WESTERN NEWS.

DAKOTA.

The Vermillion is proud of the territorial university. The immigration to the interior of southern Dakota is reported as simply immense. Secretary Teller presented the Teller House company of Yankton silver parade transport. Towns City claims the finest public library in Northern Dakota. It consists of 1,521 volumes. Work has commenced on the new court house at Howard, Minner county. The building complete will cost $15,000. Leading citizens of Yankton are conferring together to see what united effort may do to advance the interest of Yankton. The Springfield Methodists will build, making the fourth church edifice in the place. The Methodists expect to invest $15,000. The Yankton Sioux left the bottom lands of their reservation in anticipation of a flood. They will run from water as quick as any thing. Madison people raised by subscription last week in two hours $2,500, to build an opera house. The amount has since been increased to $3,500. The first annual encampment of the department of Dakota's Grand Army of the Republic, will be held at Sioux Falls, on Wednesday and Thursday, April 29th and 30th, 1884. The following record of the river opening at Yankton is furnished by The Herald: 1870, February 21; 1878, February 19; 1879, March 8; 1880, February 24; 1881, March 27; 1882, March 3; 1883, March 14; 1884, March 20. A young man named Dale, who has been occupying the responsible position of agent for the North-western Elevator company at Minner, has disappeared. An examination of his accounts proves him to be short in cash at least $4,000. The real estate question in connection with the proposed Methodist university has been settled. A high plateau overlooking Mitchell is to be the site. Lots will soon be on the market. The announcement is also made in The Republican that the College of Arts, to be erected this spring, is a magnificent structure. The Cooper Brothers, founders and owners of Cooperstown, in the county of Griggs, have just made a sale of 7,200 acres of land in the neighborhood of Cooperstown, at $15 per acre, or $85,000 for the whole, the Coopers to have this year's crop also, which is worth $10,000. The purchase is to Mr. Howard O'Neil, of New York City. Of the entire area sold, 3,000 acres were improved land and the balance unbroken prairie.

WYOMING.

The Johnson county stock association will probably be killed by the new maverick bill. Christ Scheide, a German, was run over and killed by the Denver passenger train, ten miles from Cheyenne. There is a great scarcity of beef in Johnson county, and what there is of it is most acceptable in the form of hash. George Jones, farmer of Company I, Fifth cavalry, was found dead in a haystack near Cheyenne. An empty whiskey bottle and two small bottles of morphine, furnished the foundation of the coroner's verdict. A man named McClellan has worked the authorities of Cheyenne, Laramie and other towns for free passes on the great plains. He was driven insane by pistol shots at Ogallala. He is deadening his way to Portland, Oregon. Shooting cattle has become a pastime with some of the northern portion of Johnson county. If the indignant neighbors do not hang him in the meantime, the county will endeavor to furnish him employment about the last of June. The Lodge Polo ditch and reservoir company of Laramie county has filed its articles of incorporation. It is to furnish water for irrigation, mining, agricultural and mechanical purposes. The capital stock is divided into 150 shares of $100 each. The recent reduction of U. P. employees amounted to ten per cent in Cheyenne. When the boss announced a reduction of working hours, the men, most of them, were put in their place and the kickers got their time checked. Commitments of The Boomerang: "So ably is the Union Pacific managed over the western prairie that, during the late storm, when snow was falling thick and fast, drifting in huge depths in places on each division, through which snow plows were being driven at the greatest speed in order that passengers and mail might not be delayed, only two or three very trivial accidents occurred. A delay of six hours was the result."

COLORADO.

In a portion of the late confederated Ute reservation has been proclaimed government land. The Gunnison council has appropriated $20,000 for restoring the city this year. And this against $85,000 for last year. Durango, in her solitude, kills time by arguing the Ute question, and has arrived at the conclusion that they must go. A letter received at Denver says that the snow at Gardiner is about fifteen feet deep on the level. Gardiner is the coming summer resort. The medical department of the Denver university has turned loose five young doctors. Sixty doctors are frequently hung out in Colorado. The Denver & Rio Grande road bed is being widened through the Grand canyon. It is thought that the third rail will be laid to Salida by August 1. The copper and smelter being erected at Canon City by the Rocky Mountain Mine Development company will be completed and ready for running in a few weeks. During the past two weeks no less than a dozen snow slides have occurred at and about Animas Falls. Fully twenty-five feet of snow has fallen in that region during the winter, said to be the greatest ever known. There is about 200,000 bushels of wheat stored in the elevators and in the immediate vicinity of Fort Collins. Wheat is now worth $1.50 per bushel. This will be sold soon, and will make times somewhat lively in that vicinity. Leadville Democrat: James R. Milburn, the surveyor who was killed by falling into the snow a short time ago, seems to have been singled out as a victim by relatives late. He left $1,200 in the failure of the Leadville bank, $700 in the First National bank and $500 in the Merchants and Miners'. A short time afterward he lost $150 out of his pocket, and by short time after that he lost his life by falling into an open shaft.

MONTANA.

Silver Bow county is well healed, with $85,000 cash in the treasury. The Northern Pacific land grant covers 18,304,000 acres in Montana. NEBRASKA.

The indebtedness of Deer Lodge county, less cash resources, on March 1st, was $25,318.18, being a reduction of nearly $4,000 for the year. The business men of Helena are endeavoring to form a Helena & Benton railroad company, with a capital of $3,500,000, divided into 35,000 shares of $100. Helena Herald: "Four months recently received by Mr. Stanton, gentleman from one of the Union Pacific officials in Omaha, imparts the intelligence that Roseman will not only have control over the route by way of the Utah & Northern, but that Helena also, and that within a few months." The Helena Independent says: "Mollie Finlay was the first woman in the Court of Appeals district. She was followed, and others were on their way last year. One man has taken his wife and six-year-old boy to the mines. All women who have gone in have made the trip wearing men's clothes." The "Dodge Carriage" is the wonder of the territory. It is owned by Matthew Wormer, Gold specimens from the mine showed $14,000 to the ton and 196 ounces of silver. The "Doe Carter" mine between the lower and upper sections of "Snow Drift" and "Hald Butte," and is supposed to be the happy medium on the west divide, or rather the greater of all the rich quartz mines of the noted district. A Montana exchange speaking of a Mormon paper, says that "the decomposed carrot which edits it is a late importation from the Fiji islands, and should be sold down. He is too fresh for the natives, and is being served a grade of a new set of endowment robes, soaked in the sacred grass vats of the church, will not suffice to conceal his plentiful lack of ability in the management of his information and bad character he has accumulated."

CALIFORNIA.

Three large whales were captured recently near San Diego. Bugs have ruined the fruit trees in Surprise Valley, Modoc county. A whale 55 feet in length was washed ashore at Santa Barbara a few days ago. The crop prospects are generally reported good; but the ground is too wet for summer fallowing. Copper City, Shasta county, is again deserted. This is the second time in 30 years that the place has been transformed from a thriving mining town to a deserted hamlet. The North Belle mine was sold by the United States marshal last week for $310,000. Hay was bid for by the military contracting company, who held a judgment for that amount. There is a nine-year-old girl attending the public school in Grass Valley. Her name is Lulu, and she is said to be one of the most promising pupils in the school. She dresses in the American style and bangs her hair. In addition to the nine skeletons already found buried on the site of the ancient dance-house at Jesus Maria, Calaveras county, four more, making the number 13, have been discovered. It is generally conceded that they were all murdered and placed there for concealment. The largest partition suit ever brought in California was instituted in the Santa Clara county superior court recently. There are over 1,500 persons interested. The action is brought to make an adjustment of the Las Lunas rancho by asking its apportionment in severalty to the tenants in common. The rancho is a tract comprising 21,377 acres of land in the southern part of the county and includes the whole town of Gilroy.

MICHELLELAND.

There are four doctors and one undertaker in Caldwell, Idaho. Shippers at Portland claim that they can send grain to San Francisco and put it in a ship there for the United Kingdom at 75 cents or $1 a ton cheaper than they can ship it from Portland. The Indians in Alaska are said to have used in making salmon nets, the bulk of 90 miles of telegraph wire, which was laid by the Overland Telegraph company many years ago at a cost of $3,000,000. Beaver Creek, Idaho, is said to be a very promising gulch. It is about twelve miles from Eagle City. Three weeks ago there was hardly $100 worth of digging. Now the area is over 2,000, and the quantity is increasing every day.

STATE JOINTINGS.

FREMONT.

The school census shows there are 636 girls and 685 boys in the city. The bridge over the Platte has been repaired and communication with Saunders county restored. The Union Pacific road bed east of Fremont is very soft and uneven, owing to the continued wet weather and frost in the ground. Judge Ely raised a purse of $90 among the citizens to buy a wooden leg for Albert Broderick, a young man who lost a limb while working for a farmer near Hooper, two years ago.

GIAND ISLAND.

To-morrow will be a lively day here. The municipal contest will be fought on the question of giving the B. & M. right of way on 21st street. The metropolis of Hall county is becoming quite a metropolis in the sensation line. Following closely on the heels of the bridge accident comes the report of a pistol shot fired by John W. Sanders with suicidal intent. Mr. Sanders was visiting his brother, Dr. Sanders, of this city. While in Dr. Jans' drug store, Friday morning, he placed a muzzle of a pistol to the roof of his mouth and put a bullet through his brain. The cause of the deed is attributed to business losses during the fall and winter. The body was engaged in window-glass making at Blair, and the flooding of the works caused a loss of $15,000. This, together with malaria contracted while clearing the water from the flood, naturally brought on mental depression, and the visit to his brother was undertaken to secure a much-needed change of climate and recreation. The result is already told. His remains were sent to his old home for burial.

LINCOLN.

Attorney-General Powers has filed an opinion that the law does not allow assessments more than $2 a year. Quin Bohannon, the Waverly murderer, has been granted a new trial by the supreme court, and also a change of venue to Deuel county. This order was granted on the fact that a Lincoln jury is moved by sympathy rather than evidence. The ladies and gentlemen who participated in the late vocal artists' festival formed a permanent association, and Prof. Fairbrother as president; Mrs. Hiram Robinson, vice-president; Mrs. E. W. Bell, secretary; Miss Ella McBride, treasurer. The next meeting will be held in Lincoln.

THE STATE IN GENERAL.

Central City is talking up a $14,000 school house. Beatrice has formed a $3,000 company for the manufacture and sale of wind mills, pumps, engines, etc. Two hundred and fifty feet of the Ashland bridge went with the flood. Sidney Dillon & Co. have retired from the butcher business in North Platte. Judge Dundy has offered his property in Falls City as a site for a college. The Webster county republican convention, to be held at the court house in Lincoln, has been changed to Monday, April 21. There are about 1600 hogs held in the Red Cloud market weekly. A pretty good showing should justify. The market runs from $5 to $8 per head. Statton has a Building & Improvement company, which has built a fine opera house and made other substantial improvements in that enterprising little city. After sixteen weeks of waiting in the hall of the county court, Henry C. Cloud, the "beneficent father of all postoffices," has vacated into us mail facilities such as they are. Two Cretons are reported to have exchanged wives, or rather the wife of one of them ran off with another man's wife. No names are given, the scandal being intended only for home consumption. Some of the leading citizens of Edgar have organized a joint stock company with a capital of $10,000, having for its object the improvement of their town and the encouragement of immigration. Several farmers have gone out with the spring floods in different parts of the state. Several million dams have been built in the mud flood set in. Strange what emphasis a letter can add to a word. Writter has broken the case of Chas. Hay, but like all that class picks an inferior and uses a bludgeon. His last victim was Horace Mathews, whom he brutally beat with a whip. Mathews has been under the care of physicians since. The editor of The Fifth Times will hereafter "line the procession" on St. Patrick's day. Two youthful shoozers, a boy and girl, arrested on the 17th inst. for carrying on a Donations of camp! Thankfully received, and subscriptions promptly accepted. George Williams of Norfolk, had an adoptive wife, Willie Wood, on whom a fatherly care was lavished. In return for her generosity, Willie hatched up a pony with George's saddle and bridle, buckled on Mrs. Williams' silver plated revolver, borrowed $10 on the old man's account, and started for the wild northwest to join the cow boys. Now that it is probable that there will be another bridge at Omaha, the U. P. railroad company comes to the front with open heart and offers to build a new bridge in connection with their railroad bridge. It is quite amusing to see how generous a railroad can be when there are a few "special inducements" thrown in. Another suit under the Slocum law has been started at North Bend. On the 30th of last November Patrick Moran celebrated his birthday in the usual way. Returning from town in his usual way, he was shot and killed by a hide and his spirit went aloft. His widow has entered suit for $5,000 against A. W. Gilman & Co., James Barber and John Seivers, saloon keepers. The plans for the York Exchange Bank block have been completed, and excavating will commence as soon as the frame buildings now on the lots can be removed. The plans embrace a block about 100x120 feet, two stories high. The cost is estimated at $30,000. Two trains left Nebraska City last week loaded with lard from the packing houses of the Nebraska and Liberty companies. There were twenty-six cars in all, and the product was valued at $104,200. Maj. Wheeler, the well-known ex-secretary of the state board of agriculture and the electric light of previous state, has received a handsome testimonial from members of the board. It consists of a handsome pair of set seven pieces, a rocker, a sofa, an easy chair, and four other articles, all of which are richly upholstered in crimson broadcloth plush with trimmings and tassels of plain crimson plush. They are very rich and handsome, and Maj. Wheeler very justly feels quite proud of them. During the wind storm of Thursday afternoon, Mr. J. L. Davidson, of Milford, went upon a new one-story brick he was building corner of 21st and Liberty streets, and was not completely and liable to blow away. By some means Mr. Davidson got entangled in the ropes he was using, and a severe gust of wind caught the building, the roof was carried away some thirty-five feet, and Mr. Davidson with it. He was released from the debris, carried home in an unconscious condition, and medical aid was summoned. Two ribs on either side were found to be broken, and he sustained other serious injuries. The recent death of Mrs. Lee of poison in Crete, has created much excitement in the city. The article says: "Mrs. Lee was one of the oldest citizens of Crete, and has always borne a good name as a fair dealing business woman, and many of our citizens are sure to believe him guilty, while others think there is no doubt of the fact. A post mortem examination was held and the stomach was sent away for analysis." Nebraska City has a young blood, a crooked branch of the Dillon family, who pulls his gun on the least provocation. A few nights ago he tried ineffectually to put daylight through the window of the Morton house, because the latter refused to "dish up the beer." He blazed away at the watchman and chased him around the house. The watchman being cornered returned the fire and a lively fusillade was the result. No damage was done. Young Dillon then went up street with blood in his eye. An old German was made to kneel on the sidewalk and pray. Dillon was finally coerced to put up his gun and go to jail with an officer. This is not his first scrape. Through family influence he has heretofore secured the punishment dealt out to poor devils without friends.

McBride, treasurer.

The next meeting will be held in Lincoln.

Mr. R. H. Pilcher will show the Hastings.

and will try to organize a local electric light company to operate a permanent plant. Meaning fifty lamps will glimmer in the darkness.

A young tender-foot from the east, who had been making himself rather fresh around the Hastings girls and annoying them with indecent proposals, was on Sunday night by some young men, soundly horsewhipped, and ordered to leave town.

It was a Hastings maiden's reveille that roused her lonely sisters to united and persistent attacks on the sash-crowner. Here's a clear note: "Let us be up and doing, with a heart on victory yet, still achieving, still pursuing, and each one a husband get."

The Hastings college has just closed a prosperous session with an enrollment of sixty-five students. Workmen are now busy on the new McCormick hall, which it is expected, will be completed by the last of June. A. H. Carter, the contractor, will be ready by the opening of the fall term.

The arrest of Capt. Dodge, the leader of the Niobrara regulators was a trifle dramatic. When Sheriff Huffman opened the door of the Dodge domicile the captain was sitting by the fire smoking. Mrs. Dodge then rushed for the revolver, but was anticipated by Deputy Frush who got there ahead of her. She then tried to take it away from him, but did not succeed. Dodge thought the best thing for the regulators was to get out, and when he learned they were regular officers he quietly went with them. The stolen horse was found
