ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS

COUNCIL BLUFFS, February 13.-I have noticed recently the name of the late W. cord in the recorder's office, February H. Kinsman, colonel Twenty-third Iowa 13, reported for the BEE by P. J. Mcinfantry, one of the bravest and best of Mahon, real estate agent: taken to have his remains laid away for swi, 9, 74, 58, 8400. final rest at this place. In the winter of lot 13, block 23, Neola, 8500. 1863 I was detailed at the adjutant genen route from Pilot Knob, Mo., to Little block 45, Riddle's sub, $3,000. Rock, Ark., commanded by S. H. Boyd | Clarence K. Hesse to Addie L. Hesse, (Poper) of Springfuld M. Own (Poney), of Springfield, Mo. Our supply train was considerably behind, and nw<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub>, 14 and part e<sup>1</sup>/<sub>5</sub>, 15, 76, 44, $3,000, we laid in camp near West Plains for A. C. Lindner to W. G. Blair, let 4, we laid in camp near West Plains for some length of time. All the infantry were more or less without shoes, and you could hardly find among the cavalry a si sej, 22, 75, 41, and part lot 13, block saddle skirt that was not put in use for 43, Riddle's sub, $800. CHICAGO, MILWAUKEE repairing the same.

Col. R. R. Livingston, of the First Nebraska, commanded a brigade, of which the Twenty-third Iowa was a part. Livingston and Kinsman were not as good friends as might be, owing, in a measure, to the love and respect Kinsman had for his regiment. During our encampment four or five companies (not a colonel's command) were ordered out, I think, on a foraging expedition, as was also Col. Kinsman. The latter very rebefore Justice Schurz yesterday and acspectfally refused to obey any such order, stating as a reason the condition of his men, with snow on the ground, and being almost barefooted, and that as long as he had command he would insist on seemed to feel was that it wasn't thirty their rights, and also informed Col. Livingston there was cavalry that could do all that was required Livingston told him the long-looked-for train was away behind, and could not tell what had become of it, as the enemy was reported in large force between the command and it. Gen'l Pass. Agent. Col. Kinsman replied that if he would allow him to take the Twenty-third he would bring up the train, or know the reason why. This made the Pero of Shiloh hot, and he ordered him under arrest immediately, and to his shame placed a guard of his own men over him. That afternoon, had it not been for Col Kinsman and his officers and the cool heads of the regiment, it would have taken all the First Nebraska, and what was left in "Kass" company to guard Col. 'R. R." and save him from his enemies. The excitement in camp was beyond description, as all the members of the reginent considered it a slur and a direct insult to them. In the following spring I was a witness for Cel. Kinsman in a AT REMOVED TO OMAHA NATIONAL BANK RULLDING FOR court-martial convened at St. Louis, Mo. Fitz John Warren was president of the same, and the result was that Kinsman was relieved of the command of his regi-ment for thirty days. The expiration of that time found him in command of his Nebraska Cornice gallant Twenty-third in the rear of Vicksburg, and a day or two afterwards he lost his life while leading his regiment in a charge, as I understand. # Young Mer.

Who may be suffering from the effects of youthful follies or indiscretions will do well to avail themselves of this, the greatest boon ever laid at the altar of suffering humanity. Dr. Wagner will guarantee to foreit $500 for every case of seminal weakness or private disease of any kind and character which he undertakes to and fails to cure.

Middle Aged Men.

There are many at the age of 30 to 60 who are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation, and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits a ropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of this millicish hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many, many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal-weakness. Dr. W. will guarantee a perfect cure in all cases and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.

A FRIEND TO ALL.

One Who is Needed and Nobly Fills his Place.

Denver is more fortunate than she knows in the possession of the talent's and energies of a man who has given his time and thought not merely to the perfection of his skill as a practitioner of his protession of medicine, but to the study of those profession of medicine, but to the study of those profession of medicine, but to the study of those profession of medicine, but to the study of those profession of medicine, but to the study of those profession of medicine, but to the study of those profession of medicine study of the problem of life and of the laws of nature and the means of gaining the greatest practical goods to mankind from the information thus acquires in the abstract. Such a man is Dr. H. Wagner, who is located at 343 Larimer street. Dr. Wagner devoted many years to the acquisition of the knowledge necessary to his profession in a number of the leading medical schools of the most eminent and profound teachers, such names as Dr. Gross and Dr. Panceast appearing among his preceptors. Nor dit his studies end here. They continued in the field of the practicing family phisician and in the experiences of a man of extensive travel. He has visited every section of the United States paying studious attention to the different characteristics of the various portions of the country, particularly with regard to their effect, climatic and otherwise upon health and the different forms of disease. With the combined powers of close study, extensive observation and almost unline tod practice, Dr. Wagner came to Denver three years ago equipped as few have the right to claim to battle the foe of mankind, the dressed enemy, disease. In order to render the greatest good to society, Dr. Wagner decided to lay aside the general branches of practice and bring all has r pe knowledge and power to bear upon the foe which among the army of insidious death agents is the greatest. His wide experience had taught him what weapons to use and which to discard, and after equipping himself as his trained independent was so well able Denver is more fortunate than she knows in the
