

This is the second instance within one week that horses have been stolen from the main business street early in the evening, and it is self-evident that a hard and regular organized gang of horse thieves are operating in our midst. It requires something more than ordinary cheek for a man to unhitch and drive off a team which does not belong to him in the early hours of the evening, when the streets are crowded with pedestrians, and none but a fit candidate for the penitentiary or gallows will do such a thing.

There is no use trying to dodge the fact that we have a hard gang in this city at the present time, and the only effectual way to get rid of them is by shooting a few of them.

Mr. Redmond's team was found yesterday afternoon on Cumming street by an officer and returned to him.

Hodding's Russia Salve has proved its efficiency by a test of 75 years' constant use. Try it.

PRIVATE MASQUERADE.

To be Given by Messrs. Matthews and Gaynor at Croove's Hall This Evening.

Messrs. Matthews & Gaynor, both well known in Omaha, will give a grand private masquerade party at the above named hall this (Wednesday) eve, December 12th. They have issued very neat invitations, which they have sent out to their numerous friends, and no doubt they will all avail themselves of the opportunity. It will certainly be one of the most pleasant affairs of the season, as the managers will leave nothing undone to make it so.

Irvia's full orchestra will be in attendance, with Mr. Matthews as prompter. Elegant programmes are being printed for the occasion after unmaking takes place. Masquerade costumes may be obtained at Mrs. C. C. Shaeffer, 2100 Farnam street, and No. 616 Eleventh street, between Jackson and Jones.

Saratoga Notes.

The Saratoga Literary and Debating society held its regular weekly meeting on Saturday evening. The attendance was unusually large, Lyceum hall being filled to its utmost capacity. The literary programme was a good one and was carried out in a very creditable manner, one of its most prominent features being an essay on "Whittier," by Mr. F. Ivanhoe.

The subject for debate was, "Resolved that a prohibition law is the best for preventing the excessive use of intoxicating liquors." The debate was opened by Mr. T. D. Busin on the affirmative, Mr. W. H. Lawton leading the opposition side. The debate was animated and interesting. A strong argument adduced in favor of a prohibition law was the immense diminution of crime which would result from the operation of such a law, it being stated that 75 per cent of the crime committed in this country could be traced, directly or indirectly, to the influence of alcoholic liquors. The opposition party claimed that the passage of such a law would be extremely unjust, and a violation of the rights and freedom now enjoyed by the people, and despite the existence of such a law, spirituous liquors would continue to be manufactured in large quantities and disposed of in a clandestine manner, and thus by reason of its despotic character it would be rendered ineffective. After the subject had been freely discussed by both parties the judges decided in favor of the affirmative. A vote of thanks to the judges terminated the meeting.

The programme for the next meeting will be a good one, several city friends having kindly volunteered their services on that occasion. The subject for debate will be, "Resolved, That a tariff should be imposed for revenue purposes only." Mr. Chas. Tinsley left yesterday for Grand Island, where he will join his brother, who has preceded him. Messrs. W. and C. Tinsley have been in business here as gardeners for a lengthened period, which call they have now left, and will in future be co-partners in the cattle business, near Grand Island. They were much respected by a large circle of friends and carry with them the best wishes of all. G. R. B.
