MINOR MENTION.

See J. Reiter's spring goods.
 See Brackett, 224 and 226 Broadway, for fire works.
 The Y. M. C. A., had a pleasant musical entertainment last evening.
 Work has begun on the building of an addition to Eisman & Co.'s store.
 Wm. Bolin yesterday pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace and was fined.
 Dr. Ellis, of Weston, is in the city and reports the storm as having cut the corn badly.
 A farmer in the city yesterday reports bugs as quite bothersome, and that there is a lively demand for Paris green.
 Mrs. Amy has been complained of for putting up a wooden building inside the fire limits. The case will be inquired into to-day.
 Deputy Sheriff Clatterback last night took to the Mt. Pleasant asylum, Carl Carlson, the Swede who was found on the streets here, a stranger and insane.
 A chair car will be put on the Sioux City route to Spirit Lake without change, the start to be made Thursday night. The fare will be only $0.90 for the round trip.
 The Kansas City & St. Jo road is threatened with a washout about forty miles down the road, and arrangements are being made to set the track further back from the river.
 The new bids for the building improvements at the institution for the deaf and dumb were opened by the trustees yesterday, but no award made, the figures being held under advisement.
 Wm. Anderson, "humpy," who has been away from here, was so glad to get back from Crawford county, that he celebrated it in the old way. It cost him $7.00, and he promised to leave town at once.
 Two women quarrelling over a high chair, have had their cases before almost every tribunal in the city, it being dismissed every time, and now it pops up before Judge Aylsworth. That chair will cost the county about $50.
 It is said that novel arrangements are made to inaugurate the prohibitory law at Minden. A large number of kegs of beer are to be placed in the main street at midnight, with a faucet in each, and all thrown open to the public free.
 John Johnson was brought before Justice Vaughan yesterday on charge of beating Joseph Kirk out of a board bill. Johnson's attorney filed a demurrer which was sustained, and Kirk afterward tried to get satisfaction in another way by slapping Johnson's face. Kirk was then arrested and fined.
 Yesterday a young man named Kelloy was arrested for stealing a pair of gloves and a ring from a second hand dealer near the Northwestern depot. Instead of being sent across the state he got off by fifteen days' imprisonment in jail, the promise being made that at the end of that time he would skip the city.
 There was some sort of a neighborhood row on the bottoms between the Fitzpatrick and the McLaughlins, and about fifteen warrants issued for the arrest of all in the households from the babies up. Each family wanted the other put through, and finally all were discharged by Justice Vaughan on the promise to quit quarrelling.
 It is said that Fairview cemetery, although the sacred city of the dead, has been the scene lately of a number of very indecent acts. Not content with stealing flowers from the graves, the vicious have been indulging in lewd conduct there, one informant stating that at one time there were five couples in the grounds acting very unseemly. It is proposed to now arrest any and all such parties on sight.
 The brother of E. P. Geiger was here to-day, and seemed very unlike the father-in-law, who would not stay even to the poor fellow's funeral. The brother seemed quite grateful for what the G. A. R. boys had done for the unfortunate, and said that in the fall he shall remove the body east, he being a poor man and it being necessary first to sell his crop to secure the needed money.
 The paving on Main street is now completed to below the C. B. & Q. depot. The work of paving on Broadway will commence at Madison street and proceed west, just as fast as the sewerage can be got out of the way. The old street railway track will be used in extending the track up Broadway to near the old Babbitt place. The new flat rail will be laid as far as Broadway Methodist church.
 S. Hansen, of Norwalk township, was in the city yesterday and reported to Tax Ben the storm of Monday afternoon was a terror in that vicinity. There was a high wind and the air was black with dust. It rained for about ten minutes then it hailed for a half hour, breaking glass out of windows, and cutting foliage badly for a strip of about a mile in width. The storm traveled from the north, going south and struck there between 5:30 o'clock and 7 o'clock. The storm caused much damage to hay and corn.

SABIN'S SAY-SO.

The School Superintendent of Clinton Gives an interesting Lecture on "The Old and New."

Other Doings of the Educational Association.

The meeting of the southwestern Iowa educational association continued yesterday, and was quite well attended. The principal feature of the morning session was the lecture delivered by Professor Sabin, the superintendent of the schools at Clinton, Iowa. This lecture was to have been given the previous evening, but on account of the severe storm it was postponed. The lecture received an attentive consideration, and the theme was a very interesting one, it being a comparison of the old education with the new. The speaker in his introduction, presented an extended array of facts and figures showing the wonderful growth of this country, and its future possibilities. From these figures he drew some very complimentary comparisons for Iowa. He touched upon the great influx of foreigners coming here with the ideas and customs of the old world, and he dwelt upon the difficulties of the problem of how these varied measures could be moulded, and the necessity for its solution. The free school system was one of the most essential methods to be used. In comparing the old and the new Mr. Sabin presented such views as would be expected from an old and very conservative teacher. He gave a passing, but at the present moment to lessen the importance of the study of Greek and Latin, and saw danger in what he termed to be an aristocracy growing up composed of the higher educational institutions, as opposed to the free schools. He saw in the present, as compared with the past, a demand for a practical money-making education, whereas the old-time education justly valued learning for learning's sake. He believed that Iowa should have some wise compulsory educational law, as there are too many children idling away their days. To him it seemed that Iowa needed more reform schools, rather than more normal schools. There should also be laws by which every district should be compelled to provide not only school accommodation, but such houses as would conform with sanitary laws, and that these should be subject to official inspection.

Under the old education a distinction was made between work and play, but under the new this distinction was being done away. The present system was too exclusively intellectual. He saw in industrial education a possible way out of this difficulty. He touched upon also the present urging of "natural" methods of teaching and of study. He gave some excellent suggestions as to reading, and the importance of teaching children not only what to read but how to read. There should also be instruction given in all the schools as to the effects of alcohol and of narcotics, and teachers should be examined in the matters, and the consideration of these made a part of the convention and institute work. The schools were one of the means to strengthen up the morals of the rising generation.

Among the other papers given was one on "Educational Literature," by Supt. S. E. Wilson, of Page county, and one on "Recess, or No Recess," by Mrs. C. B. Stuyt, of Afton.

The afternoon's programme consisted of a paper by L. B. Avery, of Omasa, on "The High School," by W. M. Moore, of Mills county, on "School Room Economy," and by Professor McNaughton, of this city, on "Incidental Instruction."

Today's programme consisted of: Paper—"Didactic Marking in the Sentence and Word Methods in Primary Instruction," by Mrs. J. F. Ware, Council Bluffs.
 Paper—"Natural Science in the Public Schools," Professor J. E. Tobb, Tabor College.
 Paper—"What Inducements are offered to Man of Ability Permanently to Enter the Profession of Teaching?" President F. L. Parks, Indianola, Iowa.

ON HIS MUSCLE.

A Young Man's Experience at the Y. M. C. A. Rooms.

To the Editor of THE BEE.

My early life was spent on a farm where I had plenty of fresh air and was engaged in out door work. There I enjoyed the best of health, hardly knew what sickness meant. My shoulders were square and chest full, my face was sunburnt and muscles hard. Three years ago I bade adieu to the old farm and went to the city. Since that time my work has been almost entirely indoors. Bending over writing desks for hours at a time until I felt that I was growing weak, had not my old-time health and vigor. I found that over-work, without proper exercise, was sapping my constitution, and I began to long once more for the green hills of the old farm. The other day a friend of mine said to me, "Young man, you need a course of practical gymnastic exercise," and suggested that I go up and look at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium.

I listened to the advice and at once took advantage of it. I was kindly welcomed by the young man who had charge of the institution. He showed me through the whole suite of rooms. The reading room I found bright and cheerful and was well supplied with reading matter. From this I was conducted through two neat little rooms which I was told were to be used for committees and evening classes, when we came into an elegantly furnished parlor. Into this parlor for young men come in the evening, and entertain each other in social conversation and playing harmless games. I was very much pleased with the rooms and then I thought of the hundreds of young men living in our city like myself, in boarding houses who might avail themselves of the privileges here offered, where they can find neat rooms, reading matter and kind friends to greet them. Every young man in our city should visit these rooms and learn for himself of the advantages there. I had heard of this association through the papers but hadn't much of an idea of the work that was being quietly done there until I had visited and seen for myself.

From the social rooms I was next conducted into the physical department and here I soon found the apparatus for the development of the body of which I was so much in need. "Try all the fixtures said the young man and see what you think of them. I mounted the horizontal bar where I spend some time in turning, swinging, &c. Then I tested the parallel bars, next I battled with the striking bag, swung the Indian club and used the dumb bells ranging in weight all the way from three to fifty pounds. Tried the elegant chest machine and walked with my hands back and forth on the triangular ladder. I looked at the boxing gloves longingly and the young man asked me if I'd like to put them on. I told him I would next time I came. As we were passing out I saw a fine pair of fencing foils and my mind was made up to join that gymnasium and the association, and how much I wish all the sunken chest, round-shouldered young men of Council Bluffs would do the same. The rooms are located at No. 12 North Main street where young men will always be welcomed.
