THE NORTHWEST.

Prosperity and Thrift Everywhere Visible in the Elkhorn Valley.

The Growth of O'Neill, Atkinson and Stuart—Disreputable Characters Valentine.

Correspondence of THE BEE.

VALENTINE, Neb., June 2.—The thrift and industry that is manifest, coming through the Elkhorn Valley is a pleasant surprise to any person who may have travelled through this portion of the country years ago.

Long Pine and Ainsworth will soon lock horns over the location of the county seat, as the recent decision of the Supreme court compels another election to decide the matter.

I visited Valentine with a prejudice against the current stories of rowdiness which are in circulation in regard to that place, but I am forced to believe that some of these stories are well founded.

In going through town I observed the corrupt editor of the "News," soliciting subscribers to start a mail route from Valentine to Porcupine Creek, where Mr. Santoe intends starting trader's store.

The Republican party of Cherry county feels ashamed of their would-be organ, the "Reporter," which issues a weekly tirade of abuse on the head of every respectable republican in the county.

Such characters are allowed inside of the post office, where they have every opportunity of indulging in their dishonest proclivities.

Mr. Hill for talking about matters, which ought to be secret and inviolable, certainly demands the attention of the post office department.

THE TOWN OF PHILLIPS. Correspondence of THE BEE. PHILLIPS, Hamilton Co., Neb., June 1st.—The B. & M. road has built an extension from Aurora to Grand Island and the iron reached Grand Island Saturday night.

How Fitz John Porter Lives. Fitz John Porter has lived most of the since the war in New Jersey, says one of his Washington friends.

St. Louis, June 4.—It is stated an application will soon be made for the appointment of a receiver for the Texas & Pacific railway.

A Stranger in a Strange City. BUFFALO, June 4.—A stranger, apparently from the west, was picked up on the streets, stricken with paralysis.
