

THE DAILY BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Tuesday Morning, April 29.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES. By Carrier - - - - - 30 cents per week By Mail - - - - - $10.00 per year

OFFICE: No. 7 Pearl Street, Near Broadway.

MINOR MENTION.

See J. Reiter's, spring goods. -Yakie this afternoon and evening. Additional local on seventh page. Seed corn, J. Hanthorn, 700 B'way. Workmen's meeting this evening at the court house.

A little more work was done on the dog pound yesterday.

Green Edwards was before the bar yesterday for being drunk.

Jacob Neumayer was yesterday busy setting his new hotel to rights.

Officer Hurley and Towns are now on day duty. The force change about.

M. T. Rohrer's house was entered by sneaks Sunday night, but nothing of value taken.

The broken stone for the foundation of the paving is being put down on Main street.

All railroad tickets bought of D. W. Bushnell are guaranteed, also all rebate orders given by him.

The Yakie company gave a delightful entertainment last evening. They appear again this afternoon and evening.

The Y. M. C. A. will give a free entertainment for young men at room 12, North Main street, this evening at eight o'clock.

There will be a polo game at the rink Wednesday night, between the two Council Bluffs clubs, and a lively contest is promised.

On Saturday, "Buffalo Bill," (William F. Cody), sent five cars of stock, wild animals, etc., over the Wabash to St. Louis from the stockyards.

J. McDonald and E. T. Trevitt were arrested for disturbing the peace of the St. Joe house, and are to have a hearing this morning.

By agreement of attorneys the cases against Huffman and Bennett, growing out of their neighborhood quarrels, have been dismissed.

The entertainment last evening at the opera house so delighted those who were present that by special request it will be repeated this afternoon and evening.

The Council Bluffs Iron Works company has about moved all its machinery into their new building, and expects to start up inside of two weeks.

If the Episcopal church only had as sound "sleepers" as are visible sometimes in church services, the floor wouldn't have given away, perhaps.

The settling of the floor of the Episcopal church has been repaired so completely that it will not serve as an excuse, after all, for folks not to go to church.

Officer O'Brien found another O'Brien, whose first name was James, and the officer regarding him as a vagrant and suspicious character, one O'Brien ran the other O'Brien in.

There is talk of having concrete walks put down in the park instead of the bare places now called walks. Good walks would save much less of religion and much of the wear and tear on sod in the wet weather.

Teddy White was very considerate, for when drunk yesterday he laid himself down at Justice Abbotts office door, so that his case could be tried right away. Teddy now languishes in a crack of the old county jail.

The Emerson Chronicle has changed its form so as to devote a whole page to its Henderson department with display heading and all. The Henderson folk evidently appreciate the enterprise shown and are supporting it liberally.

Probably the handsomest casket ever seen in Council Bluffs was that furnished by D. M. Connell for Mrs. Davy. The casket is of Lebanon cedar covered with black broadcloth with satin facings and drapings, and silver trimmings.

Col. Sapp did much toward stopping a panic at the Episcopal church Sunday evening, when the floor gave away; it was amusing though to see his towering form going out gently on tiptoes. Heavy weights at such times feel their responsibility.

The Presbyterians are waking up to the need of a new church, and are planning this season a $30,000 or a $40,000 church. It is to be hoped that they will push the planning into actual starting and get the building itself under way. Council Bluffs needs some suitable church building.

If Omaha will put up a boy to skate against Johnnie Epeneter, H. H. Martens will put up a $10 prize to be skated for at the Council Bluffs rink, the distance to be two miles, or 45 times around the rink, and the one getting there first, Eli, to take the prize. Now let Omaha skaters speak up.

Alex. Graham was righteously indignant yesterday when he found that some of his best elm trees had been so ruthlessly stripped of their bark that they were in danger of dying. The trees are located on an open lot through which the children pass to the high school, and which has not only been left open for the public convenience, but which Mr. Graham has carefully cleared up and trimmed up. It shows that some of the public, at least, are ungrateful. Mr. Graham was yesterday almost indignant enough to shut up this convenient road. Money cannot well atone for such a needless, ruthless act. It reminds one of the old judge, who had a tree gnawed by a neighbor's horse. "Pay me for it," quoth the old judge angrily, "why? you puny, insignificant mortal, with all your wealth—pay—why, you double blated fool, it took God Almighty twenty years to make that tree."

A meeting of the workmen is called for to-night, at the court house, the special role of business being the receiving of the report of the committee appointed to present the city council the workmen's protest against the proposed tramway for dirt carrying. The project is evidently killed, but the council has the matter tossing about from one committee to another without meeting the question fairly and voting upon it.

A street peddler yesterday stood right under the mayor's windows, inducing the crowd to make purchases of him by the promise of throwing in a picture which he intimated could be so folded as to show up very obscenely. The publicity of such an offer, started in the middle of Main street, ought to have led the police who were looking on, to have led the fellow in and led him cool off behind the bars.

The exhibition of the excellencies and superiority of Prof. Horsford's baking powder that has been so largely attended the last few days will be found located at James & Haverstack's, corner of Pearl street and Willow avenue, to-day and to-morrow. We hope every lady who has not already attended the exhibition will call at the above place. You can all learn something to your advantage. Come.

Smith & Toller, yesterday afternoon arranged their financial troubles so that they are to resume business at once, an announcement which will be gladly received by their many patrons who have been hoping that such would be the outcome. They have been furnishing most excellent made and fashionable garments, and those who delight in being well dressed have appreciated their enterprise and skill. It is hoped that now they may continue to serve the public without further interruption or disaster.

A movement is on foot for the organization here of a lodge of the Knights and Ladies of Honor, which is a beneficiary order with great attention paid also to the social side of life. Omaha has a lodge of this order, which though only established six weeks already numbers seventy-five members with the list rapidly increasing. The rapid growth and popularity of this order, together with the many social and financial advantages offered will doubtless cause the movement here to result in the speedy establishment of a strong and prosperous lodge here. Mr. George H. Backus, of Omaha, was here yesterday aiding in the preliminary arrangements, and his left the matter in Mr. W. W. Chapman's hands to complete them. Those desiring to become charter members should interview Mr. Chapman at once.

A healthful and delectable free lunch will be served for ladies at James & Haverstack's, corner of Pearl street and Willow Avenue, to-day and to-morrow. Ladies, you are cordially invited.

W. H. Foster, the Hanson street florist, has 20,000 feet of space under glass, and the largest stock west of the Mississippi. Send for catalogue.

PERSONAL.

H. B. Davis, of Trenton, N. J., is at the Ogden.

C. C. Sprague, of Clarinda, was at the Pacific yesterday.

P. B. McAtee is expected home today from St. Charles, Mo.

O. E. Dutton, of Manning, Iowa, was at Deahle's yesterday.

M. J. Darling, of Emporia, Kan., registered at the Pacific yesterday.

J. W. Rhodes and O. S. Kinney, of Coles, Iowa, were at the Bluffs yesterday.

Dan McGregor, of the U. P. freight auditor's office, was on this side of the muddy yesterday.

G. W. Thompson, of VanBrunt, Thompson & Co., is off for a business trip through Nebraska.

Mr. L. W. St. John left yesterday morning for Oakland to visit his son S. S., who is quite sick.

George N. Backus, of Omaha, was on this side yesterday trying to organize a branch of the Knights and Ladies of Honor.

County Superintendent Matthews and his wife left yesterday on a recreation trip to New Mexico expecting to be absent several weeks.

Housekeepers and Heads of Families.

The following is worth your attention and careful consideration. Dr. Francis H. Atkins, acting assistant surgeon, U. S. A., says to the editor N. Y. Evening Post: "while you are doing so admirable work in exposing the general use of alum in manufacturing baking powders, I wish you would allow me to direct the attention of your many readers to one point of the culinary adjuncts, that would be widely used were it only better known. I refer to the bread raising powder of Professor E. N. Horsford, at one time professor of chemistry in Harvard University, and one of our most ingenious and distinguished chemists. In his powder an acid phosphate of lime takes the place of cream tartar or alum and while the whitest, lightest and most delectable biscuits can be made with it that I have ever seen or tasted, it furnishes a food rich in phosphate so much needed in the animal economy and so largely discarded in our family sifted white flour. Prof. Horsford's high reputation is adequate security for the absence of alum or any other deleterious or make weight ingredient in this powder, and the practical test will be given of its excellence and superiority at James & Haverstack's, corner of Pearl street and Willow Avenue, to-day and to-morrow. You are cordially invited to witness the exhibition.
