

THE DAILY BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Friday Morning, March 14.

Subscription Rates: By Carrier 30 cents per week; By Mail $10.00 per Year.

Office: No. 7 Pearl Street, Near Broadway.

MINOR MENTION.

Cheap railway tickets, 4 Pearl St. Additional local on seventh page. Cheap tickets over all roads at No. 4 Pearl street. New spring goods just received at J. Reiter's, the tailor, 310 Broadway. Charles Bennett was yesterday fined $3.50 for being drunk. Justice Schurz has wedded Charles Turk to Beatrice Briggs. Sam'l of Posen drew a good crowd at the opera house last night. The frame work of the roof of the new Masonic temple looms up big. This evening the Congregationalists have a social at Mrs. Otis' residence. Five free lodgers and one plain drunk are the daily average at the city jail now. The Mountain Pink is the entertainment set for the opera house this evening. Work on the addition to Max Mohn's Creston house is being pushed forward lively. Postmaster Armour has ten new mail boxes to be put in position on the streets. Mayor Vaughan, Alderman Mynter and Marshal Quarella have filed their bonds. The Bavarian band has been to Millard, Neb., playing for an entertainment there. There is a probability but not a certainty of the Avoca court bill being defeated. The Y. M. C. A. is growing. A baker's dozen were added to the membership this week. The Omaha roller skaters are expected over this evening to go in for a good time at the rink here. Leave to marry was yesterday given to J. H. Osborn, of Hazel Dell, and Lavina Rosa, of this city. There are good prospects for the defeat of the bill by which Des Moines seeks to monopolize the supreme court. The old council is expected to meet to-night, provided the mayor and absent aldermen return from Des Moines in time. There were some typographical errors in the report of the Home of the Friendless yesterday. It appears this morning in better shape. There were no services at the Episcopal church here yesterday, and a number from this parish went across the river to attend Bishop Clarkson's funeral. The friends of Nazarinus who is charged with an indecent assault upon Max Mohn's little girl, have arrived from the east and propose to make a strong fight in his favor. The case will probably come up next Tuesday. The next match of the Young Men's Shooting club will be on the 24th. D. F. Stubbs has already won two out of the three contests necessary to win the gold medal, and much interest is felt as to whether he will take the third. March 17, St. Patrick's day, in the evening, is to be observed by a grand ball to be given by the Ancient Order of Hibernians. They purpose to make it the most enjoyable and successful social event ever given under their auspices. L. W. Tulley's residence had a narrow escape from fire. Gas was leaking in the cellar, and Mr. Tulley going down to see the cause of the peculiar smell, lighted a match which caused a blaze to flash like lightning, but it was speedily suppressed. The Swedish Weekly Blade, of which Theodore Hessel of this city is the editor, is a new addition to the journalistic field of Council Bluffs and Omaha. It has a clean look, and starts out with an apparently liberal patronage and good prospects of success. Those interested in the Union Consolidated Mining company are joyous over the receipt of a very encouraging letter from D. W. Thomas, who is superintending their interests in Utah. He writes that the tunnel is completed, and that a vein, which promises big, is ready for working. The C. & N. W. R. R., will transport ore, for seeding purposes only, between any of its stations in Iowa free, until June 1, 1884. If the corn is consigned to dealers, they must guarantee that the corn will be sold for seed only, at an advance of not more than 10 cents per bushel over cost. Prof. Goodall, who manages the Omaha rink for Mr. Elliot, was over Wednesday evening and gave an exhibition at the roller rink and afterwards acted as umpire for the practice game of polo. He is very anxious for the Bluffs six to play the Omaha six a match game of polo, and says the Bluffs boys do remarkably well for the amount of practice they've had. There is considerable talk on the streets as to the possibility of Walters superseding Templeton as chief of the fire department. The friends of Walters seem very confident, but it seems hardly possible that the city council will openly violate the ordinance which provides clearly that the chief cannot be removed except for cause. The attempt to supplant him seems to be based not on the claim that Walters is the better man of the two, but that he worked at the polls for the democratic ticket. Templeton is a democrat, but as chief of the department he is prevented from working actively at elections, and ought to be. The Walters move is simply a repetition of the attempt made in regard to the city schools, and ought to be set down on just as squarely. If the fire department or the city schools are to be treated as mere political plunder, there will be a lively protest on the part of the best citizens. As Chief Templeton has given perfect satisfaction, the council will hardly dare to override public sentiment and the law framed by themselves. Two pitiable cases came into prominence yesterday showing how John Barleycorn will get men down. One man, Charles Bennett, found himself locked up for several days, being unable to pay for his spree. A short time ago his wife applied to the overseer of the poor, she having no fire and but little food in the house, although her husband is hearty and husky enough to earn a good living were it not for the fact of his yielding to drink. The overseer sent the woman some coal, and the next morning went to the house to see how they were getting along. There was a meagre meal on the breakfast table, but the head of the family was washing down his bread with draughts from a pint bottle of whisky. Another case was that of Jennings, a one-armed veteran, who had to be locked up yesterday to get the whisky out of him. He is a single man, well liked by his comrades, and on his pension of $30 a month ought to get along, but every time he gets his pay he goes on a big spree, spends his money, pawns his clothes, borrows of friends, and gets clear down every way. His old soldier acquaintances now propose to join together and prosecute the first saloonist who sells him a drink. WINDOW SHADES at cost! at BEARD'S Wall Paper Store. THE CARNIVAL. The Skating Rink Crowded Last Night with Many Maskers. A Bicycle Surprise. Last evening there was one of the largest crowds ever gathered at the roller skating rink. None but those en masque were allowed on the floor. A number of Omaha skaters were present. Among those who took part were the following: Joe Smith, duce; George Ferguson, clown; Charles Palmer, C. O. Morse, harlequin; J. Reiley, New York swell; F. B. Montgomery, naval cadet; Tommy Metcalf, domino; Charles Bray, base ball player; Charles Mueller, newspaper costume; W. W. Nason, prince; Burt Testevin, lieutenant; Augustus Cobalt, Senator O'Brien; James Bonn, jockey; Jas. Palmer, "a lawyer, and my name is Marks"; I. C. Lindsay, prince; M. F. Hudson, huzzar; Claude, "Sir Willoughby"; Barrett, clown; F. P. Sewell, Boston scholar; Mrs. Nason, huntress; Miss Eva Nason, queen of bells; Miss Amy, nihilist; Morris Zauvalahsen, Turk; F. Colwell, clown; H. Allen, minister and man; Frank Lang, English officer; George Henry Pickard, traveling man; Mrs. B. Hicks, peasant girl; Mrs. Hall, evening; Edward L. Lquire, English lord; Miss De Haven, English maid; Eddie Mueller, orchestra leader; Burt Evans, court jester; Lillian Brewster, flower girl; L. Gray, in Italian evening dress; Miss Whitney, fancy costume; Miss Lu Smith, dolly maiden. The grand march was led by Mr. Henry, of Omaha, and Miss Whitney, of this city. Mr. Chapman, the manager, sprung a pleasant surprise upon those present. Wilnot and Sewell, the wonderful Boston bicyclers, were introduced to the attendance. They had chanced to be passing through here on their way to Denver, and were induced to remain here for last evening and to-night. They certainly are wonderful in their double acrobatic bicycle riding. They begin their riding where other bicyclers leave off, and created a great deal of enthusiasm last night. By one flying jump from the floor, Sewell alighted on Wilnot's shoulders, and while in this position they spun around a circle on the front wheel, the rear wheel being entirely off the floor. As a finish to the exhibition, Wilnot took off everything except the big wheel, the handles and treads, and rode several times around the room on that, the smaller wheel being entirely detached. They will remain here this evening to give another exhibition, and will then proceed directly to Denver, thence to San Francisco, and on their return may stop off at Omaha. Real Estate Transfers. The following deeds were filed for record in the recorder's office, March 13, reported for Tax by P. J. McMahon, real estate agent: Sheriff to William H. Sard, lot 7, block 5, and lot 8, block 23, Avoca, $637.85. William H. Sard to W. H. Benjamin, lot 7, block 5, and lot 8, block 23, Avoca, $2,000. Eaton M. Miller to Lewis E. Miller, $100, 7. 74, 39, $3,000. Wm. Claffin to O. Lanzdorfer, lots 20 and 21, block 22, Railroad add, $40. Hannah Best to Elizabeth Clark, part lot 28, original plat, $1,200. Lucy J. Bigelow to J. B. Johnson, $1,000, 4. 77, 38, $2,408. Margaret Churchill to J. B. Johnson, lot 6, Bigelow's add to Walnut, $105. Total sales, $9,450.85.

HARD ON LABOR. The Workmen Get But Little Profit Out of the Street Work. A Sample Case. There have been many facts shown up by THE BEE as to the way in which the present work of street filling is being done. Contracts are let at prices from thirty to sixty per cent higher than usual, and one would naturally think that some share of these extra prices would be given the men of muscle who do the work. It seems not, though. The city council claims to let to the lowest bidder, and hence relieves itself of blame. The contractors claim that they have to bid high, and make a margin to cover the trouble and the doubt as to where and when they are to get paid. The laboring men, however, have not capital to carry on law suits, or to live while all these complicated questions are being settled by the dreary rounds of the court. One illustration will suffice to show in what condition many of the laboring men are placed. A German who has been in this country for about two years and who has lived in this city for about a year, states as his experience, that he sought work and was given it, shoveling dirt at one of the Bluffs. The man understands but little English, and understood that he was to receive $1.50 a day. He worked on, and when it became necessary to have money to pay his board, he asked for some that was due him. He then found that he could get no cash, but must take his pay in orders on stores in town. On finishing up he got as his pay the following order: $19.25 COUNCIL BLUFFS, Jan 26, '84. John Beno & Company: Pay to S. Keller nineteen dollars and twenty-five cents, and charge to account of RIDPATH & HOOTEN. No. 24. The German is a single man and has no use for so much groceries or dry goods, and learned that this was all that would be given on the order. He tried to sell it for cash, and at a discount, but no one seemed willing to discount it. After holding the order for some time, and trying to dispose of it, he says he yesterday thought he would get some goods on the order, and then sell the goods, but on inquiry was informed that the firm would not honor the order, they having ceased doing so two or three weeks ago. At the best this way of paying off workmen makes the wages not much more than a dollar to a dollar and a half a day, by the time any cash is realized on the orders. The council should take some steps to insure the payment of these workmen, who are doing honest work on the streets, and such workers should be protected from being subjected to such shaves and perplexities as now arise daily. Roller skaters, the best yet in the market at J. Mueller's. FOUND GUILTY. Thomas Watson Declared the Murderer of Old Man Shelley. The trial of Thomas Watson for the murder of old man Shelley near Malvern, has come to an end, the jury yesterday morning about 1 o'clock bringing in a verdict of guilty and fixing the penalty at imprisonment for life. The victim of the murder was a rather peculiar old man, who lived in a peculiar way a short distance from Malvern. He had a little house or shack, where he lived and where he kept on sale a few little articles, such as canned goods, tobacco, etc. One morning he was found lying on the floor brutally murdered and it was almost impossible at first to get any clue to the murderer or to his motive. It was at last ascertained that Watson, who worked for a neighboring farmer, had the old man's revolver and watch, and this led to the arrest. His explanation as to how he came in possession of these articles were contradictory and he also made other statements which amounted against him strongly in the trial. The attorneys for the defense were finally forced to set up the plea of insanity as the only one to stem the irresistible tide of testimony, but it was of no avail. The jury on retiring were all convinced of Watson's guilt, but they hung several hours on the question of hanging. Two would not vote for capital punishment, and after staying out from 6 o'clock on Wednesday evening until 1 o'clock yesterday morning, an agreement was reached on confinement for life. The property got of the old man was worth but a few dollars at the most, and with so little gain in that direction, and no personal malice being apparent, it still seems a mystery that the young man should have any motive in so brutal and bloody a deed.
