

Pale, Poor, Puny, and Pallid.
 Considering all the ills that attack little children, it is a wonder that any of the poor little youngsters live to grow up.
 There are children who are truly objects of pity. They seem almost bloodless. Their cheeks are thin and pinched; their eyes are hollow; and their skin is tightly drawn over their foreheads. There is nothing hearty about them. They do not enjoy their lives. They are suffering from the debility that leads to marasmus. Poor things!
 Do a good deed for the pale, poor, puny, pallid child. Hand its mother a bottle of Brown's Iron Bitters. Here is life even for the most delicate, the most debilitated; for the child almost given up for dead. Iron in the blood is what the child needs, to bring it up. The little digestive apparatus will recover. The pale cheeks will fill out. The weary groan of the child will be exchanged for the merry prattle of infantile gladness. Your druggist will tell you what wonders Brown's Iron Bitters has done for very sick children. 11

 "I have worn the Henning's Corset for several years, and it has done more for me than any other corset I have ever worn. It is comfortable, and gives me the support I need. QUEER FREAKS OF NATURE.
Thousands of Main-Springs Breaking
 When the Aurora Borealis Appears—Effects of Demagnetization.
 New York Tribune.
 "Decidedly watches are queer things," said D. H. Hopkinson, of The Jeweller's Circular, seated in the easy chair of his editorial sanctum. "They possess some unaccountable peculiarities. For instance, some time about the beginning of last summer, when there had been a succession of fine displays of the aurora borealis, it was estimated that in a single night in the city of New York the main-springs of not less than three thousand watches broke. This estimate is based on actual inquiries. Fine sensitive watches are particularly liable to be affected by electric disturbances. During the months of June, July, and August, when these phenomena are most frequent, there are more main-springs broken than during all the remaining months of the year. They break in a variety of ways, sometimes snapping into as many as twenty-seven pieces.
 "It is a fact that since the introduction of the electric light has become so general a large number of watches—some of them very fine ones—have become magnetized. While in this condition they are useless as timekeepers. This defect used to be considered incurable, and because of it thousands of watches have been thrown away after many months had been spent on them in vain attempts to persuade them to keep good time. Among the methods resorted to were washing the parts in garlic juice, re-finishing, and passing them through the fire. But all these methods were entirely ineffectual, or only in part effective. I know of a man who had a fine and valuable movement which kept excellent time. He transferred it from a silver case to a second-hand gold one. Immediately it lost all its characteristics of steadiness and reliability, and, in fact, did not keep time at all. When replaced in the silver case it kept good time again. The jeweler, puzzled himself and experimented in vain to discover the cause of this strange partiality on the part of his watch for silver. At length he sent it to an expert. He discovered that the lifting-spring of the gold case had become magnetized. On substituting another for it the watch kept as good time in the gold case as in the silver case.
 "There are cases when it is a very serious matter to have your watch magnetized. The most striking instance in point is one which lately came under my notice. Capt. W. R. Smith, commanding the steamer Delaware, which plies between New York and New London. Before putting to sea on a recent voyage he was invited to inspect an electric light dynamo machine, and examined the parts closely. Soon after getting on board the steamer he observed that the compass became strangely affected when he approached it. Whether he stood on the right or left, or immediately in front of the compass, the needle would invariably point to him. The compass was worse than useless when he came near it. It was dangerous and might wreck the ship. You can imagine that this phenomenon alarmed and puzzled Capt. Smith not a little. At length he recalled his visit to the dynamo machine, and the true solution of the eccentric behavior of the needle flashed upon him. His watch had become magnetized. When he removed it the needle resumed its constancy to the polar star. On his return to the city he took the watch to Mathey Bros. & Mathey, who demagnetized it for him. This firm has invented some machine the mechanism of which is a secret, by which they demagnetize a magnetized watch speedily and effectually. They get watches sent them from all parts of the world to be thus treated.
 "Watches frequently get magnetized in iron mines or in machine-shops, where they are incautiously brought near swift-running belts. I knew a workman who used to hang his watch between the parts of a running belt. He expended a small fortune on main-springs.
 "It is a well-known fact among horologists that no watch will keep the same with two people. The cause has not yet been definitely ascertained, but it would seem that in some mysterious way a watch is affected by the temperature of the wearer. The more physical difference in gait and movement between different people is not sufficient to account for all the variations that have been observed."

Philadelphia Longevity.
 Philadelphia Ledger.
 In the Public Ledger of July 5, 1883, there appeared a record embracing cases of longevity in our city. During the first six months of that year, where the deceased persons had lived to or beyond the advanced age of 80 years. The total for that period was 509 (217 men and 292 women) a greater number than had previously been announced for any corresponding period. During the latter half of 1883 there appeared in the Ledger announcements of the deaths of 401 persons who had lived to or beyond the age of 80 years, and of whom 153 were males and 248 females, the latter outnumbering the former by 95. The total number of deaths of octogenarians announced in Philadelphia during 1883 was 910. Of these 370 were men and 540 were women, and as has invariably been the case since these records have been kept, the female octogenarians were not only more numerous, but the ratio of the ages they have attained were greater than that of the men. Of the 82 men who died during the past six months, or beyond 80 years, the following numbers reached the various ages designated: Eighty years, 18; 81 years, 13; 82 years, 13; 83 years, 17; 84 years, 20; 85 years, 13; 86 years, 8; 87 years, 5; 88 years, 7; 89 years, 7; 90 years, 3; 92 years, 5; 93 years, 2; 94 years, 15; 85 years, 1; 86 years, 1; 87 years, 1; and one died at the age of 104 years.

SIGHTS IN JAVA.
An American Circus—The Ups Tree
 —The Earthquakes.
 Cor. New Orleans Times Democrat.
 Probably the most interesting thing I saw in Java was an American circus, and it was curious to see the crowds of Malays and Chinese as eager to catch a glimpse of the lion or to get a seat next the ring than the average American small boy. It was a most interesting sight, and I believe they are getting to be an institution of our country.
