OPENING OVERTURE.

A CHORUS OF DISCORDANT NOTES. CONVENTION HALL, CHICAGO, July 8.--The day opens auspiciously for all the purposes of a great convention, held in the heart of July, save that there is a mist in the air which may grow into rain.

AN APPROACH TO CHAOS.

laborers still being engaged in giving the finishing touches. After having been employed during all of the preceding night they did not desert the main platform where the decorations were being hung.

THE GREAT VISTA.

If the old hall has been lost by the placing of the main stage at one side, midway, instead of at the extreme end of the hall, but the arrangement brings the entire audience very much closer to the speaker and the scenes were clear.

THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

he said, was as much a party organized for aggressive war as when a victory berthed upon its banners. The democratic party now are the house of representatives, and would have the senate but for treason in the senate chamber.

THE KILBY REVOLT.

The breach in the ranks of the New York delegation, as indicated in these dispatches last night, is being used as a very effective weapon by the opponents of Mr. Cleveland, and there is everything to indicate that the southern delegates will turn toward Bayard or McDonald, and to this end those who have been started at size and character of the Cleveland movement are now working.

A CONSERVATIVE PLATFORM.

It contains, however, extremists of both sides and a number whose position has not been clearly defined. In any section of the committee there will be a majority and a minority report and it is now believed that the subject may have to be fought out on the floor of the convention.
