How County Treasurers Turn An Honest Penny and Pound-"Rufus the Refunder" Still Hangs to His Preposterous Claim,

LINCOLN

CAPITAL CHAT. pecial Correspondence of THE BER.

LINCOLN, May 25 .- A veritable old truthful James met your correspondent in the postoffice here the other day and asked him if he was posted on the way be amended. For instance, it is a well settled fact that the county treasurer of Lancaster has at least $125,000 dollars of county money on deposit in the different banks of Lincoln from which he receives four per cent per annum. The county has up to a few days refused to pay warrants for want of funds, providing for the excommunication of (that is, there was plenty of money but not in the right fund ) These warrants were stamped so that the county was tion, but after a lengthy and heated decompelled to pay, and the treasurer is bate it was unanimously adopted. still drawing his interest. Then comes on another county official and buys these general assembly has adjourned, to meet some noble Justice of the Peace will em warrants at ten per cent. discount and at Cincinnati, the 3rd Tuesday in May, the very money deposited, it is said, be- 1865. cause he is a banker and has county funds to use and thus the dear good easy-going people are obliged to submit to ten per cent, discount on these warrants and on the way are paying interest on the funds

If my informant is right some power should intervene to get the public money mto the right funds. It ought to be done if it takes all summer. How many treasurers are very friendly to the banks, how many banks are very friendly the treasurer-deponeth to saith not, but one thing is certain the people have to pay the fiddler, and don't have a chance to dance even with the homeliest girl in the room.

"RUFUS THE REFUNDER," commonly known as General Webster, is getting it from all sides. Even our gentle mayor Moore is after him with a red-hot letter as to his preposterous claim. Yet the leading editorial on the paper that never had a word originally about this extraordinarily excessive fee, defends Webster on the same issue that the mayor's card castigates him. The people here are just raking up Webster's dictionary of deeds from Alpha to Omega. Enough statements are abroad about his wonderful greed for money to sink an ordinary individual. They say he walks nights and disturbs his homicides, in the sleep line. Strange noises comes from him at unseemingly hours and he declaims to the moon of having fabulous amounts to pay for which he drapery of his couch about him and lie
