BEECHER IN DANGER.

Brooklyn Politicians Making a Bee-Line for Pews.

The Great Auction Sale in Plymouth Church.

New York Journal, Jan. 8th.

To-night the annual sale of the pews and chairs of Plymouth Church will take place in that widely-known structure, and the announcement is made that there will be "no postponement" on account of the weather.

The sale always causes more or less of a stir in church circles, owing to the jealousy of Mr. Beecher's popularity existing among certain clergy-men.

This year more interest is felt in the sale than ever, because of the report that a number of ambitious politicians propose to purchase pews in the hope that connection with Plymouth church will advance their political interests.

"Mayor Low could not have been re-elected without the aid of Mr. Beecher and Plymouth church," said Constable-at-Large Giddings yesterday.

"Plymouth church defeated Franklin Woodruff when he ran for Mayor, and I tell you it's a noble institution to belong to. I'm going to have a pew even if it costs me $500."

"Mr. Beecher is more popular now than he ever was," said Mr. H. S. Weld, the philanthropic clerk of the church in conversation with a reporter.

"Quite a handsome sum is realized yearly from the rental of the pews. In 1881, for instance, $43,312 was received for the pews. We hope to realize from $35,000 to $45,000 this year."

H. B. Claffin, the dry-goods prince, has paid as high as $750 for a pew, S. V. White has paid $675, Augustus Storrs has paid $500. Numbers of pews will bring from $200 to $300 to-night.

A professional auctioneer conducts the sale and Mr. Beecher is usually present to stimulate the buyers with his characteristic bright sayings and bright witticisms.

"Should there be any bids from professional politicians to-morrow night, several of our wealthy members will be on hand to bid up to the thousands," said one of the church deacons to The Journal reporter.

"We want pew-owners to be men of reputable social standing. We do not want the company of politicians who are looking for the influence of our congregation."

The members of Plymouth church are greatly excited over the report concerning the alleged purposes of the politicians, and the gentlemen of that class who put in an appearance at the sale will necessarily be frozen out. The professional politician will be permitted to purchase a seat in the gallery, but will find his bank account too tight to enable him to secure a seat on the ground floor.

It was reported yesterday that four aldermen and six supervisors had formed a pool and propose to engage a ticket speculator to purchase pews for them.

"Members of the church" will be on hand to-morrow night with flats containing the names of the aldermen and supervisors," said the deacon referred to before.

"As the name of each purchaser and his residence must be given, you will see it will be impossible for the politicians to pull the wool over our eyes. The ticket speculator scheme will not work."

Judge Benjamin F. Tracey, Lorin Palmer, Assessor Jonathan T. Norton, Colonel Horatio C. King, ex-Register William Barre, Jerome B. Wagon and other prominent politicians occupy pews in Plymouth church, but they are gentlemen of standing and unobjectionable to the congregation.

A reporter asked Alderman McCarty if he proposed to secure a pew in Mr. Beecher's church.

"I don't," said the alderman with a face as red as a peony.

"Is it true that an Alderman O'Connell, Stirling, Kane and yourself have hired a ticket speculator to bid for you?" persisted the reporter.

"We've got pews in other churches," said the alderman evasively as he hurried away.

WE GET MEYER.

It is now undisputed that Dr. Meyer's Catarrh Cure is the only treatment that will absolutely cure Catarrh—fresh or chronic.

MUSICAL BURGLARS.

They Enter S. H. Buffet's Residence and Carry Off a Lot of Clothing and a Fiddle.

The residence of S. H. Buffet, corner of Park avenue and Mt. Pleasant street, was entered by burglars Sunday night, and two overcoats, a fur cap, three or four scarfs, a fiddle and two or three dollars in money were taken.

There were ten people sleeping in the house at the time and a dog which, Mr. Buffet says, had to be held in order to let a person come into the house after dark. No one heard a sound and cannot tell what time the burglars were there.

The fiddle which was taken was upon top of a dresser about eight feet high, and a chair had to be used to stand upon in order to reach it. The house was thoroughly ransacked and all the silver was taken out and spread upon the table, but none of it was taken.

One thing, however, the night visitors missed. Mr. Buffet's gold watch was in his vest pocket, and the vest hung upon a chair, but was not touched.

UNPARALLELED GALL,

Displayed by Some People at the Postoffice on Sunday.

The gall of some people is simply amazing, it is fairly paralyzing, and yet Sunday after Sunday, if we only visit the postoffice at noon, we are permitted, not forced, to witness these gigantic displays of cheek.

Our attention has often been called to the fact that some people continually impose upon the good nature of the masses at the postoffice on Sundays. It is certainly a most villainous imposition, when men have been standing in line for a half hour or more, to have some one who has but just come in, crowd into the very front of the line and not only ask for his own mail, but for several friends also, while the patient ones, who have waited for so long a time can only stand and look at him.

At a time like this the cheek of the much-abused book-agent sinks into utter insignificance.

These imposters are always well-dressed personages and would be mortally offended should any one intimate that they were not gentlemen in every sense of the word; and yet they will trample the grand principles of equality and freedom underfoot for the purpose of obtaining a few dunning letters.

We think we will station ourselves in the postoffice for a few Sundays and publish the names of these chronic imposters.

THE UNIDENTIFIED DEAD.

St. Louis, January 13.—The funeral of the unidentified victims of the conflagration at Belleville, Ill., took place to-day, and was very largely attended.

WASHINGTON WAIFS.

WASHINGTON, January 14.—Among the persons mentioned as possible delegates to the national republican convention in Chicago, are R. G. Ingersoll, Frederick Douglass, A. M. Clapp, R. S. Law, Prof. Gregory and Dr. Parvis.

The supreme court of the United States to-day denied the motion of Myra C. Gaines to compel the city of New Orleans to increase its superadeas bond.

Senator Romero, Mexican minister, paid to-day the eighth installment of the indemnity due January 31, 1884, from Mexico to the United States.

The bill introduced by Mr. Dockery to-day provides for the abolition of postage on newspapers and periodicals June 30, next.

Postmasters eliminated—Seth Smith, Manning, Iowa; Elias Skinner, Manson, Iowa.

Brewster Cameron appeared before the house committee on expenditures to-day and gave lists of all persons discharged from the service of the department during the past few years on account of fraudulent action on their part.

The committee of agriculture of the house and senate are now at work on a bill, the principal feature of which is a provision for the appointment of a government inspector of meats intended for shipment to foreign ports in the hope of compelling foreign governments either to receive American meats or to state the true reason for prohibiting them.
