THE ARREST OF HANLEY.

He is Found at Ptattsmonth Yesterday and Taken to Wahoo by Sheriff Bierce.

Fell and Hanley Both Indicted by the Saunders County Grand Jury.

The presence in the city yesterday forenoon of Charles Bierce, sheriff of Saunders county, created no little surprise and some consternation among those who were attendants at the Fell-Hanley mill. Mr. Bierce came to the city with a warrant for the arrest of James Fell, one of the principals in the the fight. The district court of that county convened Monday last and when the news reached Wahoo the grand jury was still in session. Several section for monies paid by him upon the purhands who happened to be near when the fight ended were subpoensed, whose testimony, supported by the Omaha newspaper accounts, was sufficient to when the decree was rendered and that find indictments against Hanley and the statute now in force is inapplicable by the loud talking and conversation of Missouri, to whip Fell in his own town. He learned from a bystander that the called him aside and reading the warrant to him placed him under arrest. The sheriff then handed him over to the county jailer and came to Omaha in search of Fell He learned here that he had left

Nebraska and gone over the river. He then returned to Piattsmouth. It is said that while Bierce was in Omaha that Hanley's friends had him brought from the jail before the proper court on a writ of habeas corpus. The judge held he awoke her husband. He got up and gave the would release him by five p. m. of yesterday if the Saunders county authorities did not remove him from Cass Co. before that time. However, Sheriff Bierce had returned. Hanley was delivered over to him and the Sheriff started for Wahoo last evening with him in shackles. It appears that Hanley and his party had started for Rich Hill, Missouri for the purpose of arranging for a second fiight with Fell. Here they stopped and were overtaken by the Sheritt. It is the intention of the Saunders county authorities to prosecute only the principals in the fight. Overtures were made to certain parties to testify, but nothing was agreed upon. The following are sections seven and eight of chapter three of the code of criminal procedure of this state, governing prize fights:

costs of prosecution. Sec. 8 (aiders and abettors)—If any shall engage, or be concerned in, or attend any such fight or contention as is described in the last preceding section, as backer, trainer, second, umpire, assistant, or reporter, every person so offending shall, on conviction, be fined in any sum not less than five dollars, nor more than one hundred dollars, and imprisoned in the jail not less than ten days nor more than three months, and pay the cost of

DEFENDING HIS HEARTH.

Mr. Colgen, an Unsuccessful Litigant Becomes Violent at the Execution or the Law.

The usual screnity of the police court was invaded yesterday afternoon by Richard Colgen, a citizen of Omaha who had been placed under arrest by Deputy N. C. Sears, North Bend, are stopping at the time last fall Colgen was made the defendent in an action of forcible entry and detainer wherein W. J. Connell was plaintiff. The subject in dispute was the possession of three or four lots in Smith's Price and Griffin's addition. The suit was decided in favor of the plaintiff. A writ of restitution was issued and

Colgen was dispossessed by a constable. Another tenant entered under Connell. Shortly after the new tenant had entered upon the property he was driven off by Colgen who then moved off the house from the fications. disputed lots on to another. Colgen lived in the tenement until yesterday was argued before U.S. Circuit Judge Brewer last week, and taken under advisement by him, has been decided. This case was brought last August for the purpose of testing the validity of certain alleged liens arising from taxes paid by defendant upon certain lands in southern Nebraska, the title to which was determined by the U.S. Supreme court, to be in the St. Joe and Western railway company. This action was brought as a test case to save the expense of a multiplicity of suits, there being numerous claimants in that portion of the state in a like situation. The following is the opinion of Judge Brewer : Sherman W. Knevals vs. Charles H. Van Wyck. This cause came on to be further heard upon the defendant's application for allowance for monies paid for taxes and the purchase price of the lands in question, was argued by counsel whereupon the court finds that the degendant is not entitled to be reembursed chase of said premises from the government and that his claims to be reimbursed for monies paid for taxes is not within the statutes of Nebraska in force to this case the cause having gone before the cause was enacted. But being in Sheriff Bierce left Wahoo yesterday doubt whether the rule of equity for remorning for Omaha with warrants for imbursing unsuccessful claimants of their arrest. When he had arrived at property the monies paid by them extends to taxes when paid, when no rent and profits are realised, it is ordered that it body. be referred to F. L. Webster, one of the four or five men standing on the station masters of the court, to inquire and platform. He got off the train and heard report-First: Whether the premises in them say they were going to Rich Hill, question have yielded to the defendant any rents and profits, and, if so, the amount thereof. Second: What has been the rental value of the premises party was Hanley and his friends. He from the time the defendant entered the premises at the land office of the U.S. to the date of the decree. John T. Raymond Greeted with Large Audience Last Evening.

The case of Sherman W. Knevals' against Charles H. Van Wyeck, which Summit was also begun yesterday.

Boyd's Opera House was comparatively filled last evening, the attraction being John T. Raymond in Lloyd's political satire, "For Congress." The play is full of taking things that are particularly comical in the hands of Mr. Raymond. As "General Josiah Limber," politician, he made almost as favorable impression as in his old time success, "Col. Sellers." Of the balance of the cast very little can be said in their favor. The "Pelham Perriwinkle" of Mr. Weaver was decidly wearisome, while the "Alfred Wooley" of Jere Lant was a wretched performance. Mr. Raymond has made the same mistake that a great many stars do, that of surrounding himself with a lot of indifferent people that he may shine the orighter. Although indifferently cast 'For Congress' made a very good impression if one can judge from the applause elicited. It must be admitted that the applause was all for Raymond himself. Cast better people, Mr. Ray-mond, and sustain your reputation.

A Fire Hand Grenade Exhibition, Two exhibitions of the Harden hand grenade's efficiency in extinguishing fire were given before a crowd, at Farnam and Ninth streets at 5 o'clock last evening. The first was in extinguishing a blaze in a wooden shaft sixteen feet long, drenched with oil. One grenade sufficed to put this fire out. The second test was made upon a bex ten feet long, five wide and ten high, dashed over with oil and tar and filled with kindling. Three grenades subdued the flames. ides consist of a glass globe filled with a chemical fluid which generate in the heat of a fire a gas which stops combustion. The exhibitions were highly satisfactory to the firemen and all who witnessed

W. W. Cole's circus and menagerie arrived in Omaha this morning. At ten o'clock this forenoon it will leave the showground and make a grand parade through the principal streets of the city. This parade will be something never before seen in Omaha, as the dens and cages will be open, so that people can see the animals and grand tableau cars free of charge. The doors for the afternoon performance will open at one o'clock; for the evening at seven o'clock.
