A Bill to Root Out Polygamy Before the Senate.

Democratic Attitude Toward the Sherman Resolution.

Prospect of a Very Warm Political Debate, If the Republicans Stir Up Southern Outrages.

The Senate and House Adjourn on Report of Mr. Mackey's Death.

FROM WASHINGTON.

MR. HOAR'S ANTI-POLYGAMY BILL. WASHINGTON, January 28.—The anti-polygamy bill reported by Mr. Hoar, from the committee on judiciary, embraces the principal features of the Edmunds bill introduced the present session, and adds other provisions originating with the committee. It provides that in any prosecution for bigamy, polygamy or unlawful cohabitation under any statute of the United States, the lawful husband or wife of the person accused shall be a competent witness, and may be called and compelled to testify; that attachment may be issued for any such witness without a previous subpoena when there is reasonable ground for believing that he or she will unlawfully fail to obey a subpoena issued in the usual course; that such prosecution may be commenced at any time within five years after the commission of the offense, except in cases already barred by the statute of limitation.

It provides for the certification of marriages in the territory, and fixes penalties for violation of its provisions; that the records of marriages, or anything in the nature of a marriage ceremony, civil or ecclesiastical, lawful or unlawful, in any territory, shall be subject to inspection at all reasonable times by a judge, magistrate or other officer of justice under a penalty not to exceed $1,000 fine and two years imprisonment.

It provides for the annulment of all laws permitting woman suffrage in Utah for any public purpose whatever; provides for the annulment of all laws of Utah for identification of voters, and for recognition of the capacity of illegitimate children to inherit, and which confer jurisdiction on probate courts, except in respect to deceased persons and the guardianship of infants and deceased persons.

It provides for the annulment of all laws which provide that prosecutors for adultery can only be commenced by complaint of the husband and wife, and permits that such prosecutions may hereafter be instituted in the same way as prosecutions for other crimes.

It provides that all laws incorporating, continuing or providing for the corporation known as the Mormon church, so far as they preclude the appointment of certain trustees of said corporation, shall be annulled, and the power to annul, and directs the president, the senate concurring, to appoint fourteen trustees for such corporation, they to make an annual report to the secretary of the interior. It makes it the duty of the attorney-general of the United States to institute proceedings for forfeiture to the federal government of property of corporations held in violation of section 3, act of congress of July, 1882; section 30 forfeited to be disposed of by the secretary of the interior, the proceeds to be applied to the benefit of the common schools of the territory in which the property is situated. It gives the secretary of the interior power to compel the production of books and papers by persons managing the property, and all laws for continuance of the perpetual emigrating fund of the company, directs the attorney general to proceed to dissolve that corporation and escheat to the United States all its property in cases of its debtors, the same to be vested in the secretary of the interior for the benefit of the common schools of Utah, abolishes existing election districts and appointments of representation in the territorial legislature of Utah, makes it the duty of the governor, territorial secretary and United States judges of the territory to redistrict the territory and apportion the representation so as to secure equal representation of citizens of the United States according to numbers in said legislature, such establishment of districts and representation to continue till congress otherwise provides; that all registration and elective offices in Utah be declared vacant; that all duties of registration, conduct of elections, canvassing, returning and issuing of certificates of election be vested for the present in a special election board, this board to consist of five persons selected by the president, with the concurrence of the senate, not more than three of whom shall be of one political party, each to receive $3,000 per annum, to continue in office until the territorial legislature shall provide for filling the territorial offices, and that the secretary of the treasury be secretary of the board and attest its action.

It also provides that such board shall not exclude from the polls or refuse to count the vote of any person otherwise eligible to vote on account of any opinion such person may entertain on the subject of bigamy or polygamy.

PREPARING FOR A WARM DEBATE.

The democratic senators held a caucus immediately after the adjournment of the senate to-day, for the purpose of deciding upon a policy to be adopted with reference to Senator Sherman's resolution calling for an investigation of the alleged outrages at elections in Virginia and Mississippi, and also for the purpose of considering the selection of democratic members of the new senate committees. The session, which lasted about three hours, was mainly devoted to the first of these subjects. After a full and general expression of opinion, it was decided that party action should be governed by circumstances when Sherman's resolution should come up for consideration immediately after the adjournment that outrages had been committed and voters being intimidated by criminal violence at elections in the two southern states. If the republican senators in their remarks upon the resolution should treat

The workings are a complete wreck. Sixty-eight horses were killed. No trace was found of the first party of explorers, three in number, including the manager of the colliery. The disaster throws 1,000 men out of employment. A third party penetrated 500 yards into the pit and found two corpses, one of that of Manager Thomas, who led the first rescuing party. Manager Thomas was awarded the Albert medal for heroism in consideration of his bravery in rescuing imprisoned miners a few years ago.

THE IOWA LEGISLATURE.

Gist of Monday's Proceedings.

DES MOINES, Iowa, January 28.—The senate convened at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and a small number of bills were introduced. Donna's bill for repealing the wine and beer clause of the statute was taken from the president's desk. Eastman offered a substitute, a lengthy bill, providing for extreme penalties for the sale or manufacture of any intoxicating liquors, and very thorough and sweeping provisions against the same. A long and earnest discussion occurred over the motion to refer the bill and substitute to a committee, but the matter was finally made a special order for the second day, after recess. Adjourned.

THE SYNDICATE'S PURCHASE—ITS FEATURES AND RESULTS.

THE SYNDICATE PURCHASES. NEW YORK, January 28.—The Evening Post says: We understand that the transaction consummated by the Oregon & Trans Continental company, was substantially this: The company sold to a syndicate 10,000 shares of Oregon Railroad and Navigation company stock at 95, and 30,000 shares of Northern Pacific common at 16, realizing $2,310,000. It also borrowed of the same parties $1,200,000 for six months on Oregon Railroad and Navigation, pledged at 60, no additional margin to be called for in the $3,500,000 loan recently negotiated. The syndicate were given the option on 45,750 shares of each of the three stocks pledged as collateral at par for Oregon Railway & Navigation, 25 for Northern Pacific preferred, and 50 for Northern Pacific common, and supposing the lenders take their option the Oregon Railroad & Navigation company will have left in its treasury nearly 100,000 shares of Oregon Railway & Navigation, 7,000 of Northern Pacific preferred and 75,000 of Northern Pacific common in stock of about 1,500,000 of each class of stocks held at the time the report of the investigating committee was published. These holdings would probably be sufficient to control the Oregon Railway & Navigation company, whose entire capital stock is only 2,240,000 shares, but would be far from sufficient to control the Northern Pacific.

IT WON'T WORK.

CHICAGO, January 28.—A statement is to be published here to-morrow to the effect that though the Union Pacific, Burlington and Denver & Rio Grande have ordered a restoration of freight rates to-day, they have been unable to carry the order into effect by reason of the operations of the western trunk lines' agreement that roads in this agreement connecting with the Union Pacific at Omaha by reason of its terms are permitted to make rates west-bound, and they refuse pending negotiations with the Burlington to bill freight through to Utah points at any other than cut rates which have been prevailing. It is stated that Commissioner Vining to-night telegraphed the chairman of committees at eastern points of the western trunk lines: "Do not accept Utah agreement and will insist on Utah freight being billed at cut rates." It is claimed here that the action of the Union Pacific in this matter was taken either for the purpose of getting out of the late agreement or is led into this trap of violating its conditions by the Burlington.

A SCALPING WAR.

KANSAS CITY, January 28.—In view of certain scalping passenger rates, which it is charged has been due by the Hannibal & St. Joseph brokers, other roads there morning agreed to annul the article of the Kansas City agreement, prohibiting the use of coupon tickets for the purpose of scalping the rate to Chicago and St. Louis. These rates hence will be scalped without penalty, awaiting the Chicago meeting Thursday.

A NEW ROAD.

MILWAUKEE, January 28.—Surveys are begun for a new railroad between Schlesinger, Wis., and Chicago. It is surmised that the branch is intended to give the Wisconsin Central a direct line to Chicago, and railway men say the Northern Pacific will then buy the Wisconsin Central and branch, thus getting direct connection with Chicago.

A LORMAN ACADEMY BURNED.
