COUNCIL BLUFFS.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES. By Carrier - - - - - 20 cents per week By Mail - - - - - $10.00 per year

OFFICE: No. 7 Pearl Street, Near Broadway.

MINOR MENTION.

See J. Reiter's spring goods. The city council is to meet this evening.

See Brackett, 224 and 226 Broadway, for fire works. Officers O'Brien and Metcalf were put on dog duty yesterday.

Lieutenant Governor Manning flies the eagle for the Villisca people on the Fourth. There were thirteen in the calaboose yesterday, mostly drunks and disorderlies.

The prohibitionists are to meet again to-night to take action about enforcing the new law.

D. Jerman, the poll tax collector, had his pocket picked of $10 at the driving park yesterday.

Work on the Broadway sewer will commence this week at the Methodist church and running west.

Most of the fast horses have gone to Des Moines. Of those here five will appear again at the Omaha races.

Leon & Cushman's comedy combination will appear at the opera house July 5th, in matinee and evening performances.

A waterworks main is being laid on North Main street as requested by property owners and ordered by the council some time ago.

What was the matter with the angel fountain? It was dry yesterday. Perhaps to give the saloons which were open a better chance.

Two Hastings boys have been fined $10 each for being a little previous about the Fourth, and firing crackers on the streets. The case has been appealed.

Cornell college, at Mt. Vernon, Iowa, has chosen Lieutenant Governor Manning as one of its trustees. He was a former student in that institution.

Work has begun on the clearing up of the park in Galesburg addition, and it promises to be one of the prettiest parks in connection with one of the nicest drives in the city.

Mr. Bowen complains that yesterday he called at the city jail to see an acquaintance, and on leaving someone turned a shower of water on him. If this is the way citizens are to be treated here, it is time for another change.

"Big Boston," the man hurt by the falling of the building at the driving park, in last Wednesday's storm, proves to be more seriously injured than was at first thought. Besides the arm there were several ribs broken, and he will be compelled to lay off for some time.

The Presbyterians have decided to build a new church at a cost of about $25,000, and having a seating capacity of about 800. It will be located on the site of the old church, which will be torn down probably within two weeks, so as to make room for the new one.

There is a good deal of grumbling heard because Charles E. was shut out in the third heat of the pacing race Saturday. Some who were watching closely declare he was a length out of the way of the flag, and that the decision that he was distanced was a great injustice to him.

Mollie H., a very speedy mare, which was injured in the fall of the hall at the driving park, died yesterday. She was owned by Ed. Harvey, who is in the employ of Z. T. Lindsey & Co., and was valued at $800, he having refused lately an offer of $600 for her. She had no record, but has shown speed better than 2:40.

Just as we go to press a sad accident has occurred at the house of C. W. Bryant. A little child of Mr. and Mrs. Watson is badly scalded on the face, neck and shoulder. Mr. W., is a brother-in-law of Mr. Bryant's and is traveling salesman for Peregrine & Moore, of Council Bluffs. It is impossible to say how serious the accident is at this writing. Mr. Watson has been telegraphed to at Harlan--Oakland Acon.

A man named Sam Falley attempted suicide at the Rock Island house, at an early hour yesterday morning. He was evidently insane, and fancied that the C. B. & Q., official, with a gang of men were after him, because he was about to work in the interest of another road. He seized an old knife, and with this made several gashes in his wrist, before he could be prevented. The blood flowed freely but the injuries were not of a very serious nature, and he was placed in jail for safe keeping.

The Sioux City route will run, on and after tomorrow, a special Pullman car from Council Bluffs to Spirit Lake, leaving Council Bluffs on the St. Paul express, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings at 7:40, and arriving without change at Hotel Orleans at Spirit Lake beach, the next morning for breakfast. Returning, the special car will leave Spirit Lake Wednesday and Friday evenings, and arrive here the next evening at 9 o'clock. The round trip tickets are only $9.90, and a better chance was never presented the sweltering and tired ones to get rest and recreation.

CUNNING CUPID.

A Youthful Pair of Lovers Outwit the Old Folks.

Though Stopped by the Police, They Succeeded in Marrying.

Saturday evening the police received a telegraphic notice to stop a young couple who had eloped from near Clarinda. The lovers were soon found, and were detained in the police headquarters under the watch of the officers pending the arrival of the girl's father, who telegraphed that he would come immediately. The young man's name was Charles Chaffin, and he was only nineteen years old, while the girl, named Mattie Whitney, was only sixteen. Their parents live on farms about a mile from each other, and about seven miles from Clarinda. The young folks have been engaged since last fall, but the old folks had stormed a good deal about the love affair, especially the girl's father, and so the two had been keeping their plans on the quiet. Last Friday night there was an entertainment, at which they with other of the young folks were present. The boy in order to throw their folks off their guard, went home with another girl, taking special pains to let the old folks observe the fact. About midnight, however, he slipped around with his horse and buggy to the girl's house, and she, stealing out, they drove together to Red Oak, where they took the train, intending to go to Omaha and marry there. On reaching here they stopped for supper, and before they could cross the river were taken in charge by the police, who had received a telegram giving this instruction.

Saturday night they remained sitting up all night at police headquarters, Jim Brooks, the ex-policeman, being put a special to watch them. Yesterday morning they were allowed to go across the street to a restaurant to get their breakfast, no officer accompanying them. They returned all right to police headquarters and remained there until noon when they were allowed to go out in a similar manner to get their dinner. Cupid had sharpened their wits as well as warmed their hearts, and by some messenger they had secured a marriage license, so that while they were getting their dinner they sent for Justice Schurz and were speedily married, the ceremony being short, sweet but strong. They then returned to police headquarters and seated themselves cozily by the window, and chatted lovingly, while they watched through the iron bars for the irate father to come storming up the street. The young couple took the matter very quietly, and seemed rather to enjoy the way they had outwitted the old folks, rather than feel any fear for the result. The young man said he intended to take his bride home at once if her father did not come right off.

The youthful bridegroom is a trim, bright-eyed intelligent farmer's boy, while the girl is a buxom, rosy-cheeked black-eyed damsel, who seems abundantly able to care for herself. The young couple have the sympathy of the attaches of the jail, and the amount of quiet chuckling going on among them indicated that the officials were not over-anxious to thwart any of love's plans, even at the risk of exciting the displeasure of the old folks. It seemed doubtful whether the officers would have interfered with the marriage of the couple, even if they had suspected their plan, and rather winked at their noon-day wedding.

The girl's father who is quite a wealthy farmer, arrived on the afternoon train yesterday. He was very indignant on finding that the young folks were married, and on being advised to buy tickets and take the young folks back, but he was too mad to take any such advice. He was very anxious to find out how they got their license, and threatened to investigate and punish whoever certified that they were of age. He left the young folks to their fate and took the evening train back for home again.

The young man is a relative of Mr. Scott, who has a boarding house on North Main street, and the newly-wedded ones repaired to their father after the old man's angry departure, and will probably start back together for home to-day.

THE BOY BICYCLIST.

He Tarries Here for a Few Days Before Proceeding to San Francisco.

Frank J. Ashton, the young bicyclist who arrived here a day or two ago from Rockford, will remain here until after the Fourth, visiting his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Whitman. He intends, on next Saturday, to resume his journey on his bicycle across the continent for last time and reach the Pacific coast by the first of August. Ashton has had thirteen races and lost but two of them.

If a purse is made up and any competitors can be found, Ashton will indulge in a race here on the Fourth. He is paying his expenses by exhibitions, and one of the incentives for making the trip is a $100 medal offered by the company which manufactured the bicycle he is riding. The greatest distance he has ever made in one day on the bicycle is eighty miles, and one day he walked thirty-five miles, rolling his bicycle alongside. His father has a carpet house in Rockford, Ill., and has rather objected to his making the trip, but the boy was so anxious to go that he finally consented. Ashton, on starting out, weighed 136 pounds, and has gained four pounds on the road.

Death of Chris. Chris. Schwenger, For several days this announcement has been expected, as Mr. Schwenger has been clinging to life by only a thread, and at 11 o'clock Saturday night that thread was broken. He was about 37 years of age, and leaves a wife and four children. He had relatives in Germany, of which country he was a native, but the only other relative here is a cousin, a lady living at Mauch Chunk, Pa. He had been ill but about ten days, typhoid fever being the cause. He had lived here about fifteen years, and had a large circle of friends and acquaintances, by whom he was highly esteemed. Mrs. Henry Grotz, of Maple River Junction, Iowa, whose husband is a brother of Mrs. Schwenger was here until a few hours before his death, when she took the train for home, called thither by the news of the illness of her own husband. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mr. Schwenger was a member of Humboldt lodge No. 176, I. O. O. F., under whose auspices he will be buried.
