THE DAY IN CHICAGO.

Special Dispatch to THE BEE.

CHICAGO, February 29.—The day on 'change was characterized by dullness, values, however, were well maintained and steady. Wheat was steadier than usual considering the scarcity of outside orders. The entire session was slow, foreign advices quoting inactivity abroad. The cold weather assisted in sustaining prices and "shorts" covered some. Receipts continue small and fluctuations were confined to the narrow range of ⅜c, and closing about ⅜c higher than yesterday. Cash wheat closed at 92@93½c, February 91⅝@92c. The May option was no exception to the general dullness and it ranged from 97½@98c, there being but one sale at each of the above quotations, closing at 97⅜c bid. July alone crosses the dollar line, closing at 1 00⅜. Corn partook of the dullness. Wheat was quiet but steady, what little speculative business was transacted being on local account. Shippers bought moderately of lower grades, and fluctuations were slight, closing a out the same as yesterday. Cash, No. 2 corn varied a cent, according to dates of warehouse receipts, and closed at 52⅜@53⅜c. Sample corn was in good shipping request. Arrivals show less real poor corn. The May option closed at 57⅞c bid; July firm, quotably 2½@2⅝c over May.

There was a slight increase of trading in oats in the early session. Toward the close, however, the market was neglected and dropped ⅛@¼c. Gilt edge No. 2 cash closed at 32½c, being ⅛c under yesterday; May, 36½c. Provisions were also weak and dull.

The cattle market, under light receipts here and in St. Louis, and a better demand in New York, opened active with an advance of 10@15c on shipping and dressed beef cattle, making the advance, as compared with Wednesday, the lowest this day week, equal to 15@25c. This advance is on little cattle of 1,050 to 1,150 pounds; big export cattle do not share in the advance, though they are selling a shade stronger than on Monday or Tuesday. The supply of butchers' stock is about equal to the demand, and prices remain steady. The supply of feeders and stockers continues light, hence only a moderate business, yet prices remain firm. Assorted stockers, 700 lbs, $4 50; light handy steers, 1019 lbs., $5 40; shipping steers, 1058 to 1313 lbs., $5 40@6 40; corn fed Texans, 1331 to 1059 lbs., $5 50@5 75; dressed beef steers, 995 to 1434 lbs., $5 50@6 50; export, 1400 to 1607 lbs., $6 50@6 85.
