

THE DAILY BEE.

Thursday Morning, June 12.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The Raymond excursion party passed through this city yesterday at 6:30 a. m. The train was composed of five sleeping cars, one day coach and one baggage car.

About one hundred and fifty of the older and younger members of the Presbyterian Sunday schools went to Bellevue yesterday for a picnic.

At the corner of Fifteenth and Harny streets is a pool of stagnant water. There is a low spot in the car track at that place and the gutter does not carry the water off.

The entertainment given at the A. M. E. church Tuesday by the Washington club was a highly successful one. The society cleared over $10 which has been added to the building fund.

Upon complaint of Chas. D. Stuphan Sam Hildard was arrested for selling to plaintiff a horse with glanders. Sam is a horse trader and is counted a slick one.

The musical union orchestra, consisting of thirty men, has ordered new uniforms throughout. They will be very elaborate, and will cost a trifle over $1,000.

Yesterday afternoon a horse which had been tied at or near the corner of Douglas and Sixteenth streets turned around and stood upon the sidewalk. A little girl, about seven years of age, was passing on her way home from school and as she passed behind the animal it kicked her, throwing her against the fence and injuring her quite severely.

A neat pamphlet just issued by the C. B. & Q. R. R. shows that the Burlington route has 5,000 miles of steel track and that it hauls every day in the year over its several lines 200 passenger and 500 freight trains.

There are a large number of the railroad boys in this city who are either contemplating or are about to enter the matrimonial state. The Bex, in the interest of domestic bliss and the girls particularly, feels bound to warn the prospective better halves of the countless dangers which surround the domestic pathway of railroaders.

For some time now Lynn has been upon a spree and has been very unwell. He has several times received a good drubbing for his ugliness, but all this seemed to have no effect upon him.

Yesterday afternoon he entered Sam Olson's saloon, corner of Ninth and Jackson streets, and began to talk in a very loud and offensive manner to a very young girl who was sitting at a table near him.

CONNELL'S OPINION.

That the Baldwin-Kaufmann Liquor Ordinance is Shaky.

At the meeting of the city council Tuesday evening, City Attorney Connell submitted his opinion as requested upon the present or Baldwin-Kaufmann liquor ordinance. He opines that the ordinance as it now exists fails to come up to the requirements of the law, and fails to conform to the views of the judges of the district court as expressed in the case of Blake vs. Omaha et al. The defective portion of the ordinance is the amendment which, while it requires the payment of the full sum of $1,000 before a license should issue, authorizes a deposit of $250 upon making application for license, and the payment of $250 on the first Tuesdays of July, October and January, whereupon license should issue.

Under this (the Baldwin-Kaufmann) amendment it is manifest that in all cases where the applicant avails himself of the privileges accorded and does not at once pay the full sum of $1,000 and that for nine months in the year (although complying with the provisions of the ordinance) he will be selling liquor without a license--in other words in violation of law. The receipts given him may be a sufficient protection against complaints being entered by the city authorities, but such receipts in the event of prosecution would be no protection whatever.

The city attorney suggests an amendment of the same nature as that which he originally prepared. As a matter of policy it may perhaps be to provide that the ordinance should not take effect until the next municipal year. This would give all dealers ample notice and a full opportunity to pay as a license tax either the amount the law requires or enter upon some other business.

In the meantime the liquor dealers, who provide the bulk of the city's revenue, would perhaps all be satisfied to work for the remaining nine months of the year under the ordinance now existing. If this plan should be adopted an amendment could at once be made which would authorize the city treasurer to pay over to the school board all license money which but for this ordinance would have been paid to the city.

Mr. Furry moved that the committee as judiciary be instructed to report such an amendment at the next meeting. Adopted.

A WOULD-BE SHOOTER.

John Linn Attempts to Shoot Jim Murphy.

Yesterday about one o'clock, John Linn attempted to furnish another sensational item for the newspapers, a job for the coroner, and another case for the grand jury.

THE WEDDING RING.

(Placed Upon the Finger of One of Omaha's Daughters Yesterday.)

Yesterday, at high noon, the marriage of Mr. Dana S. Lander, of Beaver Dam, Wis., and Miss Louisa Ijama, of this city, was solemnized at Trinity Cathedral in the presence of a large number of friends.

Fully an hour before the hour appointed for the ceremony the guests began to arrive and take their places in the pews. While awaiting the arrival of the bride party, the organist, Mr. G. F. Mayer, very appropriately played, "For I'm to be Married To-day."

At 12:30 the bridal party entered the vestibule of the church. The curtains were drawn and a buzz ran through the house. In a very few moments the organ pealed forth with the wedding march and the bride, leaning upon her father's arm, and preceded by the four ushers entered and walked up the center aisle to the altar. As they passed within the chancel rail, the groom and his best man, Mr. John T. Clarke advanced from the right. The groom took his place by the bride's side and Rev. John Williams stepped forward and performed the solemn and impressive ceremony of the Episcopal Church. The responses by the bride and groom were uttered in clear and unflinching tones. The bride was given away by her father, Mr. W. H. Ijama. The ceremony ended, the bride and groom, followed by the ushers and members of the family, moved down the aisle to the music of the wedding march. The party entered their carriages and were driven to the residence of the bride's parents, on Leavenworth street, where a wedding supper was spread and a reception given.

A GOLDEN WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Peironnet Celebrate their Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary.

The home of Mr. R. D. Peironnet, on Eleventh street, was filled last evening by his children, grand-children and friends who had been called together to share in the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the wedding of their host and hostess.

Friends and children had come from places far distant to celebrate this event which comes to but few. The neighbors were also present to share in the festivities of the occasion. The aged couple seemed for the evening to be young again and shared in the entertainments and conversations the same as their children and younger friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Peironnet, although they have lived in Omaha only four years, have become quite well known throughout the city, and are the parents of Tom Peironnet, the efficient deputy-sheriff. Fifty years ago yesterday, in Tioga county, New York, Mr. Peironnet "gave hostages to fortune." He is now 74 years of age, and his wife 72. Nine children have been born to them, two of whom live in this city.

Five of their children, and another in Laramie City. Seven grand-children also were present and a great-granddaughter who had come all the way from Austin, Texas, to see her grand parents and share in their joy. This aged couple have seventeen grandchildren and three great grand children. Besides these relatives, Mr. David Ingall and wife, Mr. James Fair and wife, Mr. George Fair, Mr. and Mrs. Ingall, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Taylor, of this city, and Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Prager, of Lincoln, were among those present.

The evening was passed by the guests in renewing old and forming new acquaintances. All shared the joys of this aged couple who seemed truly thankful for the pleasures and happiness of the past.

At eleven o'clock the guests partook of an elegant supper. Mr. and Mrs. Peironnet were made the recipients also of many beautiful and costly presents befitting the occasion.

WORTHINGTON DECLINES.

The South-West Presbyterian Church. The corner stone of the new church building, on the corner of Twentieth and Leavenworth streets, will be laid this afternoon at five o'clock. The South-west Presbyterian church is putting the building up at an estimated cost of six thousand dollars; complete and furnished. The contract calls for the completion of the church by September, and the contractors, Messrs. Vint and Bell, are quite confident that it will be finished by that time.

Rev. Wm. J. Harsha, Rev. Willard Scott and Rev. Mr. Bayney will attend the laying of the corner stone.
