A CALIFORNIA CRAVAT. AN EX-MINISTER GIBBETED.

OARLAND, CALA., MAY 23 .- Lloyd L. was 46 years old and was born near the home of Garfield in Ohio, graduated at practice law but afterward joined the Methodist ministry. After preaching legislature to delegate its power to a several years he went to the Pacific coast, settled in Los Gatos, where he became owner of a hotel.

THE LOUBLE MURDER

for which he was executed was committed a year ago. He planned it, leaving the execution, however, to two tools, named Jewell and Showers. They were both tried and convicted, but before this all the facts in the case, and the agency of Majors, became known. The murder planned was that of W. P. Renowden, an old man living in a cabin near Los Gatos, and the purpose was robbery. When Majors' tools went there they found, not only Renowden, but a friend, named McIntyre, both of whom were killed. Majors went there the same night, and set fire to the cabin. He gave Jewell and Showers a bottle of whisky and five dollars for the deed. On last Monday collector of internal revenue, to show night the condemned man made a DESPERATE ATTEMPT AT ESCAPE. Possessed of immense strength he overpowered the two death watches and the jailor who happened at the moment to be in the cell. Wrenching the keys from the jailor's grasp, he dashed through the door across the jail yard to the street, but just as he thought he had succeeded he was encountered by two firemen who had been attracted by the noise. They recognized Majors, and another struggle ensued so terrible that Majors' arm was broken. Rendered helpless he was conducted back to his cell and from that mo ment he abandoned hope. He sought the consolation of religion. Up to the

PROFESSED HIS INNOCENCE with J. B Renowder, a brother of the murdered man, he said: "You may draw my life's blood from my arm and with this pen I will write my innocence of all connection of the crime in my own blood." As he spoke he appealed to heaven to witness the truth of his state-

At ten minutes before the hour fixed for his hanging he was led from the cell to the scaffold, and though still suffering from the effects of his late desperate effort to escape he walked the entire distance with firm and unflinching tread. About four hundred people had gathered in the jail yard; the roofs of surrounding building were covered with people to witness the execution. He mounted the scaffold without assistance and took Loss of the French Brig Senorineup his position on the drop firmly erect. It was expected he would make a parting speech, but he refused to say a word, maintaining throughout stolid silence. At twelve minutes past 12 o'clock the bolt was pulled, and Majors fell with A DULL THUD.

His neck was clearly broken. eight minutes he was pronounced dead. In sixteen minutes the body was cut down and placed in a coffin for delivery to relatives. Within the jail yard not sound was to be heard. An awful si-lence prevailed, only broken by the jeers of the crowd outside, when they learned that Majors ceased to live.
