

THE DAILY BEE.

OMAHA.

Saturday Morning, Jan. 18.

The Weather. For the Missouri valley, generally fair weather, northerly breeze, rising, followed in the northern portions by slight fall of barometer, and colder.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Carrie Millhausen yesterday made complaint in the police court against one of her neighbors for beating her. There was a fine little rain storm early yesterday, and it helped greatly to replenish the cisterns heretofore.

A freight conductor who came in on the Union Pacific from the west yesterday, reported a foot of snow at Valley.

A foot of snow is reported at Dunlap, Iowa, but it does not interfere with the running of the trains, all being on time at the transfer yesterday morning.

The Sweden's Brotherhood met this evening at the board of trade rooms, corner of Sixteenth and Dodge streets, at 8 o'clock p. m. P. Bergquist, Secretary.

Two fellows who obtained two meals each at Peter Goss' hotel Thursday, and then attempted to escape through a side door without paying for them, were arrested and now being held by Judge Benke to await further investigation.

The German club gave another of their most delightful parties in the dining hall of the Millard hotel. It was a very brilliant party in every respect. The tables were exceptionally fine, and a more dainty party is seldom seen in this city.

It was reported on the streets yesterday afternoon, that two of the prostitutes in a prominent house of ill-fame in this city had poisoned themselves. The rumor was not confirmed, however, and those who should know all about it, knew nothing.

The Reints-Stanley company were greeted by a full house last night. While there is not a singer among the number yet there are displayed some finely turned limbs, and that, we suppose, is why the more aged portion of the audience occupied the front seats. The company remain to-night.

The Home Circle club gave their last hop for the season of 1883-84 last night at Masonic hall. About forty couples were in attendance and danced a programme of eighteen numbers to the strains of Irvine's orchestra. J. A. Dalzell, the Fifteenth street caterer, was on hand and supplied the wants of the inner man with delicious ice cream and cake.

We are glad to say in this morning's issue that Dr. C. E. Straubinger has finished his institution and it is open to-day to the public. It is the finest institution of the kind in America. The doctor has spent about $12,000 and has now the best Turkish, Russian and electric medicated and swimming baths, and only skilled attendants will be in waiting.

A memorial service will be held in memory of Rev. G. F. Stelling, D. D., on Sunday evening, January 27th, in Boyd's opera house. Dr. Ort, of Springfield, O., will be present and conduct the services. Several elegiacs from various parts of the state will be recited, and the pastors of the various churches of this city will take part in the exercises.

An order has been issued by the postoffice department at Washington for the United States mail to be carried by postal cars from Shoshone, Idaho, to Ontario, Oregon. This will lengthen the mail service on the Oregon Short Line 175 miles. Assistant Chief Clerk F. O. Harding will leave Omaha today for Shoshone, to perfect the arrangements under this order.

The Council Bluffs members of the G. A. R. have received four Columbian guns to be placed in the cemetery over there as a monument to their dead comrades. They are six and one-half inch guns and their combined weight is 32,000 pounds. They were manufactured in 1829, and have passed through three wars, and have quite a history.

Relatives in this city yesterday received the sad news of the death of Mr. Allen Koch which occurred yesterday morning in San Gabriel, Cal. Mrs. Koch, accompanied by her husband, who remained with her, went to San Gabriel the first of November, in the hopes of arresting the progress of quick consumption, and late letters had spoken hopefully of her health. Her little daughter, three years of age, is in this city.

Henry Godshall, who runs in the Pullman service between Omaha and Peoria, Ill., called on the coroner yesterday to sit on him. His parents live at Hecla, Pa., and he has not been at home for several years and has also neglected writing. Yesterday Kitchen Brown, received a letter from his father saying that he had heard that his son was drowned and wishing information on the subject. Mr. Godshall wrote home that he was still alive and in excellent health.

A colored woman who lives on Charles street, North Omaha, has been complained of by her neighbors for cruelty to her son, who is eleven years of age. She kept the boy out of doors several hours a day in the coldest weather without coat, shoes and underclothing, and as a consequence he froze his feet. The mother, who appears unusually intelligent upon most matters, denied having been cruel to the boy, but when Officer Knight called upon her, she claimed she had done it to make the boy hardy.

The discharge of the cowboys who stopped the excursion train on the Oregon Short Line railway, at American Falls, by the magistrate before whom they were taken for trial, seems to have made them more daring than ever. They have commenced firing at the trains. Engineer Stephen Staley, of the train that was fired on, says there can be no doubt about the evil intent of the parties, as the bullet whizzed by his head through the engine cab, and how he escaped is to him a miracle.

The firm of Guy & Fitch, since the dissolution of the Nebraska Ice company, have gone to work with a will and propose to offer such inducements to consumers of ice as will secure them a large share of the business the coming summer. They have completed filling their large ice houses with the soundest and clearest Missouri river ice, and their facilities for storing and handling the crop will enable them to give their patrons the best of ice, at the lowest possible price. Consumers will do well to interview Messrs. Guy & Fitch as to terms before contracting elsewhere. For the present these gentlemen can be found at the old office of the Nebraska Ice company.

Edwards' Electric Bitters. "Having received so much benefit from Edwards' Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. I have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the same scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Edwards' Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well.

Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25c per box by C. F. Goodman.

A BOLD, BAD MAN.

He Betrays the Confidence of an Old Time Female Friend.

By Robbing Her of Fifty Dollars and Then Leaves Her Alone Among Strangers.

At the St. Charles hotel is staying a lady who gives her name as Margaret Ritter. On Thursday forenoon she went to the hotel in company with a man who registered as A. F. Sutton and lady.

The man remained until after supper, when he paid his own board bill and two dollars on that of the lady's. He then took his departure, telling the lady that he would return at 8 o'clock yesterday morning. The lady waited patiently until after 8 o'clock yesterday forenoon, when she informed the landlord that the fellow had beaten her out of $50.

A Bee reporter called upon her last evening and asked for her version of the affair. She readily consented to give it and said that she had been living at Rochester, Minn., with a brother, and that at the solicitation of friends, she had started on a little trip for the benefit of her health.

The young man who robbed her is an old acquaintance, and started at the same time that she did, and kindly volunteered to look after her baggage, tickets, etc. He also paid her hotel bills and she then refunded to him the money. Thursday forenoon, while crossing the bridge from the transfer, the young fellow explained to her how unpleasant it was for him to go for one and two dollars at a time, and suggested that she let him have $50 all at once, and then he would pay her expenses and give her an itemized account of expenditures. So womanlike, she came down with the $50.

He took her to the St. Charles hotel and there made an excuse that he did not like the house and went to change, and has not yet returned. The lady went to see the marshal but he could give her no satisfaction. She still has $20, and it will take a pretty sharp man to get hold of that.

The fellow who played this mean trick has been known by the lady ever since he was 18 years old, and his right name is Albert Wootter.

The greatest medical wonder of the world. Warranted to speedily cure Burns, Cuts, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Cancers, Piles, Erysipelas, Corns, Tetter, Chapped hands, and all skin eruptions, guaranteed to cure in every instance, or money refunded. 25c per box.

A ROMANCE.

A Young Couple Who are United in Matrimony Without Even Consulting Their Parents.

For some time it has been very apparent to William C. Golden and Emma Dodson that they could not live apart. They had made up their minds that life to them would be a cold and barren waste were they compelled, through any circumstance to spend it in any other state than that of matrimony.

William, it seems, is a helper in the Union Pacific shops, and although his bones and sinews were of steel, yet his heart failed him when he stopped to reflect upon the possibility of a refusal when he should enter the presence of Father Dodson and ask him for his dearest treasure, his daughter.

But there was only one thing to be done to insure happiness, and that was for these "two souls with but a single thought, two hearts that beat as one," to seek a proper personage and be made one and that at once.

On Wednesday afternoon, Emma and her mother were going down town to do some shopping, but Emma made an excuse to go in advance of her mamma, and she has not been seen since by her fond parent.

She at once hastened to the trying place of herself and devoted "Romeo," and together they appeared before Judge Chadwick, and were united in marriage.

Long and anxiously did the fond mother await the coming of her much loved daughter, but alas, she came not. But what is this? A messenger with a note from the happy groom addressed to Mr. and Mrs. Dodson, stating that he had married their daughter, and begging their pardon and blessing.

Mr. Dodson, with true fatherly affection, forgave the young couple, and added that the groom need not have taken that way to get the girl, for if he had asked for her he could have had her and welcome.

An End to Bone Scraping. "Edward Shepherd, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: 'Having received so much benefit from Edwards' Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. I have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the same scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Edwards' Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well.'

Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25c per box by C. F. Goodman.

A LONG RUN.

The Fire Department Called Out Yesterday Morning—An Unlucky Day for No. 2.

About 10:30 o'clock yesterday an alarm of fire was turned in from box 15, corner of Second and Chestnut streets. The fire department responded promptly, and upon reaching the spot, found a small, one story frame dwelling house nearly consumed by the flames.

It was a small structure and stood on the side hill above Boyd's packing house, and on account of the long distance the department had to go, it burned down before they reached the spot. It was occupied by a German family who were fortunate enough to get out all their household effects. The loss will be $200 to $300.

While rushing to the scene of the fire, hose cart No. 2, while turning the corner at Fifth and Pierce streets, slewed around into the ditch, striking some obstruction, and breaking off one of the wheels. The cart was taken to Simpson's shop for repairs. Hose No. 2 is being repaired the cart from No. 3 will be placed in the Tenth street house and the old two-

ROLLER SKATING.

Who Indulge in it and How They Conduct Themselves.

The following racy description of a skating rink will apply to Fremont as well as anywhere, though its original application may not have been intended here. Men with one foot in the grave had the other in the rink, and girls who haven't the second bustle to their name coast the perils of a hardwood floor. It is an interesting study in anthropology to see people fall. No two fall alike. One skater will come down like the crack of drum; another light as gracefully as a horse on a spavin. One will tie his legs up in a bow-knot and saash on his left ear, while another will send one foot on a polar expedition and the other toward the Isthmus of Panama, and come into contact with the floor like a stub-and-twist doughnut with the hings broken. It is better to skate awkwardly than to fall gracefully—better to stand the sneers and frowns of a cold world than to show a hole in your stocking at the angle of the bovine. Too much recklessness is indulged in when falling. A skater should get up in the corner of the room out of the way when he is ready to fall, and fall as nature intended. There is no need of a man pawing in the air and tearing off his buttons and trying to pre-empt a quarter section of land when he falls. Let him settle down like a reformed bridegroom. When about to fall, let him stop and think. Remember that some poor orphan may be coming up the rear like a great lightning, and catch his toes under your arms and do great Corsican brothers' act on the cerebellum. Some beautiful maiden with eyes like the sunlight and cheeks like the rosebud, some happy diadem of girlhood without guile, may jab both feet into your ear. As long as skating rinks are allowed to run at large, men will fall. Adam fell without a skating rink.

Skating is a healthy amusement, but it requires time and limiment to introduce your muscles. Our druggists are doing a healthy business in the liniment trade. We learn that fourteen married men had to eat cold biscuit and head chases the other morning. Their wives had taken hold of the path that leads to tumbles. They felt like a base ball nine and their poor husbands were compelled to either build a fire or eat cold victuals. But these are things of the past. Ladies who cannot lift a cat skate all day at the rate of fifty miles an hour. The rink is certainly a fine place for recreation, and it affords an excellent opportunity to work off surplus energy.

A Starting Discovery. Mr. Wm. Johnson, of Huron, Dak., writes that his wife had been troubled with acute Bronchitis for many years, and that all remedies tried gave no permanent relief, until he procured a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, and Colds, which had a magical effect, and produced a permanent cure. It is guaranteed to cure all Diseases of Throat, Lungs, or Bronchitis. Trial bottles Free at C. F. Goodman's Drug Store. Large size $1.00.

CONSCIENCE STRICKEN. Somebody Returns $25 Stolen from Dr. Isaac Edwards Over Twenty Years Ago.

Wonders will never cease, and all the fools will never die. Yesterday J. E. Edwards received a letter from some person in Alledo, Illinois, in which was two ten dollar bills and one five dollar bill. All that was said was, "please find enclosed $25, in payment for stuff stolen from your father twenty-two years ago, which you will please turn over to the heirs."

No name was signed to the letter, and there is no way of ascertaining who the sender is. What a terrible time that man must have had. For twenty-two long years he has carried in his breast this awful secret which has been constantly gnawing at his conscience like a cancer, until he was forced to yield up $25 of his hard-earned stuff in order that he might find rest from this fearful torture.

John will make good use of the money without any trouble, however.

A Bright Gleam of Winter Sunshine. In New Orleans, on Tuesday, December 18, 1883, General C. F. Bestreger, of La., and Jubal A. Early, of Va., in the presence of a large throng, proceeded to execute their duty as the Commissioners of the Louisiana State Lottery, and a portion of the $150,000 went to a lucky man in San Francisco; ticket No. 21,403 of $50,000; was also sold in fractions, one half of which, costing $25,000, was sold to John Hayes Paige, care of L. D. Alexander & Co., 7 Nassau St., New York City; No. 10,125 drew one third capital prize of $30,000, was sold by mail in New York; No. 44,791 and 63,480 drew each $10,000, the fourth capital prizes, was sold in Savannah, Ga., and New Orleans, La. Other large cash prizes were scattered broadcast by the unquestionably fair distribution among the holders of tickets Nov. 13, 1883, $7,985 and 62,361, each drawing $5,000, living fifty apart in the cities of New York, Boston, Chicago, Washington, D. C., Mansfield, O., St. Louis, Louisville, San Francisco, Cal., Columbus, Ga., Milan, Texas, and New Orleans, La. Names of lucky ones are omitted by request. The next drawing takes place Feb. 12, 1884, about which M. A. Lusk, New Orleans, La., will be happy to give every information.

Resolutions of Respector. At a council meeting of Emmanuel Lutheran church, of Omaha, held January 15, 1884, the following preamble and resolutions were passed by a standing vote:

WHEREAS, Through the mysterious dispensation of God our much beloved pastor, George F. Stelling, D. D., was suddenly and unexpectedly removed by death on the morning of January 8, 1884; therefore, be it

Assembly of the State Convention at Lincoln on Wednesday.

An Elegant Display of Apples—Exchanging Views by the Members.

At nine o'clock Wednesday morning the fruit growers of Nebraska held a formal meeting at Lincoln, for the interchanging of views and to talk over the business of fruit growing in this state. It was a highly interesting meeting, and one which will long be remembered by the members present.

The fruit on exhibition covered full to overflowing five long tables. Among the exhibitors were:

Hon. J. H. Masters, of Otoe county, who shows thirty varieties of hardy winter apples.

E. Shugert, of Beatrice, exhibits twenty-two plates of winter apples and fourteen jars of small fruits in alcohol.

Hiram Craig, of Fort Calhoun, shows thirty-one plates of apples.

E. Beaver, of Richardson county, shows fifty plates.

In the afternoon the roll was called, both of old and new members, after which Treasurer Hartman reported as follows:

Receipts.....$1,700 00
Expenditures.....1,233 89
Balance on hand.....2,916 39

The report was referred to auditing committee.

The awarding committee was then appointed, after which ex-Governor Furnas, and several other members freely expressed their views on the matter of apple growing.

A committee was appointed to attend the meeting of the Mississippi horticultural society, which meets in Kansas City on Tuesday next.

In the evening the election of officers took place, with the following result: President, Samuel Barnard; 1st vice-president, J. H. Masters; 2nd vice-president, Miss Stratton; treasurer, C. Hartman; secretary, J. T. Allen.

On motion of Mr. J. H. Masters the ladies present were tendered honorary membership to the society.

The following ladies who were present at the meeting were then made honorary members of the society: Mrs. R. H. Stratton, Mrs. J. M. Gillespie, Miss Louisa Gillespie, Miss Emma Gillespie, Mrs. S. McConiga.

Major Wheeler moved that the constitution be so amended as to read as follows:

The management of the society shall devolve upon a board of directors, to be composed of a president, vice president, secretary, treasurer and three directors, to be elected at the annual meeting in January of each year.

The directors shall also at said meeting appoint one advisory member from each judicial district, who shall act as chairman of any committee upon the subject of collecting statistics in his judicial district, or such other work as he may be called upon to perform in this society or in his district. The amendment was adopted.

R. W. Furnas, W. H. Dillon and E. N. Giannel were elected directors.

Resolutions were then adopted in regard to the cultivation of timber in this state.

After several premiums had been awarded, the society adjourned until Thursday morning.

FIERCE FLAMES.

Destroyed the Store Houses of Mr. Andrew Moyer's Planing Mill Yesterday Afternoon.

The Buildings Completely Wrapped in the Destroying Flames Before the Discovery of the Fire.

It has been many a long day since the citizens of Omaha have been permitted to witness such a sea of flames as those which enveloped and completely destroyed the store houses of Andrew Moyer, on Ninth street yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Moyer has a large planing mill between Dodge and Douglas streets, a little back from Ninth street. The buildings which were burned yesterday afternoon were used as finishing rooms and store houses, and faced directly on Ninth street, between the two streets above named.

Three men were at work in a distant part of the building and the hot stove set fire to a quantity of shavings which were in close proximity thereto, and when it was discovered the entire building was wrapped in flames.

An alarm was turned in from box 43, Tenth street engine house, and the entire department were on hand in a very few moments, but too late to do anything except protect adjacent buildings.

Mr. Moyer stated to a Bee reporter that the buildings were filled with finished work, and that there was no insurance either on the building or stock. He estimates his loss at $5,000.

A thousand or more people gathered in the neighboring streets, and there remained until the entire structure was burned, and all that remained was pile of smoking debris.

It was nothing more than an old tinder box, there being a large quantity of shavings inside, and all the finished work was dry and well seasoned.

The building was one of the old landmarks, having been built about fifty years ago.
