PATRIOTIC PATRICKS.

Processions and Perorations in Praise of Their Popular Patron.

A Creditable Celebration--A Number of Outside Visitors.

The Literary and Musical Exercises in the Afternoon--A Drib for Dr. Miller.

Yesterday being St. Patrick's day, it was quite generally observed by the Irish citizens of this city, assisted by a number from Council Bluffs, a score from Plattsmouth, and quite a delegation from Dunlap, Harrison county, Iowa.

At 9:30 the Hibernian Rifles, headed by the A. O. H. band, marched to the depot and escorted the Council Bluffs delegation from thence to Masonic hall.

At Masonic hall the procession was formed in the following order: A. O. H. Band, Hibernian Rifles in full uniform, divisions from Council Bluffs with band, visiting divisions from Dunlap and Plattsmouth, and Divisions 1 and 2 of Omaha.

The line of march was as follows: From Masonic hall south on Sixteenth street to Douglas; east on Douglas to Tenth; south on Tenth to Harney; west on Harney to Fifteenth; north on Fifteenth to Farnam; east on Farnam to Tenth; north on Tenth to Douglas; west on Douglas to Sixteenth; north on Sixteenth to Iard; countermarch on Sixteenth to Masonic hall.

Shortly after 2 o'clock, in the presence of a crowded attendance, the exercises commenced at Masonic hall, the platform of which had been appropriately decorated with flags and banners, the hallowed green being predominant in all the ornamentation.

At the conclusion of the exercises, the members of the Grand Army of the Republic who had taken part in the parade, introduced the Omaha Glee club, who rendered in melodious tones a stirring martial song. They were recalled amid much applause to repeat the concluding stanza.

At the conclusion of the quartet Mr. M. A. Hartigan announced to deliver the initial oration. He began by quoting from a celebrated author the saying that "Sad is the lot of the man without a God, a faith and a country."

He then discussed the life and works of St. Patrick, claiming him to have been born in Britanny, a part of Gaul, then a Roman province, in the year 387, and that he was a prisoner in 403 by pirates, and carried to Ireland as a slave, where he became a missionary.

AN INHUMAN WRETCH.

He Passes His Time in Beating His Wife of Less Than a Year.

His Disgraceful Treatment Causes His Wife's Friends to Threaten a Coat of Tar and Feathers.

The young man spoken of in the Saturday evening Bee as having brutally whipped his wife, is none other than John W. Lauer, secretary, treasurer and manager of the Omaha Nail Manufacturing company.

It has been the common practice of this man to beat and abuse his wife, commencing almost before the orange blossoms had been cast aside, and continuing until Friday last, when he capped the climax by whipping her in a most brutal manner, after which he left the house.

In May last John Lauer was married to Miss Sallie Goetschus, a young lady of noble qualities, and as sweet a tempered girl as was ever permitted to enter the holy bonds of matrimony, at least that is the reputation given her by her friends.

Scarcely two months had elapsed when Lauer commenced his tyranny and abuse and it became so strong that his wife informed him that she could not stand it longer. His hard heart was somewhat melted by this declaration and he agreed to do better and begged for a trial of one month, promising that he would, at the end of that time give her half the property and leave in case he did not consider himself properly. The matter went along and grew from bad to worse, and the little lady, was either so terrified or ashamed that she did not say anything of her troubles, not even to her mother but quietly and wearily bore them alone.

At one time in a fit of mad jealousy, he drew his revolver from his pocket and struck her in the face with the weapon, the mark of which she still carries. On last Christmas day Mrs. Lauer dressed herself for breakfast and was seated at the table pouring the coffee when Lauer came into the room and struck her upon the side of the head, knocking her to the floor. He then went down town, and returning at dinner time, found his wife in bed, ill from the effect of the beating he had given her, and the table with the breakfast dishes upon it, standing in the centre of the room. He took the coffee pot and threw it onto the bed covering, scattering the liquid and grounds all over his sick wife. Not being satisfied with this, he went to the kitchen and procured a turkey which was intended for the Christmas dinner, and beat his wife in a most horrible manner so that she was confined to her bed for several days.

The poor woman bore all this abuse from the man whom she had unfortunately wedded, without a murmur. About a month ago Mr. Goban and his wife came to this city, and went to board with Mr. and Mrs. Lauer, as Mr. Goban was engaged in superintending the work of putting in the new furnaces at the nail works. Ever since Mr. and Mrs. Goban entered the house they have been annoyed by the brutal manner in which Lauer treated his wife. On Friday night last Lauer and Goban together went to the theatre. They returned after the performance and Mr. Goban went to his room. He had been there but a short time when he was disturbed by a loud noise, as if one person was beating another in the room below. This noise was followed by a woman's scream. Mr. Goban quickly descended to the door of Lauer's room, and demanded admittance. After a time the door was opened, and Mr. Lauer was partially undressed and gave unmistakable signs of having been roughly handled. Lauer looked decidedly sheepish, and put on his coat and hat and went down town and passed the night.

On Saturday morning, P. E. Her, Mrs. Lauer's uncle, took a carriage and drove to Lauer's house and conveyed the lady to his house. She was so distressed that it was necessary to carry her from the carriage to the house. She is now lying ill at Mr. Her's residence and is threatened with brain fever, so severe has been the mental strain.

No excuse is offered by the brute for the inhuman treatment of his wife, and it is certainly can be no excuse for a man's striking a woman, and more especially when that woman is his wife, and the lady's friends are talking very strongly of applying a coat of tar and feathers to the cowardly carcass of Lauer. The lady's relatives and friends insist that she shall never again live with the man who has so shamefully and brutally treated her.

Theron P. Keator, Editor of Ft. Wayne, Ind., "Gazette," writes: "For the past five years have always used Dr. King's New Discovery for the cure of my rheumatism, and as well for those of a milder type. It never fails to effect a speedy cure. My friends to whom I have recommended it, speak of it in the same terms. Having been cured by it of every cough I have had for five years, I consider it the only reliable and sure cure for coughs, colds, etc." Call at C. F. Kasper, South Thirteenth street; and A. B. Snowden, 312 South Thirteenth street, for keeping open their respective saloons Sunday.

While speaking of keeping open saloons on Sunday, Officer Ruane had a thrilling escapade Sunday evening. He was hanging around Barney Shannon's saloon, corner of Tenth street and Capital avenue, and while other people were passing in and out, Ruane slipped in and was confronted by both Barney and his bartender. "We want no informers or policemen here," said Barney, "so get you out of my house." Ruane refused to go, and Barney went for the trusty, rusty old sabre which hangs against the wall. Ruane finally escaped with his life, and Barney will be called upon to answer to the charge of selling liquor on Sunday.
