H. Z. Hass and Miss Lizzie Brown are the champion lawn tennis players of the doubles, and R. S. Ryan of the singles, the above persons having won the ties that were played off.

A keg of beer fell off a wagon on Broadway yesterday and was allowed to remain day : on the street sometime, no one seeming to dare to claim it. Probably the fear of the prohibition law made the owner tremble. · Camanche Bill," whose real name W. R. Lloyd, was arrested yesterday for assaulting a colored woman. He has not been seen in these parts since he was arrested last winter on suspicion of being concerned in the safe-blowing and burglary at Macedonia.

The gong in the house of hose company No. 4 has not struck for a week. It is out of fix and nobody seems to know what ails it. Siill the fire department was never in better condition-so say the friends of the new chief.

Colman Smith, who served a sentence in jail here for assault upon his tormer wife, and who seems to have an almost uncontrolable temper, yesterday pitched onto one of his sons, and would have badly beaten him had not by-standers interfered and separated them.

The case of the confidence man, w was arrested on Saturday, will come before Judge Aylesworth Thursday more ing. In the meantime he lies in jail, and the two most important witnesses, Donnelly, the young man who was robbed of $200 and the man who helped catch the confidence man, are held in the custody of the officers at the city build-

Mrs. D. A. Benedict has concluded to go out of the ladies' furnishing goods and notions business, and will therefore sell goods in that line at cost. The stock is all new, too, so that bargains are offered surely. The closing out of this part of the business will enable Mrs. Benedict to give more time and attention to the manufacture and sale of nair goods, in which she has so many customers to supply.

The ladies' committee, with Mrs. F. S. Pusey as chairman, is making great preparations for next Friday. J. J. Steadman, of the Nonpareil, is to deliver the oration. The religious services will be conducted by Rav. A. K. Bates, assisted by Rev. Fatner McMenomy, Revs. Hamlin and Lemen. The vocal music will be given by a choir consisting of Miss Jennie Cook, Miss Addie Horton, Miss Mamie Woods, and Messrs. Treynor and Judd.

The man with the cork-leg, who worked Omaha, is still trying to work the field here, but has been given orders to leave town or he will be arrested. Dr. Lacy had his sympathies touched by the fellow's story so that he gave him an order on Ross' restaurant for a meal, but seeing the account given in The BEE, countermanded the order. The threat to pawn his cork-leg seems to be his ha, the fences being exactly alike in pattern most persuasive argument to obtain a combination of iron and wood,

A MAD CAT.

It Bites a Woman Savagely and Is Finally Shot by a Policeman.

Yesterday morning an old lady named Mrs. Larenburg, who lives at the corner of Tenth and avenue D, was attacked by a cat belonging to her and which she has not considered dangerous before. The cat was evidently mad but what it was mad about, or whether it was a case of hydrophobia or not is not so certain. The woman had her sleeves rolled up and was about her work when the cat pitched at her, and not only scratched her arms badly, but bit her in several places. The cat finally was driven off and took refuge in the cellar. Ed. Bates with his little gun put a bullet through its head.
