Sunday morning about 4 o'clock a burglar visited the house of Mr. Charles Needham. Mr. Needham heard him and armed himself with a revolver and waited his entrance. For some reason the fellow did not enter, but it is regretted that Mr. Needham did not give him a parting shot for luck.

CLAIMING THE REWARD.

Several Parties Desirous of Securing the $5,000 Gratuity for Tiller's Arrest.

The Company Still Hold the Money--Tiller to go to Trial Soon.

The following telegram was received last Sunday by a prominent newspaper correspondent in this city from J. B. McCullough, managing editor of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat: "St. Louis, May 24, 1883. Send terms of Milwaukee offering to compromise Tiller reward from E. M. Morseman, superintendent of Pacific Express company."

It appears from inquiry that an effort had been made by the Pacific Express company to make a settlement with the captors of Prentiss Tiller, the express robber, of the reward offered for his arrest and the recovery of the stolen money. This reward was $5,000, and on account of the number of persons interested in his arrest, and the various circumstances attending his capture, complications have arisen as to whom it should be paid. Some time before Tiller was arrested in Milwaukee, the detectives employed by the company had located McFadden, his accomplice, in Texas and recovered a part of the stolen funds. Jetter the clerk who sold Tiller the trunk, his employer Kepner and the policeman whom the latter called in to make the arrest, all claim this reward. Jetter thinks he is entitled to it for the reason he first discovered the robber; Kepner for the reason that Tiller was captured in his store and the police because they made the arrest.

President Morseman says the company are willing to pay a reasonable gratuity and he thinks the claim of Jetter the most substantial one. Tiller's suit was to be called up in the criminal court of St. Louis, yesterday but as Mr. Morseman thought the case would be continued until next term he did not go down.

Base Ball Briefs. Dates Arranged with Good Clubs for Games to be Played Soon.

Base ball prospects are looking up, Manager McKelvey having made arrangements and settled dates with several first class clubs. The games which had been arranged for under the old management were dropped when that club disbanded. When the new one was organized new dates had to be made. The outlook now bids fair for a splendid series of games. On next Friday afternoon it is expected the Hastings club, the strongest one in Nebraska excepting the Union Pacifics will play here with the home team. On the 6th, 7th and 8th of June the Alleghany club will be here and play three games with the U. P. Dates of 14th and 16th of next month have been arranged with the Evansville team of Evansville, Ind. This is the nine of which C. M. Lord is manager, and it is expected he will do all he can to vanquish his old rivals.

The St. Louis Browns are booked here for the 19th and 20th. On July 4th the Chicago Reserves will play two games, and one on the 5th. Manager McKelvey is corresponding constantly with the managers of many of the leading eastern clubs, and other dates will be arranged soon with other nine.

W. E. Rockwell and Manager McKelvey have secured the exclusive privilege of distributing the score cards for the coming season.

THE CONFERENCE ENDED. The Union Pacific officials return to Omaha from Chicago.

The delegation of Union Pacific officials consisting of Messrs. Clark, Kimball and Shelby returned last Sunday from Chicago where these gentlemen concluded negotiations by which the Transcontinental association will be continued. The conference resulted in simply continuing the old order of things, although it is thought that in the near future a money pool will be formed, the diversity of interests making it for the present impracticable.

The duties of the pool commissioners were made more certain, and other things of importance agreed upon, among which were the withdrawal of all freight agencies from all California points, and the resumption of the payment of commissions for the sale of tickets in San Francisco. The commissions agreed upon are $3 for first class, $2 for second class, and $1 for third class tickets. The authority of the pool commission was increased by extending its power with respect to investigating charges for violating the present traffic agreement and also in enforcing penalties.

The next meeting will be held in Denver in September, at which time it is thought the present traffic agreement will be changed into a money pool.

Bank Failure in Iowa. Bradstreet reported Saturday the assignment of the Crawford county bank of Denison, Iowa. A few days since the agency withdrew the bank's rating and sent a report to Denison to investigate its affairs. The following statement of its assets and liabilities was obtained:

It has been currently reported that all the Union Pacific shippers were to be discharged on Thursday, and that the shops would be shut down until next Monday, when a reduced scale could be put in force, and all wanting to go to work again at the reduced figures will be re-employed. An inquiry at Union Pacific headquarters yesterday failed to elicit any information regarding the matter except that no such order had been received there, and that they knew nothing whatever of any such plan. The rumor is probably without the slightest foundation.
