

THE DAILY BEE.

OMAHA.

Wednesday Morning, March 19.

The Weather.

For the Upper Mississippi valley: Light rains, followed by partly cloudy weather and northwesterly winds, becoming variable; slight rise of temperatures. Missouri valley: Fair weather in northern portions; light rain in southern portions; northeasterly winds becoming variable; slight rise of temperature.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

New crop of seed for Iowa, Shugart, Waite & Wiles, Council Bluffs, Iowa. The mud was scraped off of Douglas street yesterday. The spring rains have set in, and the mud is already several inches deep and still going down. There was a lively runaway on Hamilton street Monday evening. It was a delivery team attached to a light wagon. No one hurt. The river is stationary and the ice is beginning to break up. It will be clear in a day or two. Barney Shannon has given notice that he will allow no police officer to enter his saloon except he has a warrant or an alarm is given. "Westward the star of Empire takes its way." A fruit and nut stand has been established at the corner of Fifteenth and Farnam streets. A new addition, Highland Place, has been added to the city on the west side. A plot of the same was filed in the county clerk's office yesterday morning. A winter was taken with a fit, caused by lead poisoning, on a red line street car Monday evening. Some of the gentlemen passengers rubbed him and worked over him until he recovered. Charles Koster has painted some very fine signs upon the windows of Frank Lange. The signs are among the finest in this city, and reflect great credit upon Mr. Koster. Four disturbers of the peace were before Judge Benke yesterday morning. One was discharged and the other three were sent up to the county jail to board out a fine of $5 each and costs. West Cumins is the name of a new addition to Omaha, the map for which was filed yesterday. It is directly west of the Academy of the Sacred Heart and comprises two blocks of twenty-two lots each. Complaint has been filed against Barney Shannon and Gallagher, the bartender, for resisting and obstructing an officer. Shannon has also been filed against Alice Shannon for keeping open her saloon on Sunday. Leo Larson, of the firm of Wilson & Larson, is the father of a ten pound boy, which put in an appearance yesterday morning. The mother and child are doing well, and the father has grown an inch in the last twelve hours. Ira Jones and Byron Sheppard were yesterday arrested on a charge of burglary. It is claimed by the police that they are the parties who broke into the store of Nave, McCord & Co., on Tenth and Farnam, on last Friday night. The thieves secured but little plunder, the most of it being four and coffee. "Grip," the ubiquitous and active little bull terrier who belonged to Little & Williams, and a terror to all rats in the Fourth ward, was poisoned Sunday. He was not a beauty, but everybody took a fancy to the beast and petted him, and some time ago an opera company carried "Grip" off to St. Joe, whence he was recovered by a telegram. That piano advertisement which has created some controversy between rival houses, found its way into THE BEE more through an inadvertence on our part, than through any underhanded design on the part of the firm offering it. Owing to the placing of the credit at the head of the article instead of at the bottom, the printer made it appear as if the concluding comments were those of THE BEE. John Fyman was last night arrested by Officer Smith and lodged in the city jail. Fyman is the man who filed a complaint on last Saturday against S. D. Halloway charging him with swindling the complainant out of $825. Efforts were being made to compromise the matter, and Fyman was jailed by the police in order that he may be present when Halloway is brought from Chicago, as appearances indicated that he intended to leave Omaha last night. Monday evening about 9 o'clock a telephone message was received at the city jail stating that a man was prowling around Brownell hall frightening the inmates, who thought he was designing a robbery. An officer was sent to the place and found one of the neighbors, who had been out to see St. Patrick, and had become so muddled by his visit that he was unable to find his home. The officer took him to his place of abode and there left him.

IMPORTANT CASES.

New and Untried Questions Brought Before the Courts of This County.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Harmon have each brought suit against the city of Omaha in the district court to recover damage of about $4,000 to their property, by reason of the grading of Pierce street between Eighth and Tenth streets. They have seven residences on their Pierce street front, and the city in October last brought that street between the cross streets before named to grade, and in so doing filled in front of this property to a great depth, requiring the property to be filled and the houses remodelled in order to render them habitable. The suits are brought to recover, under the provision of the constitution of Nebraska, which provides "that private property shall not be taken or damaged without compensation." This is an innovation upon the general principle governing such cases, and it will be for our clients to determine the full meaning of the words in our constitution, "or damaged."

AN UNFORTUNATE AFFAIR.

A Few Words in Behalf of John W. Lauer.

The article which appeared in THE BEE of yesterday in regard to the difficulties between John W. Lauer and his wife created a great deal of surprise among the citizens of Omaha, as well as indignation against Mr. Lauer. While there was foundation for the article, it is claimed by some of Mr. Lauer's friends that it was perhaps overdrawn. Mr. Lauer is one of Omaha's prominent young men. He is secretary, treasurer and manager of the Omaha Nail Manufacturing company, and has the entire confidence of such men as John A. Creighton, John A. McShane, W. A. Tuxton and Mr. P. E. Her, who is the uncle of Mr. Lauer's wife. These gentlemen, who are ranked among Omaha's most prominent and responsible citizens, have expressed to the BEE's representative their utmost confidence in Mr. Lauer as a business man. They speak of him in the highest terms. Mr. Creighton says that too much can not be said in his praise as a man of fine business qualifications and unimpeachable integrity. Mr. McShane, who is also an intimate friend of Mr. Lauer, coincides with Mr. Creighton in this opinion. Mr. Her states that the difficulties have arisen owing to high temper. He believes that Mr. Lauer could not control his temper, and did act, while in fits of passion, which he would never have done when in his right mind.

This is shown by the fact that no man could be more mortified or heart-broken than Mr. Lauer has yesterday. He has done everything in his power to atone for his mistakes. He has not only acknowledged his wrong, but has turned over to his wife all the little property which he had accumulated, both real and personal. The gentlemen mentioned above are satisfied that there is no young couple in this city who love each other more than they do.

FOUND DEAD.

The Lifeless Body of a Man Discovered on the Holmes Farm a Short Distance South of Omaha.

It was reported at the coroner's office last night that the dead body of a man had been found a short distance south of Omaha, but the particulars could not be fully learned.

Mr. Huser for several years has been living on the Holmes farm which joins Fred Drexel near Summit Siding. Last fall this farm was sold to the Omaha Stock Yards Company and Mr. Huser, who had been its tenant, was forced to leave these premises and went with his family to Sarpy mills about two weeks ago. The house which he tenanted on this farm was old and almost uninhabitable. Yesterday Mr. Huser returned to his former residence after a load of potatoes and was assisted in his labors by Gus Drexel, a son of ex-Commissioner Drexel. One of them had occasion to go to the old house and there discovered a man lying on the floor of the house apparently asleep. He could not be aroused by calling to him from the outside, and after going within to see who he might be, the silent form was found to be a corpse. The dead man, preparatory to lying down for his last sleep, had taken off his boots and coat, making for himself a good bed as was possible under the circumstances. Neither Mr. Huser or Mr. Drexel can recall that they ever saw the man before. The opinion seems to be that he was a tramp and being overtaken at night near this house took up his abode in it and died there from causes as yet unknown. Mr. Kent accompanied by Mr. Maul will go out and bring in the remains to the coroner's office in the undertaking rooms of Drexel & Maul where an inquest will be held this afternoon.

MODERN JEHUS.

They Engage in a Race on Howard Street—One Carriage Capsized.

About 6 o'clock Monday evening the residents of Howard street west of Fifteenth street, were startled by loud cries and rushing to their windows they saw, amid clouds of mud, two horses attached to separate carriages, flying along the muddy street, east, urged to their utmost speed by the lash of their half drunken drivers.

In one of the vehicles was seated a man, while the other contained both a man and a lady. Each was trying hard for first place in the race, and neither seemed mindful of the fact that they were in the heart of a city of 50,000 inhabitants, and were not only endangering their own lives, but also that of pedestrians. While doing this they were also violating the law and placing themselves liable to arrest.

"They dashed wildly on until Fifteenth street was reached, when the horse driven by the lone man passed on down Howard, while the other made a quick, sharp turn down Fifteenth toward Farnam, when the carriage went up in the air some little distance, and came down broadside in the mud.

Luckily the occupants were not injured and slowly they crawled out from the overturned vehicle, while she horse had become so entangled in the trappings as to render him powerless for harm. The harness was broken in several places, but was tinkered up in such a manner as to allow the parties to proceed.

By the way, is Howard street a race-course? On Sunday afternoon last two drunken fellows ran a poor horse, all reeking with foam, up and down the street the greater part of the afternoon without molestation.

A Pleasant Wedding.

On Saturday evening a pleasant, though quiet, wedding occurred at the residence of Mr. Bondison, in North Omaha, the contracting parties being Miss Anna E. Bondison and Mr. Nels, Seiro, a wood dealer in this city. The ceremony was performed by Judge Anderson in the presence of a few of the intimate friends of the contracting parties. It was a pleasant affair and THE BEE hopes that the contracting parties may never have cause to regret the step they have taken, but may have a smooth, happy and successful voyage over the great sea of life, on which there are, sad to say, so many shipwrecks.

Destitute Circumstances.

A family in destitute circumstances was reported Monday night. They are living at the corner of Fourteenth and Leavenworth streets, and last evening the landlord threatened to turn them into the street for the non-payment of their rent. A policeman was detailed to look into the matter, and found upon inquiry that the husband and father had left for parts unknown, leaving behind him a wife and three small children, the youngest being a babe in her arms. One week ago last Monday morning the man, whose name is Herbert Thomas, left the house, as he told his wife to procure a wagon with which to move his family and household goods into another house. The woman got everything in readiness for removal, but her husband came not. Night came and still he did not put in an appearance. Tuesday afternoon the woman, who still believed in the man's constancy and thinking that he had procured work which kept him away, started out to see about the moving heralf, when she found that the man had made no arrangements for a house, and she then realized that he had deserted her and her children. The woman and her family are in a pitiable plight, and although she is willing to work she is hampered by the baby which she is obliged to care for. Temporary aid has been given but more will of necessity have to follow.

CASTORIA.

What gives our Children rose cheeks, What cures their fevers, makes them sleep? Castoria. When Babies fret, and cry by turns, What cures their colic, kills their worms, Castoria. What quickly cures Constipation, Sour Stomach, Colic, Indigestion, Castoria. Farewell then to Morphine Syrup, Castor Oil and Paregoric, and Hall's Castoria.
