

THE DAILY BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Wednesday Morning, May 14.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES. By Carrier 30 cents per week. By Mail $10.00 per year.

OFFICE: No. 7 Pearl Street, Near Broadway.

MINOR MENTION.

See J. Reiter's spring goods. See Harkness Bros's, new advertisement.

A public dance takes place this evening at the rink.

Read the new advertisement of Harkness Brothers. It will pay you.

Z. F. Lindsay & Co. are erecting a thirty foot addition to their store.

Harkness Bros. are having a fine concrete walk laid by their building.

There will be a sociable at the Methodist church parlors to-morrow evening.

Dr. Seythorpe has been chosen as the city physician for the coming year. A good choice.

David Testevin was locked up yesterday, he being on a little whirl, and acting strangely.

J. W. Tiffany was yesterday fined $3 and costs by Justice Schurz for assaulting Wm. Brix.

Ex-Policeman Barhyte now nurses a broken toe, as the result of being thrown out of a wagon.

"None of your darned business" was arrested yesterday for being drunk and disorderly. At least that is the name he gave.

The boy Toms arrested for stealing clothing from the Colorado house, was discharged yesterday by Judge Aylesworth.

It is to be regretted that ex-Governor Fairchild, of Wisconsin, cannot accept the invitation to speak here on Decoration day.

Two violins, a clarionette and bass composed the orchestra at "Hearts of Oak." There is still room for further improvement.

Peter Bechtele is providing for the summer comfort of his guests by placing awnings at all the windows of his European hotel.

E. E. Cole made a kick on the pavement very hard in front of his place on Main street yesterday, and to please him that part of it was relaid.

Frank Vanderbergh's challenged Walter Nasen to a contest in fancy and plain skating, and the same to take place at the roller skating rink on Saturday evening.

The district court opened yesterday with a call of the calendar and assignment of cases. The grand jury was impaneled, S. S. Keller was selected foreman and George F. Smith, clerk.

A fast girl known as Jennie Graveyard was arrested for fast driving and for being drunk. She was shown one of the best rooms on the parlor floor of the hotel de Mattaz, but proceeded to show her displeasure by kicking out one of the French plate windows.

A gang of about thirty workmen who have been employed in digging out the ditch at the river for the waterworks, quit yesterday because the company was behind in paying off. Harry Birkinbine did what he could for them by telegraphing the officials east, from which source money is expected daily.

Last evening there was a happy wedding party at the residence of J. Bassett, whose daughter, Miss Mary A. Bassett, was given in marriage to James L. Wesley. Rev. Mr. Bates, of the Presbyterian church, officiated, and following the ceremony were many expressions of congratulation and well wishes. All then partook of a wedding feast, and a merry, social season followed.

P. C. and W. D. Kirkland are now getting their new store No. 314 Broadway in pretty good shape, nearly all the stock of jewelry being moved and put in place. The new place is a "dazzler" and the establishment is one of which they may be proud. The walls and ceiling have been handsomely decorated and the stock of silverware and jewelry shows up very finely.

Mrs. B. Weber, a German woman, who lives at No. 1610 Sixteenth street, merits praise for her public spirit and generosity. Yesterday she came to Bayliss park with a goodly quantity of flower seeds, and with her own hands planted them in the beds about the band stand. In previous years she has put plants in the park, and such acts on her part form an example which is worthy of following by others. There are many others, not foreign born either, who in comparing their own interest in the park with that of the German woman should feel a little tinge of shame, and a little bit of blushes creep into the cheek.

E. Thornton's team, attached to a wagon, made a lively run on upper Broadway. Mr. Thornton was thrown out but not badly injured. The team collided with one of Conrad Geisse's beer wagons, breaking the run somewhat, and then dashing to the front managed to break off the tongue of the same wagon by some queer move. The runaways also succeeded in breaking off a hydrant by Wies & Clausen's store, and a piece of the wreck broke one of the large windows. The runaways also started up B. Grahl's horse and wagon, and they went flying down Broadway but were soon stopped.

VAUGHN'S VOTARIES.

They Seem to be Drumming up Business for His Justice Shop.

How a Meagre Salary Can be Picked Out by Charging up Justice Fees.

The "Carter Harrison" of the Missouri slope, as Mayor Vaughn's henchman, John Jay Frainger, has christened him, sees a pretty fair way to make up for the $600 salary as mayor which he deems so meagre, when other cities are paying $1,000 or more. Vaughn holds on to the office of justice of the peace, too, with a keen grip, and there are many grists being put in the hopper, for which costs are axed up, of course.

The arrest made by the police are generally disposed of by Judge Aylesworth, who is the magistrate of the superior and police court cases of preliminary examinations. It makes little difference what magistrate conducts the examination, but in many other cases the fees, when the case is heard before Judge Aylesworth, goes to the city. The present drift seems to be to have the police force business brought before Vaughn, who takes up the costs and thus pieces out his salary.

Since the first of May there have been brought before Vaughn 36 criminal cases, about three a day, and as the fees in each amount to several dollars, the justiceship is evidently more lucrative than that of a mayor.

About a week ago on Saturday night the police arrested three drunks. The city jail was being repaired at the time, and the fellows were placed in the county jail. Instead of being brought before Judge Aylesworth, who is paid a salary of $2,000, while he has much or little business, informations were filed in Vaughn's court, and early Monday morning they were brought before him and fined, he getting the costs instead of the city.

Cases too, which have been virtually disposed of by Judge Aylesworth, form an excuse for filing of the informations and taxing up the cost. For instance on account of the row at Bokemper's saloon, John Peters, Mike Kildare, and George Peters were fined by Judge Aylesworth $14.60 each for disturbing the peace. Now there are filed in Justice Vaughn's court one information charging George Peters and Mike Kildare with an affray. A second information charges George Peters, John Peters, and Mike Kildare with riot. Still a third information charges John Peters with assault and battery. These informations were sworn to by Dandy Dunn, of the police force of which the mayor is the head. These informations, all growing out of the same transactions, were filed up, making quite a bill of cost for the justice and mayor, if not for the benefit of good order.

Another instance is that of Albert Carroll who was arrested for some domestic trouble, he having had a rumpus with his wife. One information filed before Vaughn charges him with a "breach of the Sabbath." Still another information charges him with assault and battery. A third information charges him with intentions to murder, thus making three informations on which to tax up costs.

John Jay Frainger who hangs around the court a good deal, and who is known as Vaughn's right hand political helper, stands ready to take a part in the cases, either to defend or prosecute. Some time ago Arthur McDermott had some dealing with Frainger and some civil suit about a horse grew out of it. It is claimed that McDermott in settling with Frainger turned over to him a horse belonging to McDermott's father. An information was filed the other day against McDermott for perjury. Still a second one for the larceny of a horse. Still a third one for the fraudulent conveyance of personal property. The information for perjury has been dismissed. On the two others the accused waived examination, and gave bail, to await the action of the grand jury, if it takes any action at all.

If informations are to thus be filed, two or three out of the same transactions, and cases naturally belonging to the police court, are to be brought before Vaughn, it is to be hoped that the county board will examine closely into Vaughn's bills presented at its next meeting. County Attorney Myntzer, who generally inspects the bills, is a warm friend of Vaughn's too, but it is to be hoped that his friendship will not blind his eyes to what is fair and square, and that the people's interests will be protected.

There is also some grumbling already heard, because by Vaughn's courses of justice, fines and costs which will otherwise go into the city treasury, are turned aside by the cases being brought before him. If to gain a few dollars costs for himself, he is thus acting so as to divert the revenue from the city into other channels, he ought to boast less of having the interests of the city so dearly at heart.

PERSONAL.

A. Overton returned from the east yesterday.

Mayor J. P. Organ, of Neola, was in the city yesterday.

Mayor Hake, of Avoca, was looking at the old court house here yesterday.

Mrs. E. Clark now leaves for a few weeks visit to Nebraska friends and relatives.

Ben Newman, of Omaha, was on this side of the river among his old friends yesterday.

P. C. Kirkland, who is now cashier of the Farmers & Merchants' bank, of Oxford, Kas., is here for a few days helping to get the jewelry establishment moved into its new quarters, he being interested in that business.

FRIENDS OF THE HOMELESS.

The Purposes of Branches Established in Other Places.

In various towns in western Iowa organizations have been formed of branches of the Home of the Friendless association of this city, and as many here do not understand fully the purposes of these branches, the following from the constitution adopted by each of them, is to the point: The objects of this association shall be—

1st. To co-operate with the Home of the Friendless association of Council Bluffs, Ia., in maintaining a home where destitute and orphan children may be cared for and educated and, at the proper age, given a trade or profession. And also where poor and friendless ones, regardless of age, race, creed or sex, may be given christian care and support, until such time as they may be able to care for themselves.

2d. To raise money by entertainments, lectures, private subscriptions, or in any other manner that the local society may direct, to be held by its treasurer and used in works of local charity; or, if the society sees fit, for the purpose of paying dues and assessments to the parent association.

3d. It shall be the duty of the officers of the association to hear and pass upon the claim of members against the parent association in case of sickness or death and promptly report to the manager of the parent association the character of such claim. It shall be their duty to enquire into and pass upon the claims of such as desire admission into the Home.

NIPPED FOR FORGERY.

A Young Man Gets a Suit of Clothes On Billy Smith's Credit.

A young man named James E. Bailey was arrested yesterday on charge of forgery. He has been at work for Billy Smith, of the Ogden, taking care of horses. Yesterday he went to Farman's store and purchased a $11 suit of clothes, presenting an order with Billy Smith's name to it. After leaving the store with the clothes.

Oscar Kepplinger had his suspicions aroused that the order was not all right, and soon had his suspicions confirmed by running across to the Ogden and asking Smith about it. The latter pronounced it a forgery, and Kepplinger immediately hurried after Bailey, who had gone up the street, and brought him back to the store where he was detained until Marshal Guanella arrested him and placed him in jail. The hearing is set for 10 o'clock this morning before Judge Aylesworth.

Real Estate Transfers.

The following transfers were filed May 12, 1884, and reported by P. J. McMahon, Council Bluffs:
