THE BEE man tried to interview L. C. Brackett yesterday but found him so everlastingly busy waiting on customers, arranging his stock of fireworks, printing sidewalk signs and getting up advertising attractions, such as Brackett's head can alone devise, that THE BEE man had to give it up. So if Brackett had any news THE BEE didn't get it. He is about the busiest man in the city, especially with the Fourth of July shead of him.

Further Fan Promised for To-day

There was a larger attendance at the driving park yesterday than on the opentimer. E. J. Abbott served as marshal.

The first event of the day was the 2:43 race, in which there were ten enrees, S. L. Caton, of Cleveland, drew Ruric Neville. Opal, entered by P. V. Johnson, of Chicago, also failed to start. Van and Theodore were also drawn.

Mr. Hancock started in by reading the riot act to the drivers and giving them fair warning that there must be straight work or penalties. He made himself solid with the grand stand, the crowd crowd cheering him.

The starters as placed were Emery's Alexander, St. Nicholas, Light Bird, The police force have equipped them-Dutch Girl, Frank Grey, and Budd and the others all strung out in line to the half, when they began to huddle and crowd for front places, but still Velox kept the lead and won the heat in the same time as before—2:24½, Executor second, Frank Landers third, Happy fourth, Golden fifth, Alleghany Boy sixth and Westmont seventh.

The third heatcalled out the first flush of real excitement of the afternoon's sport, Landers did some square fine work, though Velox same under the wire a neck ahead, but Velox had done some bad shead, but Velox had done some bad breaking, and gained by several spurts of running in making his way along the back-stretch. The friends of Velox shouted for their favorite, and those who had seen the square work done by Lan-ders shouted for him. The judges gave the heat and race to Velox, the decision calling out hisses from the crowd. Landers second. Westmont third, Golden Girl fourth, Happy fifth, Executor sixth, Alleghany Boy seventh. Time, 2:261. In this heat Westmont did some very square, steady trotting, and redeemed his showing the two previous heats.

Street Pageant!

As the re-echoing cannon proclaims the approach of ensanguined, mighty War, so does this Grand Street Pageant (which, like the cannon, powerful in itself, is still but the instrument of war) proclaim the coming of this VAST, GIGENTIC IENTERPRSE, whose moving masses jars the trembling earth; whose mighty canvass, greater than the tent of Mars, unfold only under the outspread shade of white-winged Peace, and brings joy, pleasure and amusement from the fair plains of Wonderland, and curlosities of Nature and of Art never before equaled by any Shew or number of Shews in America.

Beneath Our Grand Arenic Tent we Introduce 150 Star Performers.

STARS OF FIRST MAGNITUDE ALL! First in order and inistellular merit we name the celebrated Artist,

MADAME DOCKRILL, The laurel-crowned "Empress of Equestriana." She proudly wears the
