Somebody's Masher.

Out by the side of the busy street. Where the mud and the water lay. Mixed by the passing horses' feet. Somebody's masher stood one day.

Pointed with wax in his mustache light. And almost as sharp as each toothpick shoe. His legs are in candle-mould trimmers tight.

For tripping along the busy street. Comes a charming maiden in her teens; She catches the eye of the masher sweet.

Spattered with mud are his garments bright. For her father beside the maiden walks; And he struck at the duilet with all his might.

Do Manie, Birle, Sadie, write this year? And Mattie, Lizzie, Annie! Language lame! In telling just how each of these appear.

Of Lullie, Susie, Fannie I would read; Of Nellie, Lillie, Minnie and the games They play at composition; each we need.

Yes, give me quick the daily paper, boy! Just hand it over to me, I'll give you a high position.

SOUTH OMAHA.

IT IS THE NAME OF THE TOWN WHERE FINE Healthy Homes. FOR ALL ARE FOUND!

BEAUTIFUL SCENERY.

Where They Can Enjoy Pure Air & Water! All and of the good and pleasant things that go to make up a complete and happy existence.

The town of South Omaha is situated south of the city of Omaha on the line of the U. P. Railway, and it is less than 2 1/2 miles from the Omaha post office to the north line of the town site.

South Omaha is nearly 1 1/2 miles north and south by 2 1/2 east and west, and covers an area of nearly four square miles.

The stock yards are at the extreme southern limit. Nearly 150 lots have been sold and the demand is on the increase. The yards are being rapidly pushed to completion.

The $30,000 Water Works are keeping pace with the other improvements, and the Hotel and Exchange Building will be erected at once.

The B. & M. and Belt Line Railways have a large force of men at work and will, in connection with the U. P. Railway, have a union depot near the park at the north end of the town.

Now is the time to buy lots in this growing city. They will never be cheaper than they are to-day.
