IN OFFICE HALF A CENTURY.

Some Old Men Who Began to Serve Uncle Sam Fifty Years Ago.

[New York Sun.]

WASHINGTON, (D. C.), April 2.—Fifty years ago to-day, James Lawrenson of Maryland, received an appointment to a $400 clerkship in the clerkship in the Post-office Department. He celebrated the semi-centennial of his service by taking a half holiday from his desk in the Dead Letter Office, and receiving he congratulations of his friends. He was a clerk in the Post office at Baltimore for years before he came to Washington, so that he has been in the employe of the government for sixty years and in age as well as length of service is the oldest of Uncle Sam's hired men. During nearly a quarter of a century Mr. Lawrenson acted in the capacity of correspondent for the Baltimere Sun, and has the additional honor of being the oldest journalist in Washington. He is still in good health and able to regularly perform the duties of his office, although discipline is a little relaxed in his favor.

Wm. T. Berry was Post-master General when Lawrenson came in, and Andrew Jackson was President. Before Berry's time the Postoffice Department Printing Office are now, but Jackson invited him to a seat in the cabinet in defiance of precedents and against the protests of John C. Calhoun, who was Secretary of State and a great stickler for etiquette. The only authority the Postmaster-General has for a seat in the Executive Chamber is Andrew Jackson's invitation to Barry. Seventy clerks did the Postoffice Department in those days, and three men were assigned to the mail morgue. It requires over 1000 now to open, read, return, or destroy the dead letters that come in at the rate of 2,000,000, a year.

Uncle Jimmy Marr, the venerable chief clerk of the First Assistant Postmaster-General, antedates Lawrenson's service by three years, having been appointed to a clerkship on the 20th of June 1831. There are also several Postmasters who hold commissions older than his, although, including his service in the Baltimore postoffice, Lawrenson heads the list of veterans. Lindley Mure, the venerable old negro who sits at the mahogmy door which leads to the beautiful office of the Secretary of the Navy, comes second, with a service of fifty-six years, having been appointed in 1828 by Samuel Southard; and the third on the list is the Hon. William Hunter, Second Assistant Secretary of State. A clerkship was given to him by Martin Van Bureu in 1829, and he has been promoted from time to time. He reached his present position under Johnson's administration, and Mr. Marr is the fourth on the list. There are a number of clerks in the departments who have seen forty, and some have seen forty-five years of service

The oldest Postmaster is Roswell Beardsley of North Lansing, Tomkins county, N. Y., whose mission bears the date of June 28, 1828. Postmaster Stabler of Sandy Springs, Md., was appointed a few months before Beardsley, but he died a year ago. John Bowdish of Rural Grove, Montgomery County, N. Y., was appointed Postmaster on December 10, 1830, and now occupies the same office in which he opened his first mail more than fifty-three years ago. During this time he has received the princely salary of $93 a year; and admistrations have come and gone, political parties have risen and died of decay, but he has never failed to draw his quarterly allowance of $23 33⅓.

A surprising case is that of George Hilton, who was appointed postmaster at South Parsonfield, York County, Me., on the 27th of December, 1830. His salary was $35 a year during this time, but at the end of the fifty-second year of his service he resigned the office with all the its honors and emoluments, and asked as a special favor that Alphous H. Hilton, his son, a youth of sixty-four summers, might be appointed in his stead.

Uncle Jimmy Marr is orthodox in his religious belief, and was once discussing theology with Colonel Ingersoll. The latter told him he "couldn't see how hell could have any terrors for a man who had been in the Postoffice Department for fifty-three years."

CAUTION.
No. 219 GRAND STREET,
JERSEY CITY, N. J., Feb. 28, 1883.
Two months ago I suffered with a very bad cough, which kept me awake all night. I was recommended to put on my chest two Allcock's Porous Plasters. Unfortunately my druggist persuaded me to try some other so-called porous plaster, I lost my money, for they were worthless and not of the slightest benefit. I then procured Allcock's Porous Plasters, and they completely cured me.
J. F. McGINNISS.
Imitation Porous Plasters are being advertised and offered for sale. Beware of them. "Alcock's" is the only genuine.

A Sensible Man would Use.
Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs. It is curing more cases of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, and all Throat and Lung troubles, than any other medicine. The proprietor has authorized Schroeder & Becht, to refund your money if, after taking three-fourths of a bottle, relief is not obtained. Price 50 cents and $1. For sale by Schroeder & Becht.

Bound Over to the Next Grand Jury.

Sievettse, the man brought from Oberlin, Ohio, by Post-office Inspector King, was taken before United States Commissioner Aenderson, yesterday for examination. An information was lodged against him, charging him with with using the mails with intent to defraud. The prisoner waived examination, and his case will go over for investigation by the next U. S. grand jury which meets on Tuesday of next week. His bail was fixed at $1,000. He was unable to give the required bond and was remanded to jail. It is said Sievettse has seen fit to make a full and written confession of the crime of which he is charged.

A Card.

OMAHA, May 2, 1884.
To the Editor of The Bee.
We always understood and believed that you are a friend of the laborer, notwithstanding the late strike of your printers, which speaks for itself. Every laboring man knows that in past troubles here you have been the only man that had the pluck and courage to stand by labor in defiance of monopolies. As an employe of the Union Pacific railroad for many years, I have always been well paid and well treated by our old officials—such men as S. H. H. Clark, J. T. Clark, at present with the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, Mr. Kimball, Mr. Shelby, and others of the old officials. We lived and prospered under them. We admire those men and would do anything in our power that was just and right. We feel that they were our our friends, and I know that we were friends to them and their interests. But we are sorry to say, it seems that these Boston parties have, through their board of directors, sent men here to re-model and convert the employes of the U. P. railroad in accordance with the Boston views and the Y. M. C. A. and puritanical laws, the offspring of those who used to burn witches. All I have to say at present to Mr. Auditor Young, the great reformer of morals, is, Please go back home to your parents. They might want to see you once more as they saw you last. Fill yourself up with pork and beans and codfish, and if you should happen to explode we will try and bear our happy affliction the best we can.
P. S.—Now, Mr. Young, you are too Young to be west as far as you are at present. Just take a rest until you are older. Lay off on your pork and beans and grow fat and be happy.
EMPLOYE OF THE U. P. R. R.

Want of Faith.
If Schroder & Becht, the druggists, do not succeed it is not for the want of faith. They have such faith in Dr. Bosanko's Cough and Lung syrup as a remedy for Colds, Consumption, and Lung affections, that they will give a bottle free to each and every one who is in need a fo medicine of this kind

Attempt to Abduct.

CLEVELAND, May 2.—A bad attemut was made last dight to abduct Lucia Zarate, a Mexican midget on exhibition at the Dime Museum. Two men managed to steal her from the dressing room while left alone a minute. Chase was made and the abductors seen but they dropped her and escaped. This is the third attempt to kidnap her. The supposed object is to hold her for a ransom.

A Happy Family.
Pulled from the breast, squeezed from the bottle,
Stomachs will sour all milk will curdle;
Baby hallelujah and that night,
Household bumping heads in awful fright.
Don't deny, 'twas thus with Victoria,
Night was hideous without Castoria;
When colic let; for peaceful slumber,
All said their prayer and slept like thunder.

The Fatal Fire Damp.

PITTSBURG, May 3.—It was rumored an explosion of fire damp occurred this afternoon in the Allegheny valley coal mines near Parker and that a number of miners were killed.

Proved a Big Benefit.
"Has magical pain killing and healing properties. Half of a fifty-cent bottle cured me of rheumatism and a cold that had settled in my back. Feel as well as I ever did in my life." Otto J. Doesbury, prop'r Holland City News, Holland, Mich., speaking for Thomas' Eclectric Oil.
