

THE DAILY BEE.

COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Tuesday Morning, March 4.

Subscription Rates: By Carrier 30 cents per week; By Mail $10.00 per Year.

Office: No. 7 Pearl Street, Near Broadway. MINOR MENTION.

Additional local on seventh page. It was pretty close on Auditor Burke yesterday.

New spring goods just received at J. Reiter's, the tailor, 310 Broadway.

New goods arriving daily at the carpet store of Casady, Orcutt & French.

A number of cases which were to come up in the police court yesterday have gone over until this morning.

The county clerk yesterday issued a matrimonial permit to Julius Fahrman and Priscilla Grossman, both of Omaha.

Atlantic parties are soon to open up a boot and shoe stock in the Main street store of Burnham, Tulley & Co.'s building.

Kiel's hotel is being improved by a new floor in office and dining room, and otherwise being fitted up better than ever.

Harkness Bros. are just now getting in some elegant new goods and opening them up as fast as possible. They evidently intend staying at the front in their line.

The question of how the proposed paving is to be assessed is still unsettled. If each lot is to be assessed for the actual work done in front of it to the center of the street it will come heavy on those which are located at the wider portions of Broadway.

Elder E. C. Briggs, of Carson, Iowa, will continue his series of doctrinal discourses at the Saint's Chapel on Pierce street, near Glen avenue, this and the three following evenings. All persons are earnestly invited to attend services at 7:30 each evening.

Yesterday afternoon a farmer's team attached to a light wagon took a lively run down Broadway, with a little boy in the wagon. The horses became detached from the wagon, and skipped out leaving the wagon to roll along for a distance as though wound up and running itself.

James Sullivan slipped on the sidewalk by the Citizens bank yesterday, falling so as to strike his head on the curbing, knocking him insensible. He was carried into a drugstore, and restored to consciousness, and will doubtless get along all right with the exception of a sore hand.

The communion of the Lord's Supper was celebrated in the Presbyterian church yesterday, at which thirty-four united with the church, eleven of whom were baptized. It was a very interesting and profitable service, and the church is greatly revived and quickened, and is preparing to do its share of the Lord's work in this city.

The committee on invitation of Hawkeye Lodge, I. O. O. F., wish to announce that through an unavoidable accident a number of invitations for the party to be held at Bloomer & Nixon's hall on March 6th have not reached their destination. Those desiring an invitation will receive the same upon application to any member of the committee.

Mrs. J. W. Shoop, proprietor of Lower's hotel, telephoned to police headquarters last evening for an officer to come and arrest her husband, who has been drunk for the past two weeks and was abusing her. On arrival of the police, she said that she wished to have her husband quieted, but would make no complaint; so the policeman returned to his post.

Rev. Mr. Mackey Sunday night gave a lecture on John Calvin, which was pronounced by those who heard it one of the best delivered by him in this city, which is saying much. Next Sunday night he is to take up the Calvin doctrines, the last discourse being mainly biographical. It is understood that he intends delivering a series of these Sunday night discourses on prominent men.

The contest for an elegant gold watch, to be presented to the best lady skater, who has to win it three times in order to keep it, takes place this eve, and the following ladies are expected to be among the contestants: Miss Jennie De Haven, Miss Mattie Palmer, Miss Kittie Whitney, Miss Ida Testevin, Miss Eva Mason. At 10 o'clock to-night the skaters will clear the floor, and a half hour to an hour will be given over to dancing.

Yesterday afternoon there was quite a serious accident to one of the drivers and teams of the Shugart Implement company. The drawing of dirt for street filling purposes has caused Wilcox avenue to be raised in ridges by dirt falling from passing wagons, and in turning off Main street into the alley the wagon heavily loaded with castings was overturned. The driver, Jarrett Bergen, was thrown to the ground and some castings fell upon him. He was at first thought to be seriously injured being unconscious, but on being carried into an adjacent house, he was restored to consciousness, and it was discovered that no bones were broken, though his side and leg were badly bruised. One of the horses was also hurt badly, and it is feared that he is permanently disabled.

Order flowers for weddings and funerals from W. H. Foster, Harrison street.

STOPPED BY SCOTT.

The County Supervisors Enjoined From Counting the County Court House Vote.

Knox, Layton and Macedonia Townships Objected to.

A Move Which will Cause a Howl.

Yesterday, the county board of supervisors met to canvass the vote on the propositions to build a new court house and jail. The returns as they have come in show that the propositions were defeated by a majority of between two hundred and three hundred, but there is curiosity, of course, to know just what the official count shall show. While the supervisors were still at the work, a petition was presented to Judge Lyman, by Scott & Stewart, as attorneys, asking for an injunction to restrain the board from canvassing the votes of Knox and Layton townships. The petitioners were W. S. Pettibone, John Schneider and other citizens too numerous to bring before the court. The claim was made that in Avoca, Knox township, the polls were opened and votes received at 8 o'clock in the morning instead of at 9 o'clock, and were kept open until 10 o'clock at night, without any proclamation being made that they were to be kept open after 6 o'clock P. M. The claim against the legality of the Layton township vote was that the polls were kept open in like manner until after 9 o'clock. Judge Lyman issued the injunction, the petitioners giving bonds of $500. While the supervisors were canvassing the votes Sheriff Guittar entered the room with the necessary papers and served them. C. R. Scott, in behalf of taxpayers also filed a protest against the counting of the votes of Macedonia township, the following being the protest: To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of Pottawattomie County, Iowa.

GENTLEMEN: We the undersigned voters and tax payers of Pottawattomie county, Iowa, hereby protest against the counting and canvassing the pretended votes contained in the pretended poll books of Macedonia township purporting to be poll-books kept and taken in on the 20th day of February 1884, and purporting to be cast upon the proposition for issuing bonds of said county for the purpose of erecting court house and jail in said county for the reason that there is no legal or authentic return of the same as by statute required and for the reason that said pretended poll-book was not delivered to the auditor of said county by any Judge of said election from said township or by anyone authorized by law to deliver the same.

C. R. SCOTT, J. H. STEWART, W. H. WALK. County Attorney Myster who had been notified of what was going on was present and advised the board to let the vote of Macedonia rest until the other townships were decided upon by the court.

The objection to the returns from Macedonia is that they were sent in by the judges of election in person. The official count so far as it was proceeded with was as follows on the court house, and that of the jail differed from it only by a few votes:

Table with columns: TOWNSHIPS, No. of Voters, No. of Votes. Lists townships like Council Bluffs, 1st ward, 2nd ward, 3rd ward, 4th ward, Bloomer, Carson, Crescent, Center, Grove, Garner, Hardin, Hazel Dell, James, Keg Creek, Lincoln, Lewis, Macedonia, Minden, Neola, Newark, Pleasant, Rockford, Silver Creek, Valley, Washington, Waveland, Wright, York.

The vote of Layton township, which was not canvassed, is known to have been 3 for and 302 against the court house, and that of Knox township 5 for and 566 against. That of Macedonia was 2 for and 210 against, so that the vote if counted, would give a grand total of 253 against the proposition.

The matter will not probably be brought to a final hearing till the August term of court. The injunction will raise a howl in the county, and Avoca will be red hot for a time. What the final outcome will be is difficult to determine.

PERSONAL.

K. E. Harkness now gladly makes room at the Stedens for another little one, this time a little maiden, and a happy home is made still happier. F. P. Grant, Wilmington, Del., is at the Ocean. Frank W. Paul, of the 'Sam'l' Posen Co., was in the city yesterday. Mrs. Everett and her son Leonard Everett, are expected home about the middle of this week from a three weeks trip in the east. Mr. Everett's health is reported as much improved.

prohibitory legislation in Iowa, while we cannot raise a sufficient amount to build a chapel in the outskirts of our city, where children could be taken from the streets and taught morality and religion, and fitted for being sober and industrious citizens? Why is it that thousands of dollars have been raised in the various cities of Iowa, by the disorderly and even assisted by some of the respectable citizens to aid in the election of officers to perpetuate the vices of gambling and drunkenness when so many people shrivel up when asked to give their mite to support a Sunday school or a church and other benevolent institutions which lift the people to a higher plane of morality and make them secure the purpose of their creation in a better life in this world, if not in the world to come? THE CITY ELECTION.

The Polls the Centre of Interest Yesterday.

Only a Few Bloody Noses.

Yesterday the polling places were about the only places where there was much going on. There were not so crowded and excited gatherings as have been seen on previous years. The recent court house election had left off some of the accumulated enthusiasm, and drained some of the campaign pocket funds so there was not as much money floating about as usual on either side. Vaughan had most of the music in the air and banneted wagons, or at least the democrats had them, and that meant yesterday the same thing. The saloons were supposed to be kept closed tight, but still there were plenty of visible indications that men found something to drink somewhere. There were a few rows, and few bloody noses. The First ward seemed to have more than its share of these. Early in the forenoon one of these was started by a darkey, who was trying to get in a vote, but was obstructed by a man who was standing at the window, whose vote had been challenged, and who did not seem inclined to stand aside. In the crowding and jostling the darkey was squeezed, and immediately struck out with a 'lung-shot, striking John Dunn on the head and almost knocking him down. The blood spurted from the wound, and Dunn rallying struck back. For a few minutes there was a general free-for-all fight, but quiet was soon restored. In the melee Dunn received a cut on the finger, the gash being almost to the bone. In the same ward in the afternoon another fight occurred, and one man with a badly punched head was taken down to the station by two officers, whom he entreated as he staggered along with glowing accounts of how valiant a fighter he was. At each polling place there were more or less drunken hurrahs and loud talkers, and it was early in the day evident that if noise was to win the Vaughan or the battle.

The real voting was lighter than the noise. At 2 o'clock there had been only 1300 votes cast. But after that there was more enthusiasm shown. Still, many of the faces and forms familiar on such occasions were missing, or if there at all were doing little real work.

It seemed to be conceded before the closing of the polls that the democratic ticket had in the main carried the day, but there were a large number of split tickets, and the counting of these was tedious and prolonged, extending far into the night.

The total vote in the city was about 2,800. At midnight it was conceded that Mayor Vaughan had carried the city by over 200 majority.

It seems that most of the republican ticket was defeated, with the exception of Siedentopf, alderman-at-large, and Testevin, city engineer. At 11 o'clock the Third ward had counted its votes. Although a republican ward it gave Vaughan 60 majority and for the democratic candidate for marshal, Harle, republican candidate for city attorney, received 15 majority, and Testevin, republican candidate for city engineer, 39.

For alderman-at-large the vote stood: Siedentopf, 225; Phillips 133; Pettibone 108.

The state encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic will be held at Marshalltown, April 22, 23 and 24. There will be a large attendance of old soldiers.

Engle Grove has had its first fire. Two buildings were burned; a building belonging to Mrs. Moats, occupied by a primary school, and an unoccupied building adjoining belonging to Fred Bower. It is suspected that the fire was the work of an incendiary.

A $4 000 addition to the public school is one of the substantial improvements to Audubon this spring.
