In the house bills were introduced and referred by Mr. Payson to restrict the ownership of real estate in territories to American citizens. It prohibits any non-resident alien, who has not declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States from acquiring or owning, possessing, or holding any real estate in any of the territories. The bill relating to police regulations in the District of Columbia was passed after considerable discussion of the sections prohibiting the sale of lottery tickets, Mr. Brown (Ind.) characterizing the Louisiana State Lottery as the colossal swindle of the age. The clerks in one of the government department expended $10,000 monthly in lottery tickets.

Mr. Belford denied the right of congress to prohibit an individual from spending his money as he saw fit. Did the gentleman from Indiana think congress should prevent five or six respectable gentlemen from sitting down to a game of poker? He did not want any of this puritanical kind of legislation; the whole thing was a humbug, and when the house got through with this bill he would move to strike out the enacting clause and commit the morality of the nation to the care of the state of Indiana, as its political virtues had been committed to the state of Ohio.

Mr. O'Neill (Mo.) introduced the following bill, providing that after July 1 the following officers be exempt from duty: Raw sugar, not refined; molasses, ult, rice, rye, barley, potatoes, oatmeal, currants, raisins, prunes, peas, beans, butter, cheese, live animals, vegetables and chickory. Referred. O'Niell estimates that the bill will accomplish a reduction of $57,000,000 in the revenues. Adjourned.
