

THE MILESIA MINE.

It is Evidently all Ready for Explosion Under Old England.

London Fast Putting on all Signs of a Reign of Terror.

The Parliament Building Searched Previous to Each Sitting.

The Ministers Guarded in the Streets as in St. Petersburg.

The Invincible Leaders in Secret Session in Paris.

England Still Protesting to America as to the Dynamiters.

Blaine Reported as Being Supported by O'Donovan-Rossa

Free-Mason Dynamiters Plotting Against the Pope.

A Revival of a Magnified Fenian Movement Reported from Paris.

The Irish Revolution.

Special Dispatch to THE BEE.

London, June 22.—The Irish revolution in London seems to be anxiously awaiting developments of an extraordinary character. The fact that the Fenians seem to be in a state of constant apprehension would indicate they have good reason to know that the "force party" are on the eve of attempting to carry out some well planned scheme of terrorism. The police are nervously active. All the MINISTERS ARE GUARDED going to and from parliament. Before each sitting the parliament buildings are searched from cellar to garret, and at its close everybody is put out of the enclosure, and the gates locked and guarded. Peter O'Donovan-Rossa, the Fenian leader, is being guarded by a detachment of British troops. He is reported to be in a state of constant apprehension, and is being guarded by a detachment of British troops. He is reported to be in a state of constant apprehension, and is being guarded by a detachment of British troops.

AMERICA AND THE DYNAMITERS. It appears, in spite of denials, that communications are still passing between the British and American governments respecting the dynamite plots originating from America. The Fenians are reported to be in a state of constant apprehension, and are being guarded by a detachment of British troops.

THE FENIAN AND DAVITT BROTHERS. Special Dispatch to THE BEE.

London, June 22.—The Fenian and Davitt brothers are rapidly widening into a serious breach. Several angry letters have passed between the two leaders, those of Davitt being bitterly denunciatory of the Fenian methods, while the letters of the latter have been curt and contemptuous.

THE STEPHENSON PLOT. Special Dispatch to THE BEE.

London, June 22.—The sensational Paris dispatch purporting to contain a revelation of the intentions of the Stephenson-Fenian leaders has intensified the Fenian dynamite scare. Among the well informed it is believed James Stephenson, the ex-convict leader of the American Fenians, will have been in London for some time, and the Fenians in another warfare against England. He himself recently announced this fact; he also admitted that he meant to call

A CONFERENCE AT PARIS of all Irishmen who favored his plans. This he described as open warfare of a military character. He argued that a movement of this kind was necessary because of the practically barren nature of the policy of agitation maintained by Fenian and his followers through the Irish National League, but Stephenson is thoroughly

HOSTILE TO THE SECRET METHOD of the Fenians, which he has invariably characterized as a "policy of murder." It is generally believed the story was concocted and published for the purpose of causing France to drive out the Fenians.

THE PRINCE OF ORANGE. HIS DEATH SATURDAY.

THE HAGUE, June 22.—The Prince of Orange passed a calm night and peaceful morning before his collapse. In the forenoon of Saturday he seemed so well, the doctors talked of sending him to the south of France. At 11 o'clock he suddenly exhibited symptoms of extreme weakness and faintness. His respiratory system became paralyzed, and he died at 12 o'clock. The prince was 68 years of age.

THE KING has returned from Carlsbad, and held a conference with the cabinet. The president of the council has convoked a general state conference. The cabinet has decided to report to the provisions of the law of November 3d and 4th, and will convene the chambers, forming the states general in a plenary congress of 78 senators instead of 50, and 172 deputies instead of 86. This congress will proclaim the PRINCESS WILHEMINE successor under the crown to the regency, with Queen Emma as regent, and also president of the council as co-regent. The cabinet has determined to refuse a share of tutelage with any German branch of the royal family.

BERLIN, June 22.—Bismarck, during the illness of Orange, raised the German representatives at various European courts to declare that any attempt to bring the question of the succession to the regency in Holland into a European question would find instant opposition from Germany. This declaration is taken to mean that Germany alone has the right to meddle in the affairs of Holland.

THE KING IS ILL. On his death the Duke Nassau, claiming to be the grand duke of Luxembourg.

FRENCH DIFFERENTIAL DUTIES. LONDON, June 22.—The commercial at-

A BATTLE OF BENCHES.

The Democratic Committee Warring Over the Convention Seats—Somebody Evidently Wants to Pack.

Special Dispatch to THE BEE.

CHICAGO, June 22.—The local finance committee having charge of the raising of funds to defray the expenses of the national democratic convention held a stormy session at the Palmer House yesterday afternoon. The very conspicuous unwillingness of the sub-committee of the national committee to number all the seats in the convention hall to correspond with the admission tickets to be issued has been fruit of discord and ill feeling. The committee demanded that the finance committee be awarded 700 more tickets for distribution among subscribers to the expense fund. Yesterday the finance committee announced that $25,000 had been raised to date, and that they must have more tickets to distribute to subscribers. They again met with a refusal. The finance committee thereupon promptly adopted a resolution instructing the executive committee not to pay over any money for the expense of improving Convention hall until their demands were complied with. A compromise of the sub-committee of the national committee agreed to number 700 seats as set aside for subscribers of the fund, but positively refused to number the remaining 300 seats. The finance committee replied that this offer in itself was evidence that unfair methods were contemplated in connection with the distribution of the convention seats, and in their estimation the plan would meet with general disfavor. The committee adjourned without making any appropriations and will not convene again except by order of the chairman.

A LIFE FOR A WIFE.

How Rhineland Slew the Estranger of His Wife's Affections.

NEW YORK, June 21.—William C. Rhineland, who on Thursday shot John Drake, a lawyer, was arraigned to-day. Drake was allowed to leave his bed. The detectives said Rhineland admitted his guilt. Rhineland, however, denied that he acknowledged anything, and said he was not going to convict himself in this affair. He had a reporter the evening that he married Miss Mary McGinnis in 1876, and had two children. Immediately after marriage Drake began to quarrel with Rhineland, and in his estimation the plan would meet with general disfavor. The committee adjourned without making any appropriations and will not convene again except by order of the chairman.

WOB IN WILLIAMSBURG.

A $100,000 Store Burns, the Walls Bury Three Firemen, and Eight Horses are Consumed.

NEW YORK, June 22.—There was a disastrous fire to-day in the large wholesale bakery establishment of A. D. Haseman in Williamsburg. The walls of the burning structure fell in places, and three firemen were killed and three were injured. The names of the firemen killed were Henry T. Allen, Stephen Allen, and Stephen Allen. The fire was caused by a gas stove in the kitchen. The building was entirely destroyed. Loss, $100,000. A stable in the rear of the bakery was also burned, with eight horses.

CANNON VS. COAL-OIL.

Lightning Fires Kerosene Tanks—Cannon Quenches It.

BRAIDFORD, Pa., June 21.—During a heavy thunder-storm this afternoon a tank of the National Transit company, containing 5,000 barrels of oil, was struck by lightning and exploded. The tank was in the middle of about a hundred tanks. Cannon balls are being fired into the burning tank to kill the oil escape. A tank located a short distance from the burning tank exploded before morning. None of the others are regarded in danger. Three wooden tanks, containing 1,000 barrels each, the property of the Tidewater company, located on Indian creek, were struck to day and are now burning. The fire does not endanger the adjoining property.

KEARNEY CORPSES.

Dr. Schultz Dies of Apoplexy—A Drowned Stranger.

Special Dispatch to THE BEE.

KEARNEY, NEB., June 22.—Dr. Schultz died suddenly about 6 o'clock this afternoon. A corner's inquest was held and a verdict of death from apoplexy given. His friends and relatives left at 10 o'clock. A man, name unknown, was drowned in the Platt River. He was walking along the edge of the bank when it caved in. The body has not been found.

A Legal Crook.

CINCINNATI, O., June 21.—The motion presented by the Hamilton county Bar Association, asking for leave to file information against T. G. Campbell, was granted. Campbell was granted by the court today. Campbell waived notice and his case was set for July 15. The committee refuse to make the information.

A Fire, a Fatal Fall, and a Fatality.

MONTREAL, June 22.—The shirt and collar factory of Shellen Bros. & Co. was destroyed by fire this morning. A falling wall killed a man and dangerously wounded another. Loss heavy.

A MISOIRI RIVER STEAMER SINKS.

ST. LOUIS, June 22.—The steamer Montana, which left here at 8 o'clock last evening with 500 tons of assorted freight for Kansas City and other Missouri river points, struck a Welsh railroad bridge at Charles about 11 o'clock this morning, and sank. It will probably be a total loss. The boat was owned by the Missouri River Navigation Co., of St. Louis, Mo. The cargo was valued at $22,000; insured for $15,000. Her freight loss and cargo loss were estimated at $10,000. A part of her cargo will be removed.

THE OIL WELL SHUT DOWN.

TRINITYVILLE, Pa., June 22.—From all parts of the oil region reports favorable to the proposed shut-down movements are being received, and, except with wells already under way, work is being suspended in Allegheny, Bradford, and McKean counties. The latter district all operators but one have joined the movement. So complete is the shut-down regarded to be that some drillers and tool-dressers are preparing to leave the region.

BOLD BASE BALL BATTIS.

COLUMBUS, June 22.—During a ball game to-day a posse of constables arrested several players of both clubs on warrants sworn out by members of the Law and Order league, for violation of the state law by playing on Sunday. The game was completed and the men gave bond for appearance to-morrow and Wednesday.

A Paper Pym in Porekopols.

CINCINNATI, June 22.—A fire in the paper warehouse of Chatfield & Woods, No. 25 West Fourth street, caused a loss of $400,000. Insurance $100,000.

CHAT OF THE CHIEFS.

Blaine's Formal Notification of His Nomination at Chicago.

Gen. Henderson's Address and the Plumed Knight's Reply.

The Imposing Affair Occurs Under Another Historic Elm.

General Logan Talks Saturday Night to the Veterans.

Butler's Game for a War Dance Around the Democratic Wagon.

A Thousand Republicans of New Haven, Ct., Call for an Anti-Blaine Meeting.

Notifying Blaine.

AUGUSTA, Maine, June 21.—Early this morning the streets began to assume a lively appearance and long before the time for the committee appointed by the national convention to notify G. B. Blaine of his nomination to the presidential candidacy of the republican party to perform that duty, a considerable crowd had collected around the Augusta house, to gaze with curiosity upon the members of the committee. The crowd also in town brought out vast numbers of people, who with the allied attraction of the national committee and the sawdust tug seemed disposed to make the day a general holiday.

Promptly at 11 o'clock the national committee on notification proceeded in a body to the residence of Mrs. Blaine. As the day was oppressively hot and the rooms of the mansion crowded almost to suffocation, it was suggested that the notification address be made upon the lawn. Accordingly the guests and committee proceeded to a well shaded portion of the grounds where a circle was formed and all present stood with uncovered heads making a most impressive scene. The rustling of the spreading branches of the great elms and the buzzing of insects were the only sounds to disturb the stillness. When all was in readiness Mr. Blaine was escorted to the lawn, where he stood within the arms of the semi-circle. Gen. Henderson, chairman of the committee, presented the address of the committee, reading from the manuscript.

GEN. HENDERSON spoke as follows: "Mr. Blaine, your nomination for the office of president of the United States, by the national republican convention recently assembled here, is already known to you. The gentlemen here present are constituting a committee composed of one member from each state and territory in the country to give you formal notice of that nomination and to request your acceptance thereof. It is of course known to you that besides your own, several other names among the most honored in the councils of the republican party were presented by their friends as candidates for the presidency. It is your duty to select one of these names, and to give your reasons therefor. It is your duty to select one of these names, and to give your reasons therefor. It is your duty to select one of these names, and to give your reasons therefor.

At an early stage of the proceedings of the convention, it was decided that the republican states should not be invited to take part in the proceedings of the convention. It was decided that the republican states should not be invited to take part in the proceedings of the convention. It was decided that the republican states should not be invited to take part in the proceedings of the convention.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

CHAT OF THE CHIEFS.

Blaine's Formal Notification of His Nomination at Chicago.

Gen. Henderson's Address and the Plumed Knight's Reply.

The Imposing Affair Occurs Under Another Historic Elm.

General Logan Talks Saturday Night to the Veterans.

Butler's Game for a War Dance Around the Democratic Wagon.

A Thousand Republicans of New Haven, Ct., Call for an Anti-Blaine Meeting.

Notifying Blaine.

AUGUSTA, Maine, June 21.—Early this morning the streets began to assume a lively appearance and long before the time for the committee appointed by the national convention to notify G. B. Blaine of his nomination to the presidential candidacy of the republican party to perform that duty, a considerable crowd had collected around the Augusta house, to gaze with curiosity upon the members of the committee. The crowd also in town brought out vast numbers of people, who with the allied attraction of the national committee and the sawdust tug seemed disposed to make the day a general holiday.

Promptly at 11 o'clock the national committee on notification proceeded in a body to the residence of Mrs. Blaine. As the day was oppressively hot and the rooms of the mansion crowded almost to suffocation, it was suggested that the notification address be made upon the lawn. Accordingly the guests and committee proceeded to a well shaded portion of the grounds where a circle was formed and all present stood with uncovered heads making a most impressive scene. The rustling of the spreading branches of the great elms and the buzzing of insects were the only sounds to disturb the stillness. When all was in readiness Mr. Blaine was escorted to the lawn, where he stood within the arms of the semi-circle. Gen. Henderson, chairman of the committee, presented the address of the committee, reading from the manuscript.

GEN. HENDERSON spoke as follows: "Mr. Blaine, your nomination for the office of president of the United States, by the national republican convention recently assembled here, is already known to you. The gentlemen here present are constituting a committee composed of one member from each state and territory in the country to give you formal notice of that nomination and to request your acceptance thereof. It is of course known to you that besides your own, several other names among the most honored in the councils of the republican party were presented by their friends as candidates for the presidency. It is your duty to select one of these names, and to give your reasons therefor. It is your duty to select one of these names, and to give your reasons therefor. It is your duty to select one of these names, and to give your reasons therefor.

At an early stage of the proceedings of the convention, it was decided that the republican states should not be invited to take part in the proceedings of the convention. It was decided that the republican states should not be invited to take part in the proceedings of the convention. It was decided that the republican states should not be invited to take part in the proceedings of the convention.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party. It is not thought nor pretended that this demand has its origin in any ambitious desire on the part of the republican party.

CHAT OF THE CHIEFS.

Blaine's Formal Notification of His Nomination at Chicago.

Gen. Henderson's Address and the Plumed Knight's Reply.

The Imposing Affair Occurs Under Another Historic Elm.

General Logan Talks Saturday Night to the Veterans.

Butler's Game for a War Dance Around the Democratic Wagon.

A Thousand Republicans of New Haven, Ct., Call for an Anti-Blaine Meeting.

Notifying Blaine.

AUGUSTA, Maine, June 21.—Early this morning the streets began to assume a lively appearance and long before the time for the committee appointed by the national convention to notify G. B. Blaine of his nomination to the presidential candidacy of the republican party to perform that duty, a considerable crowd had collected around the Augusta house, to gaze with curiosity upon the members of the committee. The crowd also in town brought out vast numbers of people, who with the allied attraction of the national committee and the sawdust tug seemed disposed to make the day a general holiday.

Promptly at 11 o'clock the national committee on notification proceeded in a body to the residence of Mrs. Blaine. As the day was oppressively hot and the rooms of the mansion crowded almost to suffocation, it was suggested that the notification address be made upon the lawn. Accordingly the guests and committee proceeded to a well shaded portion of the grounds where a circle was formed and all present stood with uncovered heads making a most impressive scene. The rustling of the spreading branches of the great elms and the buzzing of insects were the only sounds to disturb the stillness. When all was in readiness Mr. Blaine was escorted to the lawn, where he stood within the arms of the semi-circle. Gen. Henderson, chairman of the committee, presented the address of the committee, reading from the manuscript.

GEN. HENDERSON spoke as follows: "Mr. Blaine, your nomination for the office of president of the United States, by the national republican convention recently assembled here, is already known to you. The gentlemen here present are constituting a committee composed of one member from each state and territory in the country to give you formal notice of that nomination and to request your acceptance thereof. It is of course known to you that besides your own, several other names among the most honored in the councils of the republican party were presented by their friends as candidates for the presidency. It is your duty to select one of these names, and to give your reasons therefor. It is your duty to select one of these names, and to give your reasons therefor. It is your duty to select one of these names, and to give your reasons therefor.

At an early stage of the proceedings of the convention, it was decided that the republican states should not be invited to take part in the proceedings of the convention. It was decided that the republican states should not be invited to take part in the proceedings of the convention. It was decided that the republican states should not be invited to take part in the proceedings of the convention.

</